DEPUTIES IN FIST FIGHT

French Chamber in Uproar

Premier Gets Confidence Vote After Attacking Catholic Manifesto

Jeers, Hisses and Boos Greet Herriot Speech in Assembly

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, March 20.—The Chamber of Deputies this evening gave Premier Herriot and his Cabinet a vote of confidence on the government's policy with regard to religious questions.

The vote was taken after the Premier had made a stubborn defense of his policy. During it he attacked the recent manifesto of the French cardinals and archbishops, which protested against the government's efforts to make the nondenominational laws effective in Alsace, and compared the "Christianity of bankers" with the "Christianity of the catacombs."

The address of the Premier opened the flood gates of temper of his opponents, which culminated in one of the worst disturbances the Chamber ever has seen. Old and new orders in France came into dramatic conflict on the floor, first when the Catholics and the anti-Clericals indulged in a free-for-all pummeling match, and second, when a censured Deputy, Marquis De La Ferronaye, refused to leave the Chamber when he was ordered to do so.

The Marquis had characterized M. Herriot's reference to "Christianity of bankers" as a "coarse and unwarranted insult."

DEPUTY EXCLUDED

The Premier's denial of any intent to persecute Catholics was received with jeers by the opposition, which booed, hissed and otherwise interrupted him. The Marquis De La Ferronaye's repeated cries of "retract! retract!" finally brought upon the belligerent Deputy the most severe penalty that can be imposed—censure and temporary exclusion.

The penalty had not been imposed before in fifteen years. It bars the Marquis for the next fifteen sittings, imposes a fine of a month's pay and subjects him to arrest and three days' imprisonment in the Chamber Building if he re-enters it during the proscribed period.

The Premier's speech was interrupted at the outset by Abbe Lemire's admission that the manifesto of the cardinals had "troubled many consciences in profoundly Catholic communities." To this M. Herriot replied:

"We deeply respect all religious convictions. We will not allow any injury to their liberty, which we have to safeguard."

M. Herriot then launched upon an attack against the teachings of

FLEET TO BE SILENCED

Radio Barred in Maneuvers

Navy Will "Disappear" in Pacific in Drive to Capture Hawaii

Precautions Will be Taken to Prevent Being Found by the "Enemy"

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, March 20.—A blanket of radio silence will envelop the United States Fleet soon after it leaves San Francisco, April 15, to attempt the "capture" of Hawaii, pivot of the Pacific defenses held by combined army and naval forces.

Naval officers here believe the first order given aboard the mighty armada of fighting craft after it clears the Golden Gate will be to shut down radio transmission and dowse running lights at night.

With modern radio direction finders, the location of ships sending out signals can be spotted with reasonable accuracy at long distances. Even casual low-power exchanges between ships of the fleet might be picked up far away and give the defending forces a clew to the point at which a landing on the islands would be attempted.

The Hawaiin maneuvers will be the largest and most comprehensive joint test of defensive possibilities yet undertaken by Army and Navy, and it is to be expected, officers said today, that the commanders will overlook no precaution.

NO RADIO SIGNALS

Two years ago when the first of the big maneuver problems was launched to test the theories then held as to the defensibility of the Panama Canal, the attacking fleet ran for hundreds of miles without a single radio signal. It was commanded by Admiral Eberle, now chief of naval operations, and cruised southward toward the base he had selected for the seizure over a zig-zag course intended to confuse the "enemy."

If ships were observed in the daylight hours the fleet steamed on a line 50 or 60 deg. off its true course, only to swing back at a given hour after dark without an exchange of signals of any kind, nor were any lights exposed. As a ruse to divert watchful enemy scouts, a single submarine was sent far ahead in a direction that would give a misleading impression of the fiet's objective. The submarine kept up a continual bombardment of the fleet's messages and code communications simulating constant radio contact with the fleet. The fleet itself, however, maintained absolute silence.

NEVER SPOTTED

Admiral Eberle carried his huge battle force through to the base he had selected without ever being spotted by defending craft and that result set in motion a revision of naval and military ideas as to what sort of a problem the defense of the canal really was.

A simulated assault on the Hawaiian pivot is also designed to reveal any misconceptiion of the defense problem involved and it is assumed here that the attacking fleet will disappear utterly into the Pacific, not to be heard from again until it has either constructively seized a landing base in the islands or been detected and foiled by the defenders.

AIRCRAFT CARRIER TO BE LAUNCHED APRIL 7

Launching of the monster aircraft carrier Saratoga at Camden, N. J., April 7, will mark the initiation of a Navy Department program to equip the fleet ultimately with a swift air wing composed of more than 150 bombing planes and their proper complement of combat, observation, torpedo and other auxiliaries.

The air flotilla, designed to operate as an offensive arm of the fleet, will be composed of five carriers, Secretary Wilbur disclosed today. The Saratoga and her sister ship, the Lexington, will be the first pair, and the remainder of the allowed treaty tonnage of 135,000 tons in carriers will go into three 23,000 tonners yet to be authorized.

Roughly estimated the full plane complement of the five ships would be close to 300. The aircraft will be exclusive of those to be carried on battleships and other surface or subsurface fighting craft, or of whatever air force might be assigned to ships of less than 10,000 tons on which the treaty places no limit as to number.

Mr. Wilbur is not in agreement with some of his naval advisers as to when the building of the new airplane carriers should be undertaken. The general board recommended authorization of one 23,000 tonner at the last session of Congress, but no action was taken.

GIANT BOMBER IS WRECKED

Navy Crew Bails Hydroplane Afloat While Covering Twenty Miles to Shore at Point San Juan

Frantically bailing water from the pontoons of their hydroplane, which sprang big leaks when the giant bombing plane 2-S-3 was forced to descend twenty miles at sea, three naval officers and seven enlisted men saved their lives last night, when they managed to keep their craft afloat until they could taxi it to a landing on the rocks at Point San Juan. The plane was wrecked.

Beside Lieut. Halland, in command of the craft, the following were aboard the wrecked plane:

A guard of several men remained with the wrecked craft overnight. The other survivors put up at a San Juan Capistrano hotel.

The plane, part of the Battle Fleet bombing force, left San Pedro yesterday in command of Lieut. Halland. According to the latter, one of the plane's engines threw a propeller just before dusk and the craft had to come down through a fog. In landing, however, the pontoons were so badly damaged that they leaked badly, and safety for the men soon developed into a race between the men bailing and the inpouring water. With all hands bailing, the plane was hurried toward shore under power of the second motor.

After the crew had safely beached the plane without injury to anyone aboard, however, the pounding seas continued to work havoc with the craft, and Lieut. Halland announced that he had given up hope of salvaging any part of it but the motors.

The plane had been accompanied by another naval bombing plane, the 2-S-14, piloted by Chief Machinist A. Iannucci, acting as chief pilot, and Aviation Machinists' Mate J. W. Mueller.

Near Point San Juan, according to word brought back by Iannucci and Mueller, one of the 2-S-3 motors stopped, evidently when the propeller was thrown. Lieut. Halland, pilot, signaled for the accompanying plane to return to the harbor for help and then the bomber disappeared in the thick fog.

The 2-S-14 returned at 7 o'clock last night and the tug Sonoma was sent out at once to pick up the crippled bomber and her crew and passengers.

Angeleno Racer Killed, Another Hurt in Tryout

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—William Reid of Los Angeles was killed, and Ralph Johnson, 27 years of age, of Philadelphia and Los Angeles, was injured seriously here today in two automobile accidents at Tanforan Park. Both men, racing automobile pilots, were testing out their automobiles in readiness for a series of automobile races to be held at Tanforan Park next Sunday.

Reid was instantly killed when his automobile, traveling at seventy miles an hour, ran off the track and capsized.

Johnson's car ran off the track and plunged through a fence. Surgeons said his injuries probably would be fatal.

"TIMES" RELIEF FUND

The Times will receive, acknowledge by publication and forward to the proper authorities sums in any amount sent to this paper for the relief of the cyclone victims of the Middle West. Starting the fund itself with a contribution of $1000, The Times urges all to give to the extent of their ability, either through this paper or through some other of the various relief agencies with which The Times is co-operating. Checks sent to The Times should be made payable to The Times Cyclone Relief Fund.

LIST SHOWS CASUALTIES IN CYCLONE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, March 20.—Casualty totals reported tonight from Wednesday's tornado did not vary much from previous tabulations, although after two day's search and checking, the figures for some places were still estimated. There were many reported as missing and word had not been received from larger rural regions affected by the storm.

A canvas of White county, Illinois, today showed that forty-seven residents on farms had been killed, but rechecking reduced the number of dead in some of the towns. At the same time, new deahts from injuries, as well as the recovery of more bodies from the debris, added to certain totals that had been reported as maximum.

The toll tonight placed the dead at 809, with 2916 injured. Probably 1000 of the maimed suffered severe hurts and many of them may die. A score or more died today of their injuries. Murphysboro, Ill., still headed the list with 201 known dead including ten who died tonight or were recovered from the ruins.

FRANKLIN COUNTY DEATH TOLL IS 163

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MIDWEST KNEELS IN GRIEF AT BIER OF CYCLONE DEAD

Known Fatalities Now Total 809; Survivors Fear Pestilence and Famine Scourge

BY J. P. GALLAGHER
"Times" Staff Correspondent
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, March 20.—Southern Illinois and Indiana, together with the other sectors of the tornado-swept area, assisted by every existing agency of mercy, today bent their energy to the grim task of restoring a semblance of order out of the almost indescribable desolation in the wake of Wednesday's cyclone.

Those who recovered their dead today either buried them or prepared the bodies for burial. Others under the leadership of Red Cross workers are still feverishly digging through the smoldering heaps, hoping against hope that their loved ones may yet be found alive. And there are those who, sadly contemplating their ruined homes, are checking up their losses.

The number of known dead tonight is 809, with 2916 reported injured, making a total casualty list of 3725. This number, it is expected, will be increased as reports are received from rural districts. Col. S. O. Tripp of the Illinois National Guard, who made a survey of the devastated area today, estimates 15,000 are homeless.

FUNERAL AT DE SOTO

First funeral services were held at De Soto, Ill., where thirty-five victims were buried in two groups.

At Murphysboro, Ill., forty men worked all day digging graves for the interment of seventy victims, who were buried before nightfall. If all the bodies have been recovered from the wreckage by Sunday, Murphysboro will hold a general funeral service for the victims.

Shortage of coffins and facilities are the reasons for group burials.

Kentucky and Tennessee, which suffered least, buried their dead today.

Princeton, Owensville and Posseyville, Ind., have recovered and buried most of their dead.

The foregoing is the gist of the reports coming out of the devastated sections today. Dispatches reaching here from those agencies checking up the casualties say it will be impossible to tell the exact number of dead in the affected districts until after Sunday, because outlying farmhouses which have been destroyed have not all been searched.

It will be weeks, the reports say, before the property loss can be estimated with any degree of accuracy. But that it will reach far into the millions, no one seems to doubt.

DREAD PESTILENCE

Meantime, the reports say, the authorities fearing that two of the dreaded "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," famine and pestilence, might ride forth in the devastated area, are taking every possible precaution.

An outbreak of tetanus this morning alarmed the physicians. Hurried calls to the Red Cross brought meager supplies of serum and the emergency hospitals sent that which was available back and forth wherever it was reported to be needed most.

All the time more was expected, but it never came. Harry M. Baker, chairman of the disaster relief committee of St. Louis, telephoned William M. Bater, Red Cross official at St. Louis, who immediately notified Indianapolis to start an airplane for Carbondale. In two hours Bill Taylor, an aviator, brought assurance of life to scores when, in a swift pursuit monoplane, he swooped down into the debris of Carbondale carrying the precious liquid. Sufficient supplies are en route.

SOUTHLAND GIVES AID

Money is Sent to Tornado Area

Clubs, Societies and Many Individuals Answer Appeal for Help

Governor of Illinois Says Cash is Present Need; "Times" Has Fund

Southern California residents undertook to furnish aid to the suffering thousands in the tornado-devastated regions in the Middle West and yesterday funds began flowing to Chicago, St. Louis and Indianapolis for disbursement to the homeless and stricken.

The Times, the Chamber of Commerce, clubs, societies and individuals concentrated their efforts yesterday in acquiring funds and rushing them to the storm-swept areas.

American Red Cross officials and Gov. Len Small of Illinois yesterday communicated with Los Angeles agencies, urging that money be sent immediately, and that funds be telegraphed to the American Red Cross branch office at St. Louis, Mo.

The Red Cross will make no special campaign for funds for the devastated regions. D. C. MacWatters, chairman of the Los Angeles chapter, announced yesterday, but the chapter, located at 213 South Broadway, will receive contributions which will be forwarded immediately to the Red Cross relief organization in the stricken territory.

President R. W. Pridham of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday offered the use of the banquet hall to the State societies of the devastated regions, so that there might be no delay in organizing the machinery of assembling funds. Secretary A. G. Arnoll telegraphed Red Cross officials asking for instructions, and was told that money was the pressing need and that the sending of supplies would be considered later.

RED CROSS IS AGENT

Mr. Arnoll stated that he expected Southern California to respond generously to the request for funds, due to the fact that so many local residents are former citizens of the States which were swept by the cyclone Wednesday. Gov. Small telegraphed that the need of funds is urgent, and designated the Red Cross as the disbursing agent.

The Los Angeles Rotary Club, at its weekly luncheon yesterday at the Biltmore, voted $1000 from its emergency fund to the use of the sufferers. The money was sent to the Chicago Rotary Club to be dis-adies. The muscles become taut and shrink, drawing the body into a knot. There are scores of cases in the hospitals in Carbondale and Murphysboro and near-by towns.

The first indication of a food shortage appeared today at Carbondale, and Mayor Blair and K. Levy, general chairman of the relief committee which was formed shortly after the twister had done its work, sent out appeals for food.

"Our food supply is just about exhausted," said Mayor Blair. "We need everything in the form of shelter material and foodstuffs that can be sent us. We are grateful to the people of Chicago for the quick response they gave to our appeals for assistance."

Late reports from the St. Louis Red Cross are to the effect that the emergency relief problem is thoroughly covered, it was said at local headquarters today. There are a sufficient number of physicians, sufficient medical supplies and sufficient food.

RELIEF TRAINS

The relief trains that left the Illinois Central all day yesterday and last night, carrying canvas cots, bedding, stoves and stovepipe, fresh eggs, tinned meats, surgical dressings, telegraph wires, coffins, vaccines, baby clothes, provided the immediate necessities.

The reports reaching here continue to depict the awful horror of the situation. Picture an eighty-acre field, strewn with lumber, splinters, debris, shattered furniture, household goods, upturned automobiles, wrecked railway cars; a desolate unoccupied scrap yard. Then imagine such wreckage scattered over 300 square miles of territory, with large buildings here and there demolished, and trees uprooted, and one has some idea of what the ferocious outburst of nature did.

It was all through such desolation that daybreak this morning found little groups in tattered clothing with red eyes and stolid countenances digging at the wreckage in a search for their dead.

DEAD TO EMOTION

At intervals their grewsome task brings results and the dead are removed to the morgue while their former neighbors look on with little show of emotion—they have seen too much horror of late to be much shocked at the finding of a new body.

It is in the midst of such a setting that the Red Cross nurses and physicians are at work. The nurses with words of cheer and encouragement, with smiles of sympathy, with their merciful administrations have worked wonders with the morale of the stricken people.

"Yes, ma'am, we'll be brave," they say huskily through tightened lips. "We'll do all we can, but you stay with us, please. This is so awful."

Pitiable scenes, the dispatches say, were enacted at the morgues in West Frankfort, Carbondale, De Soto and Murphysboro, where long lines of friends and relatives waited to identify their dead. Red Cross and army men at the morgues say they have never seen such horrors as those in the morgues of the devastated region. In one morgue at West Frankfort the bodies of thirty children from 2 months to 2 years of age are being held for identification.

ROADS CONGESTED

The rush of friends and relatives living in Jackson and Williamson counties to inquire for the welfare of their loved ones has so congested the roads that they are almost impassable. Early today hundreds of men were pressed into service with lanterns to try and straighten out the traffic tangle.

While Corners' juries are meeting formally to inquire into the deaths of the victims of the tornado, surviving members of the districts laid waste were planning steps toward the rebuilding of their homes. So little, however, has been left of De Soto, Bush, Hurst and West Frankfort that it is doubtful whether anything can be built out of the ruins. There are sections of these former towns which look as though they were never occupied, so fiercely did the tornado scour the landscape.

It is as if death had stalked through the section with an enormous scythe which he swung ruthlessly, shaving the face of the earth clean. The force of the wind was so great that in many cases not even traces of the stone foundations of homes can be found. The path of the storm, which varied little in width, is littered with all the terrible evidence of what can be wrought when a catastrophe is least expected.

TOLL AT DE SOTO

After striking a terrible blow at Murphysboro the gale roared down upon De Soto, a town of 700 people. Here the life of one out of every seven of the citizens was snuffed out.

After De Soto the cyclone struck Royalton, Bush, Hurst, Plumfield, West Frankfort and Parrish in the order named, it became known today. At West Frankfort it struck the new tipple of the Orient No. 2 coal mine, one of the three largest in the world, and made a twisted mass of wreckage of it.

An idea of the force of the tornado can be gleaned from the following reports:

TORNADO'S FORCE

A loaded box car was picked up by the tornado and split in two, one half being deposited in the front yard of a home and the other half in the back yard of the same home. There are many homes that have had roofs or sides ripped from them without harm being done to the rest of the house.

Perhaps the strangest happening that has occurred in the affected area was the finding of a nude 9-month-old baby in a swamp near West Frankfort. The child was found alive and doctors said it must have been exposed all of last night. It was taken to a hospital and is reported to be well on its way to recovery.

Cornstalks, tree trunks and lumber were rained down for twenty miles around during the ten-minute windstorm which followed the tornado.

Gov. Small issued the following statement at Carbondale after driving through the storm areas:

GOVERNOR'S STATEMENT

"My survey of the storm-devastated area of Southern Illinois has appalled and stunned me. Havoc lying in the path of the cyclone cannot be adequately described in words. Splendidly as have the newspaper writers sent out the tidings the real story cannot be told; it only can be realized by those who have viewed the scenes of destruction.

"It is most gratifying to find in every suffering community and in the towns, cities and villages adjacent to the storm area such splendid organizations of men and women who have banded themselves together for relief work in this great emergency.

"The Red Cross, church and civic bodies, supplemented and led by our own military forces are rapidly bringing some semblance of order out of chaos.

"I am advised that voluntary contributions to the various funds being raised for relief work have been generous. This is pleasing news, for the need is great. Whole families wiped out in many instances; others decimated by sudden death and thousands injured are enough to excite pity; but when you add to this the utter destruction of hundreds of homes, then you have a picture that is not easily described.

STATE RELIEF

"So far as facilities at the command of the State government are concerned, relief work will go forward with redoubled effort, and from what I have observed of the activities of other agencies functioning in the same direction, I can say the same of them."

It will be months before the Red Cross workers leave the scene of the tornado disaster, it was said at Red Cross headquarters today. The emergency work is only the beginning. After the ill and wounded are cared for, the living housed and fed and decent burials provided for the hundreds of bodies dug from the ruins, the work of cleaning and rebuilding will begin.

The magnitude of the disaster will call for months of heroic effort, it was said today. The Red Cross will stay on the job until the tornado-destroyed towns are restored to their normal activity, and thousands of dollars will be required for the work.

VILLAGERS WILL LIE IN ONE GRAVE

Neighbors to Bury Thirty Friends in Common Plot in De Soto, Ill.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DE SOTO (Ill.) March 19.—This desolate wreck of what until two days ago was a little village of 500 contented men, women and children, tomorrow will be the scene of the last act of the prank of the element—the interment in De Soto soil of all that is earthly of upward of thirty of its inhabitants.

Beside the lonely piles of debris that once were homes, a great grave yawned today. Near-by in neat arrangement, guarded by a few sentinels, neighbors of those they watched, were the caskets of a score of the victims brought here throughout the afternoon by hurrying hearses which disgorged their burden only to return to near-by towns for others.

Tomorrow the hearses will bring more of the now silent neighbors back to their silent village. Then beside the great grave will gather about 200 De Soto people, all those who escaped uninjured in last Wednesday's tornado and the caskets will be lowered one by one into the earth.

The services themselves will be simple. A minister will say a prayer, there will be a hymn, short reading of scripture and another hymn and neighbors will replace the earth they removed today.

FOR PUBLIC MUSEUM

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) March 20.—The City Commission will cooperate with the plan to establish a public museum in one of the city parks. "Land will be donated in whatever park those wanting the museum may desire," Commissioner Ray Lambert said. "The city may, if it has the money, other wise assist in establishing the museum. The collection now in the Main Avenue Senior School, valued at $15,000, which includes the Atwater collection, valued at $5000, will be housed in the new museum.

bursed through the agency of the Red Cross.

The Federation of State Societies, with President F. M. Rubicé presiding, at a luncheon yesterday passed a resolution declaring that each individual society raise its own funds and direct the disposition of them through the channels considered by them to be the best. Mr. Rubicé stated that the officers of the Nebraska Society had voted $250 from its treasury for use in the injured States.

Telegraph offices were crowded yesterday with former residents of Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee sending funds to friends and relatives who, they feared, were homeless as a result of the cyclone. No definite estimate of the funds thus subscribed could be made, but it was believed that the total would run up into many thousands of dollars.

The Illinois State Society of Southern California organized a relief-fund drive yesterday in an office at 501 Bank of Italy Building, Seventh and Olive streets. President Walter C. Blue, First Vice-President C. B. Hazelhurst, Second Vice-President James W. Morris and Mrs. Emily Mann Timmerhoff, secretary, directed the efforts of volunteer workers. A telegram received from Gov. Small thanked them for their activity and directed that funds be sent to the Red Cross office at St. Louis.

POSTCARD DRIVE

Mr. Blue stated that 3000 postcards would be sent to as many former residents of Illinois today, asking that they contribute to the fund. At a meeting at 233 South Broadway at 8 p.m., the 27th inst., Dr. Glen McWilliams will speak and an appeal will be broadcast to raise funds.

The first contributions to the society's funds were: Mr. and Mrs. Blue, $25; J. K. McDonald, $5; F. C. Swineford, $10; W. M. of Herrin, $5; Minnie Kanner, $5; Mrs. Timmerhoff, $5.

The Hamilton County (Illinois) Association of Southern California, sent condolences to the residents through McLeansboro newspapers yesterday.

START ILLINOIS FUND

Starting the fund with $100 from the treasury of the society, the Loyal Illinoisans last night at a meeting at Music-Arts Hall, 233 South Broadway, began what is expected to grow into a large contribution for the relief of sufferers in the cyclone-swept sections of Illinois.

Several hundred attended the meeting and began making their contributions at once. F. M. Rubicé, president of the Federation of State Societies, and H. J. Brubaker, president of the Illinoisans, addressed those gathered and made a plea for a liberal response to the fund.

Following the speeches, printed subscription blanks were passed, and many of those present took several of these with the intention of giving them to Illinoisans unable to attend the meeting.

The fund started last night is called the Illinois Society Cyclone Fund and provides that the money will be paid the executive committee of the Federation of State Societies for immediate use. Others wishing to subscribe to this fund may do so through C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federation of State Societies, Continental National Bank.

Former residents of Maine, under the leadership of Judge York, have also begun the collection of a relief fund for the stricken district. A general appeal has been sent out by M. C. Drisko, president of the Pine Tree Association, asking all members of the organization to contribute $1 or more to the fund. Checks should be mailed payable to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Drisko said, and should be sent to him at 1609 West Ninth street. Judge York started the fund with $50.

At a picnic and reunion of the Missouri Society of Los Angeles county at Sycamore Grove tomorrow an opportunity will be given to all those who so wish to contribute funds for the relief of the sufferers. The money obtained will be turned over to C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federation of State Societies, for distribution. The secretary is located at the Continental National Bank, Ninth and Main streets. Telephone TRinity 3511.

COUNCIL RESOLUTION

The following resolution of sympathy was passed yesterday by the City Council:

Whereas, we learn with deep regret of the calamity that has befallen the people in the Middle West, in which the forces of nature have demanded a heavy toll of human lives, and great destruction of property—therefore, be it

Resolved, that the people of Los Angeles hereby express to our eastern neighbors our sincerest sympathy and await word from them telling how we may best serve them.

Mayor Cryer yesterday telegraphed his condolences to Gov. Small and published a proclamation to the people of the city, urging them to provide relief to the sufferers.

The telegram and proclamation follow:

Gov. Len Small, State Capitol, Springfield, Ill.

The people of the city of Los Angeles extend their most profound sympathy to the people of Illinois and adjoining States affected by the disastrous storm of yesterday. If there is anything in the way of relief which you desire at our hands please command us.

Sincerely yours,

GEORGE E. CRYER, Mayor of Los Angeles.

PROCLAMATION

An overwhelming disaster, accompanied by great loss of life and destruction of property, has overtaken the people of Illinois and adjoining States. As a result, the inhabitants of the stricken district are suffering from hunger and exposure.

As the chief executive of the city, I call upon our people and all our benevolent organizations to provide immediate relief. Any funds subscribed will be immediately forwarded by local Red Cross authorities.

GEORGE E. CRYER.

WIRE PHOTOS IN NEW FIELD

A hitherto unsuspected field of usefulness was discovered last night for the Telepix, the Times telegraphic process of transmitting pictures by wire, when pictures of the midwest tornado taken yesterday afternoon more than 2000 miles away were lent to a contemporary newspaper, the Bakersfield Morning Echo, and printed in Bakersfield less than six hours after they were taken, despite the necessity for an airplane trip from the scene of the disaster to Chicago, and the fact that Bakersfield is 125 miles from Los Angeles, where the pictures were received.

The feat was accomplished through the co-operation of the Greer-Robbins Company, local distributors for the Chrysler automobile. In spite of the fact that he had put in a hard day's work as superintendent at the Greer-Robbins plant, S. H. Wray volunteered to try to get the pictures to Bakersfield in time for a 1 o'clock "deadline." He brought a stock Chrysler touring car to the Times Building early in the evening and plans were made for a fast run to Bakersfield.

The first pictures of the disaster began coming over the Telepix wire about 8 o'clock. Cuts were made; a matrix prepared for the Bakersfield paper and Wray and his Chrysler began the long grind through traffic and over the Ridge Route to the northern city.

At exactly 12:55, with five minutes to spare, the sleek blue car rolled up in front of the Echo Building in Bakersfield and the valley city thus gained the distinction of being the first city of less than 500,000 population to publish Telepix pictures.

Perfect weather conditions aided the nervy driver in his dash and perfect performance on the part of the car enabled Wray to get the Chrysler through traffic, around the hundreds of mountain curves and into Bakersfield on time. The stunt is an outstanding achievement of newspaper enterprise and motor-car stamina.

TEMPLE DEDICATED

PEORIA (Ill.) March 20.—The new $500,000 temple has been dedicated by the Scottish Rite bodies of this city, with the initiation of a dedicatory class of 200 Masons. Sylvester O. Spring of Chicago conducted the ceremonies.

STRICKEN CITY REGAINS POISE

Murphysboro, Ill., Maintains Equanimity in Crisis

Death List Put at 201; While 700 Are Injured

General Memorial Service to be Conducted Sunday

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MURPHYSBORO (Ill.) March 20.—Murphysboro's death list was 201 at 11:30 o'clock tonight when it was announced eleven more bodies had been recovered or injured persons died.

Despite the growing death toll and predictions that it would be increased further, the atmosphere changed suddenly from one surcharged with tension and fear to one of fair equanimity.

The change was manifested in the attitude of relief workers, National Guard officers and the townspeople themselves, who, accustomed after three days to the tangled wreckage which litters virtually the entire city and the veritable wilderness where 1000 residences stood, joked over narrow escapes and freaks of the whimsical wind.

RELIEF EFFORTS

Through it all there was no letup in the efforts to alleviate the suffering of the approximately 700 injured, more than 300 of whom were still in a serious condition, and the nearly 4000 homeless. Most of the debris was cleared away from the main streets today, but many blocks remained to badly clogged with fallen poles, roofs, uprooted trees, twisted wires and the other litter that once had made beautiful residence districts divided by tree-lined streets, that even foot passage was slow and tedious.

Among the medical supplies arriving today were more than 700 units of antitetanus serum. Within ten minutes after it was stored at the Elks' Club, relief headquarters, a mother was begging the chairman of the general relief committee to have the treatment given her little boy, who suffered long with a broken arm before he finally received attention. The serum was sent by airplane from Indianapolis.

The first burials took place today when upward of two score of the terribly mangled forms were laid to rest. Despite the huge number of funerals necessitated by the storm no makeshift interments were necessary and, while a majority of them were without rites and at best a ceremony of the simplest sort, none went to rest in the crude boxes frequently found necessary in like disasters.

Other burials will continue throughout the remainder of the week, with a great memorial service planned for Sunday in the public square with every Murphysboro minister participating. Should the weather turn inclement, the service of sorrow will take place in the Hippodrome Theater, although its seating capacity would accommodate only a small portion of the great throng expected to pay its tribute to the tornado dead. Thanks to the sunny skies, the threat of a disease epidemic has not attended the exposure and crowding and privations incident to the freakish play of the elements.

NO PROFITEERING

A number of pneumonia cases were reported this afternoon, but it was said by medical men that even the number of tetanus cases once threatened had developed as only a negligible factor.

Only stores dealing in the necessaries of life to open today. There was no attempt at profiteering and seemingly no shortage of supplies for those who could pay the usual prices.

SEARCH CONTINUES AS DEAD ARE BURIED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MURPHYSBORO (Ill.) March 20.—Thirty bodies, most of them mangled by the deluge of bricks and timbers under which they were buried by the tornado here Wednesday, were taken this afternoon from hastily improvised morgues, prepared as well as circumstances allowed for burial, and hurried away to cemeteries. All had been identified.

Only the undertakers and a few grave diggers stood by as the bodies were lowered. Relatives, friends and all who would mourn, are attending the stricken, searching for the dead or snatching a few hours of exhausted sleep in the few shelters available.

Rulers Cable Sympathy for Storm Victims

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Messages of sympathy for the tornado victims in the Middle West were received at the State Department today from all parts of the world, including expressions by Sir Esme Howard, the British Ambassador, also his government; Dr. Walter Simons, acting President of Germany; King Haakon VII of Norway, and Prince Tokugawa, president of the American-Japanese Society in Tokio.

The message from acting President Simons, addressed to President Coolidge, said:

"Reports of the frightful catastrophe that has broken out over a wide part of the United States and destroyed many human lives has aroused deep sympathy throughout Germany. It is my honest duty to express heartfelt condolence to you, Mr. President, and to the American people."

King Haakon's cablegram read: "Accept my sympathy in terrible calamity."

MOHAIR CLIP SOLD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SONORA (Tex.) March 20.—It is estimated that approximately 80 per cent of the spring crop of mohair in this part of Southwest Texas has been contracted for. Shearing started early in the month. At the time the recent cold weather struck this section probably one-half of the animals had been sheared. No losses on account of exposure are reported.

ARMY LIFE IN SIBERIA DESCRIBED

Col. Leitch Cites Hardships of American Soldiers in Expeditionary Force

An interesting account of experiences of the American expeditionary Force in Siberia during the World War was given by Col. J. D. Leitch, U.S.A., former commander of the Association of Infantry of the United States, before the City Club last night.

Col. Leitch was chief of staff of the Siberian forces. He not only gave an interesting account of his experiences into the military history of the force but was a pertinent critic of the resourcefulness and lack of resourcefulness and foresight of the American soldier. Colonel Leitch pointed out, for instance, that the public knows little of the experiences of the American soldiers in Siberia and what little it does know is generally misleading.

His talk was full of references to the hardships of the Yankees in Siberia. For instance, a unit of American soldiers accompanied by a band marched on one occasion for 40 miles. The unit was attended by a number of sick.

"And it brought out the interesting fact that the Americans can march the Japanese off their feet," said Colonel Leitch.

Announcement was made at the dinner that in order to help defray the expenses of the trip to be made at a summer school to be conducted at Rose Field, the Pasadena Junior College will present a benefit dance at Rose Field April 4, 11, May 2 and 9. Tickets will be $1 each, including parking space and the prize dance contests and entertainments—for prizes to be awarded military men and girls.

LONG BEACH FOR SECESSION

committees of the Assembly will hold a joint meeting in the port district hearing when representatives of the Long Beach delegation will present their views.

PURPOSE OF BILL

"The purpose of the proposed bill," said former Judge Hewitt, who is here to support the greater harbor movement, "is to comply with conditions imposed by Congress in appropriating $4,500,000 for the deep water breakwater and dredging.

"The conditions require that the port district be formed to control the harbor under one management, and that a belt line railway connecting all parts of the harbor be established.

"The bill is purely an enabling act," he said, "and provides for the creation of port districts if desired, a separate election being required in all cities desiring to join such districts. The district is empowered to exercise the powers of the city or county of harbor administration.

"Management of the district is fixed in a commission of seven members, of which two each are appointed by the mayors of Los Angeles and Long Beach, confirmed by the respective councils of the two cities, the five appointed members to be named by unanimous vote.

"The fifth member of the commission is elected by the voters of the district. The bill provides for unanimous action and gives the Railroad Commission power in the matter."

The first result of the hearing by the Senate Committee on Harbors and Public Utilities was a recommendation by Senator Breed of Los Angeles that the bill be amended to add 1 cent to the gas tax in order to find expression of the opposition to any portion of the measure. Proponents of the bill declared that increase were extravagant and that certain phases of the subject matter had been indulged in under pressure of local interests to motives and the necessity of reconciling figures and facts in conflicting figures and statements.

Probably the most convincing argument advanced against the measure was presented by Senator Phelan of Los Angeles, former chief counsel for the Automobile Club of Southern California. Senator Breed declared that the necessity for an increase in the gas tax is questionable, stating that a gas tax is not the most equitable means for obtaining additional funds.

RILEY OFFERS PLAN

One of the latest recommendations to be made by the group opposing the 1-cent gas tax increase is that offered by Assemblyman Riley of Los Angeles. Riley asserts that the state has a surplus of $22,000,000 in the general fund and that this sum could be diverted to highway purposes. This would provide from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 during the next two years, he declares. The total, it is asserted, would be sufficient to provide ample funds for the state's highway construction and for the completion of the coast highway. These funds, Riley declares, could be obtained by a careful study of the road situation and by the state highway commission agreeing to spend in excess of $15,000,000 annually.

Senators Chamberlin, Stanton, Sample, Anthony and Young have introduced identical resolutions requesting the appointment of a committee of five members of the Senate to investigate the proposed bill for the 1-cent gas tax increase.

"The committee," said Senator Chamberlin, "should be appointed by the Lieutenant Governor and should investigate the proposed bill and report to the Legislature as to whether or not the bill is in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution as to revenue bills."

TWENTY FOR AND AGAINST

"The bill as amended by the Los Angeles delegation of twenty members in the Assembly and six in the Senate, is an increase of 1 cent in the gas tax and will be the only bill considered by the early adoption of the measure, the Californian will be given an opportunity to express their views on the proposed measure. Should the committee decide that the bill is not perfect in every detail, it will be given an opportunity to express their views on the proposed measure. Should the committee decide that the bill is not perfect in every detail, it will be given an opportunity to express their views on the proposed measure.

Doctor Says Vacation is Essential
Los Angeles.—The head of a great organization says that every one of his employes is required to take a vacation each year.
It is not optional with the employe—he must do so, for the good of the company, as well as himself.
Of course full pay goes on and of course all employes are in full accord with the rule.
But many of us who are working for ourselves, or are in positions of considerable responsibility, do not take a regular outing. If this is the case we are working against our own interests. We should call a halt and force ourselves to take the rest and recreation that can be obtained by going to some central place for a change of scene and relief from the grind.
Catalina Island is an ideal place for the summer outing. Be at hand and quickly secured and best of all the cost is small.
Your vacation time will soon be here. Drop in today and get your Catalina literature. Or a postal card or phone call will bring it by next mail.
Take the family this summer to Catalina—the young folks love it for its many attractions and because this famous seaside resort, twenty-six miles out in the ocean, is admirably adapted to bathing, boating, fishing, golf, tennis, etc.
Mother doesn't have to worry about the children at Catalina.

FATE OF BOYS IS MYSTERY

Three West Frankfort Youths Last Seen Running on Railroad Track as Storm Struck

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WEST FRANKFORT (Ill.) March 20.—One of the strangest stories persistently current among the increasingly number of stories incident to the visit of the tornado, is that of the apparent disappearance of three small boys. A railroad man saw the trio running down the track as hail began to fall just before the whirling cone of air and debris struck the railroad embankment.

Immediately after the storm center passed over the rails, tearing up a near-by trestle as though the steel rails were wire, the narrator, stepped from behind the shelter, he had sought but saw no trace of the boys. It is thought they were carried into the timber lands to the northeast of the tracks, now filled with splintered timber, strips of corrugated metal roofing and tattered household goods.

The excitement and shock attendant to the hours immediately following the visit of the storm gradually disappearing, residents of the town are beginning to tell coherent tales of the terrifying few minutes. Most of them now agree that the wind descended in a huge cone movement, the actual striking of the blast being preceded by a moment of strange calm and a slight cessation in the hailstorm which had continued for some time.

"I was standing on the south side of the engine house," a railroad yardman said. "I heard a rising whine in the wind and looked to the southwest and saw the black cloud coming. I ran back into the shop where I crouched on the lee side of a locomotive. It was deathly still just before the storm hit.

"Two men crawled down into the pit beneath the engine, and," he said, "I think one man crawled into the fire box. The engine house was torn away and that old engine shook like a leaf as timber and other stuff struck it. It's a queer feeling, standing there and expecting to get killed every minute. As soon as it let up a little I ran across the tracks to find my wife and child. Thank God, they hadn't been scratched."

just how to go about their gigantic task of relief. The property loss on the city alone is $4,000,000, with 2000 homeless. While the bells in the city were tolling this afternoon and the gray and white hearses were passing in the streets, the citizens were gathered in the Courthouse raising money. Other help came from the very skies which had sent such bitter sorrow and death. An airplane brought relief to the farmers from the American Farm Bureau. A fund of $35,000 is said to be available. Insurance companies were busy making adjustments.

TEMPORARY RELIEF

At the basement of the Public Library the Red Cross and the Salvation Army were distributing clothing to the sufferers. Many tables were covered with dresses, underclothes, shoes, hats, sent in by townspeople. Those people who lost their homes and clothes, women with babies, men with bandaged heads moved among the tables taking what they wanted. Across the street a church sign said: "Food—Come in."

The temporary relief has worked smoothly. It is the permanent work, the rehabilitation, which Mr. Baker and his aides are concerned about. He has been in ninety-four disasters and knows how needs develop.

The Red Cross is still helping children and widows of the Pueblo disaster, the Lorrain and Sullivan disasters.

At Lorrain Mr. Baker said the Red Cross had a fund of $1,010,000. Of this only $75,000 was distributed in cash. This tri-State disaster will need twice as much. Presented at a meeting of citizens by M. J. Wilburn, head of the local chapter, Mr. Baker said:

"In this hour of your sorrow and agony, the greatest mother in the world, the American Red Cross, extends to you real sympathy.

"I want to tell you how the Red Cross works. The governors of Indiana and Illinois have issued proclamations designating the Red Cross as the official relief agency requesting that all funds be turned over to them for disbursement.

TWO ENDS OF AID

"Relief work comes under two sections, the first is the emergency period, the first rush effort to give things needed most. These are food, clothing, temporary shelter and medical and nursing attention. You have done a magnificent piece of work here. Not a single family was missed on the night of the tornado. If you need any more physicians, nurses or supplies, we will supply you. We have been going since the night before last without sleep in this emergency work.

"After this we merge into a permanent rehabilitation program. This is by far the most important. We purchase new furniture, clothing, material for new homes and repair old ones and look after the labor. We give a careful planning of the future of widows and orphans. This may involve the education of the widow so that she can earn her own living. After a disaster in Texas, one widow with two babies revealed to us her heart's desire and we sent her to Chicago for a special education. We put up a maintenance trust fund in a Chicago bank. We paid her tuition fees and bought her clothing and took care of her children. A year later she had a job at $175 a month.

"These policies are ground out of the hard school of experience and do not come from a swivel chair in Washington.

"The system is simple, an advisory local committee is appointed. Trained workers are put into the field to get the facts. We pass on each case and make an award.

"It is important that relief be given on a basis of need only, not on loss. Some may need more than they lost. If so, they will get it. I have two families in mind in another disaster. They each lost $20,000. We closed one case without a penny of award and gave the other $3000. Why? Because one family had $65,000 in bonds and $150,000 in real estate left and the other woman had lost her husband, children and home. We built her a house, furnished it and gave her $50 a month.

"You are not charged with any overhead or administration expenses. Every penny raised for relief and given to the Red Cross goes directly to relief. At the end of the work, the books are audited by a firm selected by your committee and by the War Department in Washington.

"A great big relief fund is going to be needed for rehabilitation. The workers are trained and find out fourteen points from each family, which is all kept confidential. This includes resources and liabilities, listed in detail. In Sullivan we had $63,000 to take care of fifty-one families. We guarantee the need of each family will be met irrespective of the money contributed by local communities."

TO REBUILD SHOPS

The Princeton plan, whatever is finally decided upon, will take in the neighboring towns of Griffin and Owensville and the farm district wherever suffering is keen. In this city the main business district is untouched. The force of the tornado came upon the homes of the poor and the main industries. Mr. Baker left tonight for Murphysboro. Vice-President Miller of the Southern Railway and a party of engineers and contractors went over the ruined shops today and began plans for reconstruction at once. It is feared that the company might build elsewhere, the damage is so great here. The expert shop employees will probably be given labor jobs by the contractors during the reconstruction. The round-house may be prepared in two weeks.

W. A. Kober of Pittsburg, vice-president of the Heinz Company, with officials of that company went over the wreck today. The amount is estimated at $200,000. Factory and green houses will be rebuilt.

Bibles open in the field, dead goats, account books, clothing, were picked up throughout the tornado district today. The soldiers still remain on guard and there is complaint that residents of the district have difficulty in getting permits to go home.

HERRIOT STAND UPHELD IN VOTE

the French seminary in Rome, where, he said, most of the higher men of the French clergy are trained. To this, Deputy Ybarnegaray shouted, "That seminary gave forty-five dead to the country!"

OATH IS EXPOSED

Proceeding, the Premier charged that young Catholics in the town of Thononen were asked to swear to an oath to oppose the expulsion of religious orders, "even as far as bloodshed." He alleged that at Verdun, a Catholic banker urged that the moment of launching national loans was propitious for bringing religious pressure on the government. At Angouleme, he declared, resistance by force of arms was preached.

But the tumult came when the Premier, reading the cardinals' exhortation to bring pressure to bear by bankers and captains of industry, asked:

"Where is this in the teaching of Jesus, who chased the money-changers out of the temple?"

"The laic school," the Premier went on, when the outburst had ceased, "is not against religion. It is designed only to unite poor and rich children who, hitherto have been separated." These words were greeted with frantic applause from the majority section of the Chamber.

"Laicism," said the Premier, "does not deny the collaboration which Christianity has given civilization—Christianity in its forms of primitive purity, when it was not the bankers' Christianity, but that of the catacombs."

Here bedlam broke loose and many pairs of Deputies in the aisles and in the open space under the rostrum began slugging matches, in which, however, blows seldom landed squarely. During the melee, Paul Painleve, President of the Chamber put on his top hat and left the rostrum, thereby suspending the sitting.

When finally the hostilities ceased and the session was resumed Premier Herriot continued his speech.

GRIFFIN WILL RISE NO MORE

Indiana Townsite Will be Deserted in Future

Lone Pioneer Signifies His Intention to Rebuild

Tragedy of School Bus is Told by Children

BY TOM KILLIAN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

GRIFFIN (Ind.) March 20.—Map-makers, you may remove Griffin from your charts of Indiana. This town, near the Wabash, obliterated by the tornado will stay that way. Six months from today the tall weeds will be growing up through the tumbled brick and mortar that once sheltered happy families, and that will be the end.

A careful survey of the handful of survivors who are not in the hospitals in near-by cities, today indicates that only one man will return here and rebuild.

He is C. C. Armstrong, 65 years of age, and a retired farmer.

"I was born in this little town," he says slowly as he looks dully at the shattered remnants of the home. "I raised my family here and I've been very little away from Griffin. I was spared this time, but I don't want to die anywhere else."

FIRST FUNERALS

They started burying their torn dead in Griffin this afternoon. There's a country graveyard on a sunny hillside. It's thick with stones that have accumulated through the 100 years of this sturdy little town's existence.

All the day shovels of the soldier grave-diggers had been ringing in the ears of the spectators at the flattened town below. And as the afternoon sun slithered down toward the horizon the first of Griffin's men and women, boys and girls, began to go down into the eternal peace of the grave.

"It's God's will and God's will be done," was the gist of the burial sermons, as minister after minister took up the kindly burden of eulogizing the silent forms. And for background, gleaming pick axes and shovels of the rescue workers, seeking more of the neighbor folk still hidden in the ruins.

Griffin's latest list of dead is twenty-seven. Eight more bodies were taken from the ruins today. Half a dozen of the wounded will die. Seventeen more bodies were found in farmhouse ruins just outside the township, making a total of forty-four dead out of a population of about 375. And there are ninety-three hospital casualties.

Survivors give a graphic story of Griffin's experience, the worst, in proportion to size, of any in the tornado belt.

CHILDREN KILLED

About 4 o'clock, just as the consolidated school in the west end of town had been closed, Arthur White, driver of the school bus, loaded thirty-three little tots in his bus, to take them home. The twister came roaring out of the west. Just a big whoop of noise and power. Five seconds later the bus was 100 feet down the road, upside down, its driver and seven little children dead in the debris. And all over the road were scattered more children, conscious and unconscious.

For a moment, silence, then the wails of suffering children as they writhed in the dust. Those who could arose and fled down the white road, shrieking in their terror.

In the meantime the storm had passed along and hit the town. Griffin is only two blocks wide, and the tornado at that point was cutting a mile-wide swath.

QUICK DEVASTATION

In less than it takes you to read this paragraph the wild wind had torn through Griffin and on to the east. And in its trip it had flattened every last one of those ninety-seven homes, the Illinois Central station, three general stores, two restaurants and two grain elevators holding 100,000 bushels of wheat and corn.

Hardly a well is left standing. Griffin had a stately main street, just a homely little highway of humble homes and tawdy stores, saved from bleakness by a row of old, dignified elms, towering over shops and homes on either side.

The trees were stripped bare as though by some giant pruning knife. Every house and store was lifted, carried at least a block and dropped like a carelessly flung deck of cards. One house was thrown, pointed roof first, into two elms. The trees stood the shock and now the house lies on its side, two great trees growing up through the roof.

Six men were in the Dawll general store. Probably it was a typical scene of the country store of fiction and life. Lanky Indiana farmers in their blue jeans leaned against the cracker and prune barrels and munched and drawled their tales in minor key, while old man Dawll waited on a chance customer. The crash came so suddenly that the shock of rendering timbers and falling stone numbed all pain.

The wood-burning stove, set fire to the debris. Four men were pinned in that inferno. Flames swept over John Coombs and he died as a friend tugging at his arm was forced to fall back. And today Mrs. Josephine Simmons, a widow woman she explains, wanders aimlessly around the ruins, looking for her son Virgil, 30 years of age, and a "fine boy to me, indeed, sir." Virgil, too, died in the fire. Only his watch remained to show who he was and no one yet has had the heart to tell the aged mother.

Slowly the number surviving found their feet and started work of rescue. As night raced in the flames spread to other ruins and weird light painted despairing faces as the symphony of pain went up from those pinned in the wreckage.

PINIONED BY PIANO

An old woman was dragged from under a piano, three ribs and her skull fractured. She has died since. The right leg of an aged man was cut off.

Sidney Hyatt's heavy truck was hurled over and over and he was thrown into a vacant lot. In a minute or so many tons of ruins had settled on his body and it has not yet been recovered.

Red Cross workers begin to come in from Evansville and other surrounding towns and cities. They bring a carload of food and another of clothing.

And the story is told over again for their benefit. Eleven bodies were recovered the first night in that flickering light of the death of fine hopes. Weeping remnants of torn families—and in this closely knit town every family was hit—watched the men folk toiling frantically to rescue the screaming dying before the flames arrived.

Many of the injured were jolted over the rough road to a new gymnasium in New Harmony, where a temporary hospital was established.

BODIES IN FIELDS

Bodies were found in the fields for half a mile around. Anyone who happened to be in the streets was picked up bodily and thudded to death in the surrounding meadows.

Clyde E. and his sister Effie Fifer are listed with the dead. They still may be in the ruins.

Ernest S. Coch, a traveling man, is probably dead. His car, wrapped about a tree, was found a mile outside town.

Dumb sufferers, 100 head of cattle maimed in the storm, were shot to death at dawn yesterday. Mrs. George Dawll hid behind an ironing board in the corner of her living room. That corner is the only thing left standing and she lives.

They found tiny Ezra Stallings whimpering in a room without a ceiling and without a roof. His arm was broken but he had taken off his sweater, his only protection against the cold, and with it covered the body of his mother, dead beside him when the rescuers came.

Seventy-five per cent of the people of Griffin were poor, the Red Cross workers explain. Most of them were tenant farmers. Few owned their own homes. And the fatal wind has scattered them to the four corners of the country—wherever helpful relatives live they will go.

GORHAM BURIES ITS DEAD

Twelve Laid to Rest Near Town, While Others are Sent to Friends; Outside Aid Spurned

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

GORHAM (Ill.) March 20.—Twelve of Gorham's sixty-five to seventy victims of Wednesday's tornado were buried today. The precise number of residents of this little town of approximately 500 inhabitants whose lives were snuffed out by a whimsical fate, probably never will be known, for in the devastation and confusion in the wake of the twister only one man kept a list and that admittedly incomplete.

It showed twenty-nine bodies here, twenty-two sent to St. Louis and an unknown number forwarded to Cairo, Ill. Only about fifteen injured persons remained here. The serious cases were sent to St. Louis and Cairo. Gorham, the first town hit in Illinois, as the whirling fury leaped the Mississippi River after its onslaught on Annapolis, Mo., suffered tremendously. Of its approximately eighty buildings, sixty were destroyed and of the remaining twenty not one escaped unscratched.

AID IS SPURNED

Gorham spurned outside aid, although a food shortage threatened until the Red Cross, without solicitation, sent in a carload of food.

"Gorham will fight its own battles," said R. B. Easley, chief storekeeper of the town. "There is a food shortage, but we cannot let that get to the outside world."

Between Gorham and Murphysboro, eighteen miles to the east, the countryside presents a scene of devastation.

Visible from the road was the wreckage of more than a score of farm houses, barns and other buildings, and more than fifty farm homes and their complements secured just how to go about their gigantic task of relief. The property loss on the city alone is $4,000,000, with 2000 homeless. While the bells in the city were tolling this afternoon and the gray and white hearses were passing in the streets, the citizens were gathered in the Courthouse raising money. WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

Awful Pains and Misery Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lima, Ohio.—"I want to tell you how your medicine has helped me. For weeks I suffered with awful pains from inflammation and I was in such misery that I had to bend double to get relief. I could not be touched or jarred, had awful pain all over my abdomen and could not touch my feet to the floor. It was impossible for me to straighten up and the pains never ceased. I took treatments for some time and finally was told I would have to have an operation. I do not believe in operations and I had read so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I told my husband I would try it before I gave up. I soon began to feel that it was doing me good. The awful misery began to leave me, also the backache. I have a good appetite and am gaining in weight. Taking this medicine was the best thing I ever did. I feel like it has saved my life and I do not hesitate to say so to my friends. It has saved me from a dreaded operation and I am still taking it."—Mrs. ETHEL THURSTON, 324 North Pine St., Lima, Ohio.

Make your skin a business asset—

Get rid of those blotches and blackheads! That skin trouble may be more than a source of suffering and embarrassment—it may be holding you out of a better job for which a good appearance is required. Why "take a chance" when Resinol Ointment heals skin eruptions so easily.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Shaving Stick contain the same soothing properties and are used by discriminating men who like their generous, cleansing lather and wholesome Resinol fragrance. At all druggists.

FATE OF DENTON IN JURY'S HANDS

Rum Murder Trial Ends at Santa Barbara

Prosecutor Asks Verdict in First Degree

Jury Locked Up for Night at 10:15 o'Clock

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, March 20.—The fate of Irving Denton was placed in the hands of the jury in the George Turner murder trial this afternoon. The defense cut short its arguments and the prosecution summed up the case in a little more than half an hour.

The jury was locked up at 10:15 o'clock tonight without reaching a verdict. It was rumored that after seven hours deliberation the jury was hopelessly deadlocked, 7 to 5 for acquittal. The jury was precluded from returning a manslaughter verdict by instruction of Superior Judge Crow.

Denton, weak and weary from the strenuous trial, hear himself repeatedly branded a liar and a coward by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Westwick, who opened the argument for the prosecution and pleaded for conviction for first degree murder for nearly two hours.

Mrs. Jewell Denton, wife of the defendant, fainted after she had heard her husband scathingly denounced for half an hour, while nearly 200 persons, all who could find room in the packed gallery, listened intently, seemingly unaffected by the sultry atmosphere.

DEFENSE ATTACKED

"Denton gave seven different accounts of the murder before he concocted the latest absurd theory of self-defense," Westwick argued.

He asserted that Denton told Miss Rose Baroni that the shot was fired by somebody else beside him; that he told the officers he knew nothing whatsoever about it; that he had been to Summerland; that he had taken his wife to a picture show; that he had attempted to frame an alibi with Miss Baroni before he went to the picture show after the killing; that he had had an automobile accident in which nobody was hurt, and finally that he had shot Turner after he had swung around and faced him.

DEAD MAN REVILED

Defense Attorney Butcher scathingly referred to the slain man as "a prehistoric ape, an outlaw, a savage, a gunman and a hirer of gunmen," and asserted that L. C. Buntin, who turned State's evidence, "deliberately sold his soul on the altar of justice to gain his freedom in spite of the fact that this man was the cause of saving his life." And then, Butcher said, after he had promised to return and testify for Denton, he "crept back like a dirty rat and lied."

Attorney Alfred MacDonald of Los Angeles closed the defense arguments and pleaded for acquittal on the ground that Denton had fired in necessary self-defense.

MOTORIST "TOOK HER ON LOW"

Portland Driver Forced to Shift Gears to "Get" Victim; Given Limit

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 20.—The perfect "hit and run" autoist has been found in Portland. Advanced types of the species have been discovered in many cities, but the Portland specimen has added a few frills to his performance that the others evidently have not thought of.

He is Lucien Latourell, who has been in trouble with the police on numerous occasions, and who has just been sentenced to the rock pile for running down Mrs. T. G. McClelland at a street crossing.

The testimony showed that Latourell and a companion, Mrs. Mabel Devine, were riding merrily along when they struck Mrs. McClelland. The front wheels ran over her but the driver had shot on the brakes and the car stopped as the back wheels struck her.

Latourell looked over the side of the car, and was somewhat annoyed as he saw the woman's prostrate body between the wheels. But he wasn't at a loss for a solution of the difficulty. He threw the gears into low and stepped on the gas, driving on over his victim.

Later Mrs. Devine was arrested as a witness and she signed an affidavit as to the facts.

"I am not interested in any more testimony," said Municipal Judge Ekwall soon after the trial started. "All I want to know is the limit." The limit is one year in jail and a fine of $400, both of which Latourell drew.

DRUNKEN PATRON MULCTS RAILWAY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ST. CATHERINE (Ont.) March 20.—Dr. J. E. Howe, dentist of this city, has won his case in the Supreme Court at Ottawa against the Canadian National Railway.

Howe, intoxicated and without a ticket, was put off an electric car near Niagara Falls one night in 1923. His case was dismissed when he sued the company here but the Court of Appeal gave him $1350. The railway company appealed, in turn, but lost its case. The main point involved was the liability of a railway company in putting off a car an intoxicated passenger.

HUSBAND DIES TO MAKE WIFE HAPPY

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MADRID, March 20.—In one of the strangest suicide notes on record a merchant of Carabanchel, a suburb, who found he was unable to make his wife happy, ended his life so that she could marry again and, as the letter says, find the joy in living which he could not give her.

On her second marriage the merchant, in his will, set aside a large sum of money for her.

RULING ASKED BY SHIPPING BOARD

Seek Definition of Rights in Purchase Offer

Pacific Mail Would Trade Stock for Vessels

Dollar Company's Tender of Cash Considered

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Members of the Shipping Board have asked its general counsel for a ruling on its right to enter into an agreement such as was proposed by the Pacific Mail Company yesterday for acquisition of the five President type vessels which it now operates.

The Pacific Mail Company's bid for the ships provides formation of a new corporation, $5,500,000 of the preferred stock of which would be taken over by the board in part payment for the vessels. The board would name seven of the new corporation's eleven directors. A bid by the Dollar Steamship Company for the same vessels offered to purchase them outright for $5,625,000.

OPINION RECALLED

Board members, in considering the Pacific Mail proposal, recalled that in 1923 Attorney-General Daugherty, in an opinion requested by the board, held that it did not have the right to enter into a similar agreement, and they want to know whether the present bid is likewise unacceptable.

There were some indications that both bids, on which a decision is expected late next week, might be rejected, although that of the Dollar Company has been received favorably by several board members, especially because of its provision of outright purchasing of the vessels. Other members however, are represented as questioning the policy of the Dollar Company in bidding for the vessels now operated by the Pacific Mail, while making no move to acquire five other vessels of the same type it now operates to ports in the Orient.

COMPETITION SEEN

This situation raised a question as to the advisability of selling five of the ten ships to the Dollar Company for private operation at the same time it would be operating five more, virtually in competition with its own, in behalf of the Shipping Board to the same ports.

ABBEY RITES FOR CURZON WEDNESDAY

Royal Household, Notables to Attend; Surgeon Lauds Statesman's Courage

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, March 20.—The honor of a funeral service in Westminster Abbey is to be accorded Marquis Curzon of Kedleston, one of Great Britain's most distinguished statesmen, who died this morning after a brief illness.

The ceremony will be attended by representatives of the royal household, members of both houses of Parliament and a great gathering of prominent personages in all phases of national activity.

The funeral ceremony will take place Wednesday, and immediately afterward the body will be conveyed to Kedleston, where it will be buried on Thursday.

The dead statesman, who was Lord President of the Council in the present British Cabinet, through his long occupation of the office of Secretary of Foreign Affairs and his world-wide travels, was better known abroad than almost any of the other British statesmen.

Sir Herbert Barker, a specialist in manipulative surgery, and who had known Marquis Curzon for many years, said tonight "the real tragedy in Lord Curzon's life was the incurable injury to his back received during his childhood, which rarely left him free of a dull, weary pain and doubtless did much to gradually sap his vitality. But he always rose above what would have reduced most men to chronic invalidism or irritability, and courageously continued to render the world noble services that we all must feel proud of."

Former Chicago Orchestra Head Killed by Train

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MONROVIA, March 20.—Harry Hyatt, former leader of the Hyatt-Mitz society orchestra in Chicago, was instantly killed when a freight train struck his automobile at a crossing near here this morning.

Young Hyatt, 26 years of age, had lately been made sales chief for Standard Oil in this vicinity, and was on an inspection trip when he misjudged the speed of the train. He came to California from Chicago three years ago, having been educated at Kirkwood High School, St. Louis, and Lake Forest (Ill.) University. He spent a year in the navy hospital service during the war, aboard the U.S.S. Powhatan.

The father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Hyatt, of 1344 Ogden Drive, Los Angeles, and sister Dorothy, survive. Burial will be Monday in Los Angeles.

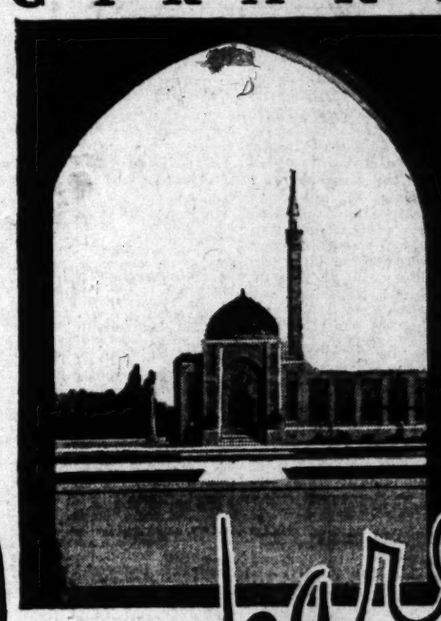
BLAME RUM RUNNERS FOR BREAKING CABLE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) March 20. Rum-runners are receiving blame for breaking the submarine cable belonging to the British Columbia Telephone Company running between Shaw and San Juan Islands. Twice within a month this cable was broken, and both times the end was thrown clear of Shaw Island.

On investigation by the cable ship Iwalani it was found that the cable had been subjected to a severe strain, having possibly held a fair sized rum-runner's anchor while a boat took the cargo from the Canadian ship.

GIRARD



compare

—the advantages of the Town of Girard, all things considered, with those of any other locality in Southern California. Consider the hillside homesites:—the marvelous view of San Fernando Valley; the fine 18-hole golf course, tennis courts and club house [full privileges to property owners without initiation fee or dues]; the convenience of city water, gas, electricity, phones; the easy accessibility to Hollywood, downtown Los Angeles and the beach cities by fine wide boulevards [Ventura Boulevard, Topanga Canyon Drive and the famous Mulholland Skyline Drive which cuts through the property]; the very low prices and easy terms.

Consider too the names of the men who are standing back of this development—and the hundreds of thousands of dollars of improvements and beautification features that are going in. A million dollar program of improvements is scheduled for the present year.

BARS ALIEN OWNERSHIP OF BORDER

Mexican Law Forbidding Holding of Boundary by Foreigners Reaffirmed

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, March 20.—The Mexican government has definitely stated its attitude toward the restriction on foreigners resident in the country owning land or porperty within a radius of 100 kilometers from the border and fifty kilometers from the coast line.

Although this question is amply covered and explained in Article 27 of the constitution, and has been the subject of much debate and speculation among oil companies, the Ministry of the Interior, in an official statement, negatived a prospective Mexican seller who sought to transfer property within the barred zone to a foreign citizen under the belief that, as such property was to be used exclusively for residential and commercial purposes, the constitutional ruling would not apply.

The reply from the Ministry was that permission for such acquisition on the part of the foreigner could not be granted by the government, and that any title to such property would not be considered legal or valid. However, many foreign capitalized companies do in fact, hold properties within the exempted zone, and that they are immune on account of having taken the precaution of registering under Mexican law, thus becoming Mexican concerns, although it is well-known that the money in them has come from other sources.

NEW LINGO BY SHOE TOSSERS

Fresh Sport Vernacular Discovered Through Valley Game

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

RESEDA, March 20.—The growing popularity of horse-shoe pitching games in San Fernando Valley, is causing the introduction of a new sort of sport-writers' lingo by writers on various valley newspapers. The new gibberish may take its place in time with newspaper golf, baseball, tennis, box-fighting and other sporty lingoes.

An account in the home paper here today stated:

"Charlie Walker today returned from a gallop into the stables of the horse-shoe jockeys at Van Nuys. He brought back fetlocks, manes, tails and a pair of iron boots as trophies. He trotted a pace with A. A. Kunert and jumped the hurdles three times. Walker only rates about fifth in the local barnyard, while Kunert brags about being the best twister-twirler in his paddock. If he wants to keep up his neighing he will have to do better iron oxword chunking if he intends to come to Reseda and hammer on the best anvils here."

The best thing about the new lingo is that all horse-shoe tossers in this section seem to know what it's all about, asserting it's as clear as a clean peg.

BABY DIES IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENT

Minister's Car Collides at Street Intersection With Another Automobile

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, March 20. — The infant daughter of Mrs. T. J. Watson of Fresno was instantly killed and the mother and a small brother and Mrs. B. K. Long narrowly escaped death here today when an automobile in which they were riding collided with another driven by Rev. W. G. Fletcher, pastor of the White Temple Methodist Church here.

The cars met at an intersection which they approached at right angles to one another, and despite frantic efforts of both drivers crashed and both overturned, virtually demolishing both machines. The car driven by Mrs. Long crushed the skull of the infant and pinned the other beneath it. The infant was thrown from Mrs. Long's car by the impact, striking on its head, crushing the skull, causing instant death.

The 3-year-old son of Mrs. Watson suffered concussion of the brain and severe scalp lacerations, and both women suffered severely from shock. Rev. Fletcher suffered both from concussion and shock, but was not seriously injured.

Deputy sheriffs who investigated the accident said they believed it to have been unavoidable.

COMBINE TO STUDY QUESTION OF FOGS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, March 20.—Research which is expected to result indefinite methods of predicting the coming and going of fogs off the Southern California coast will be conducted jointly by the naval air station, the United States government Weather Bureau, and the Scripps Biological Institute. The first of a series of conferences on the subject has been held at the North Island air-dome.

Dean Blake, head of the local weather office, said today it was the consensus of opinion that a correlation of the facilities of these agencies would make possible definite knowledge of fog. Pilot balloons and airplanes will obtain scientific data on air and fog conditions, water temperatures and air conditions over the ocean will be studied by the Biological Institute, and the weather office will add such data as it is able to secure. The information obtained will then be placed at the disposal of shipping interests.

WOMAN AUTOIST HAS HARROWING ACCIDENT

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

EL MONTE, March 20.—Mrs. Ella Brown, El Monte agent for the Los Angeles Times, narrowly escaped death or serious injury yesterday morning when she ran into an electric train, while driving north on Lexington street in a small closed car.

Mrs. Brown states that she did not see nor hear the train until she was just at the track, but instantly turned with the train, and was wedged between the crossing sign and the train when it came to a stop. Neither Mrs. Brown nor Harold Choens, high school student who was riding with her, was injured other than being badly shaken.

PASSING OF PIONEER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, March 20.—Frank R. Whittaker, aged 70, a resident of Kern county for twenty years, died at his home, 613 Jefferson street, early today after an illness of several weeks. Whittaker leaves many friends in Kern county, where he was well known. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Whittaker.

NEIGHBORS TESTIFY

Court Hears Character Witnesses in Tulare County Mountain Feud Murder Trial

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VISALIA, March 20.—Fred C. McAllister had rather a quarrelsome disposition and on several occasions had trouble with his neighbors, including A. N. Harding, having threatened to "get" the latter as result of their differences, according to character witnesses today in the murder trial of Harding for shooting and killing McAllister, January 30, last.

Harding's character was painted in more favorable colors.

Greater portion of the day was given to examining character witnesses, neighbors of the two men from the Milo region east of here. McAllister's death was the climax of a mountain fued of many years arising over the use of an old trail which led over McAllister's property and was a short cut to the Harding mill further up in the mountains.

This road is said to have been originally a "goat trail", then later used by the government and by the neighbors generally. McAllister is said to have objected to its use, declaring that cattle wandered into his hay, onto his property and did various damage.

Harding and Samis, a neighbor, had gone to replace a bridge over a ditch on this road that they might used the trail on the morning of the 30th, according to report. McAllister came and removed it, then hiding in the bushes. The prosecution seeks to prove that Harding shot McAllister from ambush, while the defense claims that McAllister shot twice before Harding fired at all. Officers said that the condition of McAllister's gun indicated it had not been used for some time, while the defense expects to prove the contrary.

Witnesses in the stand today were Harry Amick, George U. Wray, C. F. Flagg, Harding's partner, and first on the scene after the shooting; C. P. Hodge, justice of the peace, Springville township; Clem Simpson, constable; George Dillon, Morris Gill, Blain Hodges, C. H. Smith, deputy sheriff, Visalia; T. B. Crook, C. H. Cramer, C. R. Slocum and other neighbors.

Jack Harding, father of the accused, testified that on one occasion, when he and his son were driving cattle over the trail, that McAllister threatened them with a two-bitted ax, that he swore he would "get" them and ran back to his house. A few moments later they heard shots.

Court adjourned at 4:30 p.m. until 9 o'clock in the morning for a half-day session. Following examination of two more witnesses Harding will take the stand.

VAN NUYS DETECTIVE FINDS STOLEN GOODS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, March 20.—A bit of clever detective work by Detective Lieutenant Neustetter of the valley police division yesterday caused Mrs. J. G. Showalter of West Sherman Way to recover two watches stolen from her home last Tuesday. According to police report, the home was robbed about 3:30 p.m. by someone entering a rear door.

Neustetter took charge of the case and by following several slight clews later arrested as a suspect C. Morgan Burchfield, Van Nuys, a collector on one of the newspaper routes here. When questioned sharply, police say Burchfield confessed and took Neustetter to West Vanowen street, near Balboa avenue, where the missing watches, valued at $75, were found under a bridge. Later they were returned to Mrs. Showalter. Burchfield is in the Los Angeles City Jail.

JUDGE DENOUNCES OBSTINATE JUROR

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, March 20.—The jury in the second trial of Benjamin Bellomi, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl, was unable to agree late today and was discharged by Judge J. W. Mahon after he had delivered a scathing denunciation as a rebuke to one juror who is reported to have opposed the view of eleven others who favored conviction. The judge forever barred him from jury duty in his court.

Police Raid Uncovers Big Whisky Still

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, March 20.—One of the most complete liquor-manufacturing plants in Southern California was put out of business yesterday when a seventy-five-gallon still was captured in the premises occupied by Joe Peterson, Rosedale Court, and when 1000 gallons of mash, contained in twenty-eight barrels, and a large quantity of liquor were also taken.

The still was operating at full blast when the Glendale police, led by Chief J. D. Fraser, entered the Peterson residence and arrested him. Peterson attempted to bolt by the back door, but retreated when Officer Ralph Baugh halted him at the point of a gun.

The mash and most of the liquor were poured out on the ground, the barrels and a number of bottles were smashed and the still was taken to police headquarters along with Peterson.

Peterson pleaded guilty this morning before Judge Frank H. Lowe to a charge of possessing liquor and was fined $500, and on the charge of manufacturing liquor was bound over to the Superior Court under $1000 bond.

ARREST STREET BEGGAR

GENEROUS CITIZEN GIVES MONEY TO BUY SHOW TICKET

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ONTARIO, March 20.—When Joe Olson, age 34, took some money which he had begged from H. L. Baker, a carpenter, on the street for the asserted purpose of getting something to eat and used it to pay his way into a Euclid avenue motion picture theater the latter resented it and promptly called patrolman N. C. Allen of the Ontario police force.

Following his arrest in the theater, Olson was found to have about a dollar in change in his pockets. When he appeared in Judge George R. Holbrook's court this afternoon the man at first entered a plea of not guilty but later experienced a change of heart and admitted his offense. He declared the last time he had worked had been in Utah four months ago and had been unable to find a job since. Judge Holbrook decided that a job on the county road gang would not be amiss and sentenced him to 30 days of such service.

FORTUNE IN FRUIT IN CORONA DISTRICT

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

CORONA, March 20.—According to A. E. Lang, manager of the Queen Colony Fruit Exchange, citrus growers of this community will reap a harvest this season from their orange crop.

Freedom from frost, uniformity in size of fruit and excellent keeping quality have created a ready market and although about 60 per cent of the oranges have been shipped from local packing-houses the growers have received more than $200,000 more for their fruit now than they had at this time last year and the total for the season will far exceed that of last year, which was $1,400,000.

Mr. Lang states that the growers will probably realize approximately $1,750,000 for their oranges this year and those growers outside of the exchange will probably receive $250,000, making the value of the citrus crop for Corona total approximately $2,000,000.

Hold ex-Officer Under Terms of Mann Act

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ONTARIO, March 20.—Word was received here this afternoon that Orrin R. Welch, former Ontario police officer, is held by Federal officers in El Paso, Tex., in default of $1500 bail on a charge of violating the Mann White Slave Act, and Mrs. Olive Ross, wife of Jay M. Ross, Upland business man, with whom he is said to have eloped, is reported held as a material witness in lieu of $500 bail.

Welch, whose age is given as 40 years, is said to have a wife and several children at 1137 East A street here. He is reported to have recently joined a local church during revival services. Several year ago he was a member of the night police force here.

Mrs. Ross is 23 years of age. According to reports from El Paso, the pair have waived preliminary hearing and are awaiting trial. Welch is said to have admitted taking Mrs. Ross from California.

RELATIVES KILLED IN EASTERN STORM

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

REDLANDS, March 20.—Cliff and Lee Hicks, who came here several months ago from McLeansboro, Ill., left today for their old home. In this morning's casualty list in The Los Angeles Times were the names of their mother and sister and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Hollister. The two boys have not heard from their relatives and decided this morning to return home.

Mrs. H. H. Burch, whose husband is the manager of the Chamber of Commerce at Murphysboro, was relieved this morning to receive a telegram from him saying, "Escaped injury, happened to be in Springfield." He then tells of his office being a total wreck and how he would probably have been killed had he been at home. Mrs. Burch has been spending the winter here.

BUILD COTTON GIN FOR KERN PLANTERS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, March 20.—The Herman Manhold ranch at Shafter has been sold to Cormack and Fowler, who will erect a cotton gin on the premises almost immediately. In fact, the preliminaries of staking out for the building have been completed.

The gin will be a $22,000 investment and will bring another cotton market near home for Shafter cotton growers. It is said the railroad will run a spur into the gin, which will be built on the corner across from the Zimmerman home. The Manhold property comprises 57 acres.

JUNGLE PRINCE TO TALK TO STUDENTS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, March 20.—Prince J. E. Blayechettai, A.M., D.D., F.R.S., of Abyssinia, East Africa, will lecture at Van Nuys High School next week. The Prince is a native Abyssinian. He says he wandered in the jungles of Africa for years before he was converted to Christianity by an Englishman who captured him. He has learned to speak English within the last eighteen years. His talk will be centered on the jungle heathen he knew in his youth. He is 57 years of age.

MUST BEGIN SENTENCE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, March 20. — William J. Jones, former Banning restaurateur, convicted twice on a statutory charge preferred by his 15-year-old stepdaughter, will lease for San Quentin Saturday or Sunday in the custody of Sheriff's officers. Superior Judge W. H. Ellis today denied Jones's motion for a writ of probable cause, and also his appeal for a stay of execution, and ordered his sentence to stand. Jones made the two motions in an attempt to stave off serving his sentence pending his intended appeal of the cause to a higher court.

STILL PERMIT JAYWALKING

Pasadena Commission Does Not Favor Change

Boulevard Stops Adopted in Crown City

To Use Colored Bricks for Traffic Marks

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, March 20.—An ordinance creating boulevard "stops" for motorists at several locations in the city was passed and a jaywalking ordinance similar to the one in force in Los Angeles was defeated at a meeting of the Pasadena Traffic Committee today.

The jay walking ordinance was voted down at the request of Chief of Police Charles Kelley, who told the traffic heads that it would be impossible to enforce such an ordinance in Pasadena under the present conditions. Chief Kelley asserted that a large force of extra officers would be required and automatic traffic signals at intersections would have to be installed before the police could efficiently enforce this ordinance.

Boulevard stop signs will be installed at a number of Pasadena's most dangerous intersections, among them being Orange Grove avenue and North Fair Oaks avenue, the intersection at which so many fatal accidents have occurred.

It was also decided to used colored vitrified brick for traffic marks in the street instead of paint. Paint, it was asserted, had proved inefficient for this use.

Another proposed ordinance which would make it unlawful for anyone under the age of 21 years to drive a commercial vehicle in this city, and which would provide a physical examination for drivers of all delivery trucks and which would also impound cars for traffic violations, was declared illegal by James H. Howard, City Attorney. The attorney declared the difficulties would be too great to pass an ordinance of this nature.

BOY PREVENTS WRECK

Youthful Hero Tells Details to Company Officials

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

EL MONTE, March 20.—Details of how George Skidmore, age 13, a sixth-grade pupil at the Columbia school, thwarted the attempt of two men to wreck a Pacific Electric limited on February 28 became known here today when a railroad detective called at the Columbia school and made inquiry concerning the identity of the boy.

The boy's father is proprietor of a lunchroom on West Main street. After averting the wreck just west of town George hurried home and said nothing about the deed.

When questioned by the detective the boy related the circumstances surrounding the attempt to wreck the train.

"I had gone down along the river bottom to get the head of a cow's skeleton for our boys' club," said he. "When I got opposite the Los Angeles Creamery plant I was walking along the track and I heard two men talking. They were down the bank on one side of the track and so did not see me. One of them said something about 'we'll get Glendale next.'

"I hid in the brush back of them and saw them climb up and pile rocks on the rails. They put newspapers over the rocks. I saw the train coming so I ran through the brush toward it and held out my hand. The train stopped and I told the motorman. He ran up to the rocks and stopped. Then he threw them off the track and went on. I went home and didn't see the men again. I didn't tell anyone about it, as I didn't think they would pay much attention."

After quizzing the lad the detective told him that the Pacific Electric would probably present him with a life pass over its entire lines as a reward.

ORANGE HARVEST

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTERVILLE, March 20.—Harvesting of the first valencias of the season is believed to be under way now in the C. H. Weed groves, east of Porterville, with a large crew of workmen. So far as is known this marks the first picking of valencias of the season. Weed declares the fruit is splendid for eating and ready for marketing. This is somewhat in advance of the usual season.

Cleanup of navel oranges has started in the Success district. Picking was stopped in the foothills in January just as the harvest of navels in other sections was completed. Fruit left on the trees has improved in size and quality and frost damage has been nil.

There is only a small shipment to be handled, which will probably be sent out in truck lots and sold to Pacific Coast markets. The fruit is being handled through the Tule River Citrus Association.

KILLED IN AUTO SMASH

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, March 20.—Mrs George Leon, 55 years of age, wife of the Southern Pacific agent at San Joaquin, was killed near that place today when the steering gear of an automobile in which she was riding with Mrs. George Huffer broke, causing the car to overturn. Mrs. Huffer escaped with minor injuries. Mrs. Leon's skull was crushed by the overturning car and she died a short time later, despite immediate medical attention.

CONTINUE NEILAN CASE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, March 20.—Marshall Neilan, Hollywood motion-picture director, who was arrested while driving through the city at fifty-five miles an hour, failed to appear in the Pasadena Police Court today when his case was called. He was represented by an attorney, however, and gained a continuance until the 28th inst.

ANSWERS TO CHARGES OF GIRL MINOR

Ontario Man Arrested for Crime Said to Have Occurred in December, 1923

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ONTARIO, March 20.—Charged with a serious statutory offense against Eunice Hawkins, minor daughter of Samuel Hawkins, South Campus-avenue rancher, M. W. Wheeler, age 27, a garage mechanic, was held for preliminary examination following his arraignment in Judge George R. Holbrook's court.

In lieu of $2000 bail, Wheeler was placed in the custody of the Sheriff until the preliminary, the date for which has not yet been fixed.

The offense with which Wheeler is charged is alleged in the complaint to have been committed on December 10, 1923. The warrant for his arrest was issued July 18, 1924, but efforts of the Ontario police and the Sheriff's office to locate the man are said to have proven fruitless until yesterday, when he was taken into custody in Los Angeles.

Wheeler emphatically denied his guilt when in court this afternoon and asserted that he had never been out alone with the Hawkins girl in his life. He admitted having been with her with a party of young people on several occasions. Wheeler also denied having made any attempt to avoid arrest, declaring that he had been employed in Claremont, San Bernardino and Los Angeles, ever since the date of the issue of the warrant, of whose existence he learned only yesterday. Wheeler was arrested in Los Angeles by Manuel Joseph, investigator for the District Attorney's office.

BAD-CHECK CHARGE DISMISSED BY COURT

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, March 20.—Being unable to identify Edith Floyd as the person who had passed a worthless check, the charge against Miss Floyd was dismissed by Judge Edward Miller, after he had heard the evidence in the case. A woman called at one of the shoe stores in Watts and purchased a pair of shoes costing $4.55. A check on the Citizens State Bank of Long Beach was presented in payment, this calling for $20. The purchase price of the shoes was deducted from the amount which the check called for and the balance in cash was given. Later Miss Floyd was arrested but during the hearing of the case, the judge decided that the evidence was insufficient to hold the woman and the charge was dismissed.

HEAR HELEN KELLER

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, March 20.—Miss Helen Keller, world famous blind and deaf girl, will address a group of Pasadenans at the Hotel Vista del Arroyo tomorrow evening. During her stay in Pasadena Miss Keller will be the guest of Dr. John Willis Baer, prominent banker and member of the national committee of the National Foundation for the Blind.

It is in behalf of this organization that Miss Keller is making her western tour. She will also make addresses at the Hotel Huntington and Hotel Maryland before leaving this city.

MOVE TO SETTLE WATER QUESTION

Users in Hemet District Call Meeting

Syndicate May Merge Old Companies

Rush Decision to Prevent Possible Shortage

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, March 20.—Two measures said to be of the utmost importance to water users of the Hemet-San Jacinto district may be decided tomorrow by taking a decisive step toward the merging of all water companies in the Hemet Valley.

A mass meeting of all water users is to be held at the Hemet Union High School auditorium at 8 p.m. Saturday, called by the provisional board of directors of the Hemet-San Jacinto Water Company. Among the speakers will be W. G. Irving of Riverside, who is attorney for the users. He will outline the subscription agreement which has already been approved by the syndicate of Los Angeles men, who hold an option on the Lake Hemet Water Company and also by the directors of the Fruit Vale Mutual Water Company. At this meeting an attempt will be made to obtain the signatures of as many water users as possible.

If the owners of at least 8000 acres of land in this district agree to the merger, a meeting will be held to employ an engineer who will make a survey of the whole situation and report back to the signers, who will then be given ten days in which to withdraw their signatures if they so desire, it was stated last night.

At 1:30 p.m. Saturday, stockholders of the Fruit Vale Mutual Water Company will meet in Dunham's Theater, San Jacinto, where an effort will be made by the directors to obtain the signatures of the stockholders.

Inasmuch as the directors of this organization have already approved the measure, it is expected that most of the stockholders will sign the agreement.

There is a considerable need for action in the matter, according to those interested in the proposition, in order to start work in time to avoid a water shortage during the later part of the summer, as well as to present a united protest against the proposed allotment of water rights.

HUNTINGTON PARK LIMITS EXTENDED

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, March 20.—Huntington Park's boundary limits will be extended a few blocks to the east as a result of an annexation election which was held yesterday, there being ninety-five votes cast, sixty-five in favor of annexation and thirty against it. The territory which was voted into the city is bounded on the west by Arbutus street, on the east by Boyle avenue, on the north by Slauson avenue, and on the south by Baker avenue. The new territory will become a part of this city when the Trustees hold their next session, and the proper proceedings are put through by the board.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

En obsequio a nuestros numerosos amigos de habla española, y para beneficio de los lectores americanos de "The Times" que estudien esa lengua, publicamos diariamente esta columna en castellano, con un extracto de las más importantes noticias de última hora.

Buena parte del futuro progreso de Los Angeles, que es la metrópoli de los Estados Unidos que más cercana se halla a territorio latino-americano, habrá de depender de las relaciones que logremos establecer con nuestras hermanas, las repúblicas del sur. Para que lleguen a ser enteramente cordiales, no hay nada tan importante como que nuestros ciudadanos se familiaricen con la lengua castellana. Tan se dan cuenta de este hecho nuestros habitantes, que hay al presente más de 25,000 personas que estudian español en Los Angeles. A ellas les conviene leer todos los días esta columna, en la que encontrarán español correcto y enteramente moderno.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Noticias de Washington

WASHINGTON, Marzo 20.—Han continuado en el congreso las audiencias sobre las concesiones de tierras del Pacífico del Norte.

El Senador La Follette dió muy poca importancia a su substitución como presidente de una comisión del senado.

Del extranjero han llegado a Washington innumerables expresiones de condolencia por las muertes que ocasionó el huracán en el oeste central.

Ya se anunciaron los planes para botar el 7 de Abril, en Camden, New Jersey, el buque-parque de aviones.

El negociado del censo hace subir la producción de algodón en los Estados Unidos, para 1924-1925, a 13.618,751 balas.

El asunto del Conde Michael Karolyi ha sido llevado por sus amigos ante el Ministerio de Estado y la Casa Blanca.

Anunciése en la Casa Blanca que el Presidente Coolidge iría este verano de vacaciones a la Nueva Inglaterra.

El Ministro Davis va a tomar en consideración la solicitud de la madre de Charles Chaplin para permanecer en este país después del 26 de Marzo.

Funerales de las Víctimas de la Gran Tragedia

CHICAGO, Marzo 20. — Sudillinois e Indiana, junto con las demás regiones del área azotada por la tormenta, y ayudados por cuantas agencias caritativas existen en el país, consagraron hoy sus energías a la dura tarea de restablecer algo que se parezca al orden en el caos indescriptible que dejó a su paso el ciclón del miércoles.

Los que recobraron hoy sus muertos, o les dieron sepultura o los prepararon para dárselo. Otros, bajo la dirección de los piadosos obreros de la Cruz Roja, están todavía escarbando febrilmente en los montones de humeantes escombros, con una sombra de esperanza de encontrar aún vivos a sus queridos deudos. Y se ven grupos de algunos, que contemplan sus hogares devastados y hacen un cómputo mental de las pérdidas sufridas.

Según los datos más fidedignos, los muertos identificados hasta este momento en Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky y Tennessee, montan a 580. No se han recibido datos de Missouri, donde se dice que perecieron unos veinte.

Los primeros funerales han sido celebrados en De Soto, Illinois, donde se dió sepelio a treinta y cinco víctimas en dos grupos.

En Murphysboro, Illinois, han estado trabajando todo el día cuarenta hombres cavando tumbas para inhumar setenta víctimas, que bajaron a la fosa antes del oscurecer. Si para el domingo han podido recobrarse todos los cuerpos de entre las ruinas, Murphysboro celebrará un servicio fúnebre general por todas las víctimas. La escasez de ataúdes y de otras cosas necesarias para las inhumaciones hace que éstas hayan sido por grupos.

Los Turcos Movilizan su Ejército

CONSTANTINOPLA, Marzo 20.—El estado mayor turco está concentrando un gran ejército para sofocar la revuelta kurda.

Además del ejército activo de más de 100,000 hombres, el estado mayor turco está movilizando otros 100,000 o más, en la región de Anatolia, hasta Angora y Konia. Ya ha enviado por lo menos 75,000 hombres contra los rebeldes.

Como los secuaces del Jeque Said llevan consigo coranes y tremolan la bandera verde del profeta, el gobierno está haciendo intensa propaganda republicana entre sus tropas. Los sublevados, que más que en el movimiento kurdo nacionalista, están interesados, al parecer, en el bandidaje, ya se han extendido por el noroeste hasta Varto, a medio camino entre Mouch y Erzeroum, y por el sudeste, hasta Severk. El general en jefe turco ha establecido poderosas fuerzas de infantería en los cuatro lados de esta área montañosa, y ha iniciado un ataque simultáneo contra los rebeldes.

NOTAS LOCALES

Sala de Juzgado Condenada por Antihigiénica

El comisionado de sanidad de esta ciudad, señor Parrish, ha manifestado que las condiciones sanitarias de la sala de la juez de policía Georgia P. Bullock son intolerables, y ayer notificó a la referida funcionaria judicial que las desocupara el próximo miércoles a más tardar. La sala de la juez Bullock es un departamento provisional, que se ha arreglado en el último piso de la Comisaría Central.

Dijo el doctor Parrish que había tomado esta resolución, en vista de que la Dirección de Obras Públicas no había proporcionado otro local, como él se lo había interesado en su comunicación del 4 del corriente.

La juez Bullock recibió con positivo gusto la orden de salirse del juzgado que ocupa, y declaró que ya ella y otros funcionarios de la sala se vienen quejando desde hace tiempo de las condiciones insalubres del local. El principal inconveniente de la sala de juzgado a que nos referimos es que tiene ventilación suficiente para unas diez personas, y hay veces en que se acumulan doscientas en tan estrecho local. Agregó la juez Bullock que se desprenden allí olores insufribles, y que también hay graves peligros de incendio en el departamento.

DEPORTES

Tennis

El equipo de tennis de la Universidad de Stanford va a afrontar en el primer partido de una serie a los Leones de Loyola, la tarde de hoy, a las 2, en las canchas de la preparatoria de Los Angeles.

En su match del jueves, contra la Universidad de Sudcalifornia, los Leones demostraron insuitada fuerza y versatilidad. Por lo tanto, se cree lleven alguna probabilidad de batir a los raqueteros del equipo de Cardenales. El as de éstos, Cranston Holman, va a ser una espina en el costado de los de Loyola, por más que Saunders le hará frente con resolución. Está anunciado que Bob Gates se liará con Hal Overfelt, de lo que quiza resulte el mejor match de la tarde, desde el punto de vista de los espectadores.

El empresario Garretson Greighton dice que los billetes de entrada se han estado vendiendo muy bien; pero quedan todavía buen número de buenos asientos.

FREE PORT FACILITIES IN CANAL ZONE

Order Affecting Balboa, Cristobal Docks Effective on April First

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BALBOA, March 20. The Canal Governor issued an order yesterday offering free port facilities at the Cristobal and Balboa docks and warehouses, which will mean the Canal Zone becoming a large distributing center for Central and South America. The order becomes effective on April 1.

The government-owned Panama Railroad docks at Cristobal and Balboa will receive and store cargo for orders under the same conditions covering the transfer of other cargo. Cargo so received, which must not consist of explosives or liquor, may be delivered and reforwarded by the consignee, agent or owner in any quantity desired, as he directs.

The railroad will not insure cargo so stored, and shipments made from the docks to the Panama republic will be subject to the usual duties. Distribution covers unbroken packages, but not repacking. The governor's circular states the railroad is a New York corporation and its stock is owned by the United States government, but it has the rights and liabilities of a corporation.

SCHOOL ELECTION

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

BELL, March 20.—Voters of the Bell school district will hold an election on the 27th inst for selection of a member to the school board, the term of Mrs. Ruth A. Cunningham expiring on April 1. Mrs. Cunningham is a candidate for re-election, with Charles L. Ludt opposing.

Porto Bello Gold

By Arthur D. Howden Smith

Synopsis: Robert Ormerod, son of a merchant, and Peter Corlaer, a fur trader, are abducted by Robert's grandmuncle, a notorious pirate, Capt. Rip Rap. Together with his pirate ally, Capt. John Flint, they retire to the pirate rendezvous, O'Donnell, an Irish engineer, in the pay of Spain, together with his daughter, accompanies a Spanish treasure ship whose course he has disloyally revealed to the pirate. Flint's men, impatient in the waiting, indulge in brawls cut short by Rip Rap's plan to have them erect a fort on the pirate island. To insure Flint his proportion of the treasure casks he demands and obtains Robert as a hostage. Corlaer insists upon accompanying Robert to the pirate vessel; Rip Rap grants Flint in delivering his hostage; leaving Robert aboard Flint's ship.

Darby McGraw's red head shone in the lanthorn-light.

"Whisht, but it's Mister Bob again! Now ain't this the mighty forchune to have ye with us! Ha' ye left the old devil yon for good?"

He nodded his torch of hair at the vague hull of the James. Flint exploded with raucous laughter.

"'The old devil yon,'" he repeated. "——— me, but it takes Darby to put the right word to a man. 'Tis what he is, blast him for the ——— ——— he sets himself up to be!"

Darby proffered him a huge silver beaker of rum.

"I fetched this from the cabin after ye, captain," said the Irish boy in his wheedling brogue. "Troth, say I to meself, if the captain must talk with Murray he'll ha' a bad taste in the mouth o' him to be washed out, and I'd best ha' a sup o' sugar-juice handy for his needin's."

Flint seized the rum, threw back his head and drained the fiery stuff as if it had been wine.

"You said right, my lad," he answered sourly. "And I'm thinking I'll maybe need all the luck that red head o' yours can bring me. Where's Billy Bones?"

"Dhrunk under the cabin table," returned Darby promptly.

"Gut him for the souse he is! And Long John?"

"Sure, captain dear, 'twas yourself sent him ashore to keep the lads up to the fort from carvin' theirselves."

"So I did. Well, I'll see to the prisoners myself then."

"Pris'ners!" protested Darby, wide-eyed. "Troth, himself is the nevvy or what-not o' the old devil. For why'll ye be makin' him a pris'ner? More by token, he was me friend in New York, and Peter too. Grand pirates they'll be, if ye do but give 'em time."

"Prisoners I said, and prisoners they are!" glowered Flint. "D'ye know what a hostage is, Darby?"

"One that'll be by-ordinary wicked?" answered Darby.

"More'n likely," assented Flint with a pardonable chuckle. "Well, these is hostages, Darby. Likewise prisoners."

"Och, captain, ye won't be hard on Master Bob! He's as kindly a young gentleman as ever I see—and Peter there is a grand fightin' feller, too. Ye should hear the taies they tell o' his murtherin' and slayin' with the red Injuns."

"I'll be as hard as they make me be," returned Flint. "But for tonight I must have them safe."

Darby plucked at his sleeve.

"I'll say naught if ye must put Peter away—though a good friend I ha' called him. But be aisy wi' Master Bob and let me take him below for a sup for old times' sake. Troth, there's no harm in nature in him. And if he has a chance at education in the right way 'tis a fine, brave pirate we'll make o' him that can fight two men at once wi' knife and tomahawk."

Flint's eyes narrowed.

"Ho-ho!" he exclaimed. "Is that the kind of cockerel ye are, Master Ormerod, or whatever ye may be called? I'm main thankful for the tip-off, Darby. I knew Buckskin was dangerous, but I'd never ha' been on my guard for the young 'un, except for you. Gut me, if I take chances wi' two such champions!"

I saw that Darby was doing more harm than good by his sponsoring of me, so I spoke up for myself.

"You need not take what the boy says for truth," I said. "He means well, but——"

"And if I didn't see ye knock the hatchet from Tom Trumbull's hand the while ye were fending Dick Varle's knife—and could easily ha' stabbed him, fightin' earnest, as Peter said—may I be hornswoggled for a lubber!" proclaimed Darby indignantly.

"That's enough for me," snarled Flint. "No lies, if it please you, my fine gentleman! The time may come we'll put your boasts to——"

"I have not boasted."

"Keep your tongue behind your teeth! Hold still the two o' ye, or I'll give ye a bellyful o' pickling-brine."

He signaled up a dozen or so of the nearest of his men, all of whom had been observing us with a mingling of interest and hostility.

"We'll put these knife-fighters in the lazaret for the night," he announced. "They're a desperate pair, and we'll watch 'em close until they are under hatches."

"Oh, whirra, whirra!" sobbed Darby. "Do but see what I did to ye with my tongue that wags from the middle both ways! Sure, captain darlin', ye don't need to hold against Master Bob what I said. All he seeks is to be a grand, murtherin' pirate. Troth, we talked o' nothin' else in the old days."

"Don't be foolish, Darby," I said.

And to Flint, as the group closed around us—

"Captain Murray bade you——"

"I know, I know!" he interrupted impatiently. "The treatment you receive will be whatever you earn for yourselves. I'm an easy skipper, as any man aboard the Walrus will tell ye, my lad. But you are my stakes in a rich venture, and I'll be ——— ——— if I take any chance on losing ye or your fat friend as goes with you. So stow your gab, and come wi' me willingly, and no blows struck or feelings injured. Tomorrow the James will ha' sailed, and then we'll deal a new hand all around."

His narrow green eyes, squinting out on either side of his thin nose, surveyed me with a kind of appraisal.

"I have an idea we may yet find interests in common," he concluded. "But that's to be seen."

Peter, at my elbow, spoke for the first time.

"Ja, ja. We go. I hafe a wish to sleep."

"Sleep, is it?" jeered Flint. "That ye shall, my hearty! Come along o' me."

He led us aft, the others following, Darby in the rear almost in tears. We entered the poop quarters, stumbling over empty bottles, broken platters, discarded garments, boots, articles of equipment and weapons. At the end of a dark passage Flint unhooked a lanthorn from a wall and one of his men heaved up a trapdoor. Below was a pool of shadows that scuttled and swayed as if to escape the feeble light. There was an odor, also, none too pleasant.

I drew back.

"Certes, you could lodge us securely otherwhere than this," I protested.

"No, no," answered Flint. "There's not a door aboard hath a lock would hold Darby, let alone you two. I'm sorry for ye, lad, if it's no fault o' yours that you're here; but for tonight at least you must lie in the lazaret. Come, come; don't make me use force. Here, ye shall ha' the lanthorn to keep the rats off, and in the morning we'll manage different."

Peter pushed past me, and took the lanthorn from his hand.

"We go, ja," he squeaked. "Come, Bob."

I followed him without another word, already wondering at his extraordinary docility.

"Do ye see your way, my masters?" Flint called after us, mimicking the servile tones of a tavernkeeper to the considerable amusement of his body-guard. "Mind the low roof, an' it please ye, sirs. The beds ha' not been aired, but then we had no expectation o' your company."

A guffaw of rough merriment, pierced by Darby's Irish wail, and the trapdoor crashed down. A hasp clacked home in a bolt, and footsteps thudded away. I sat on the bottom-most step of the ladder and peered hopelessly around me as Peter, swinging the lanthorn as high as the low deck-room allowed, prowled around the limited area of our prison.

A black rat as large as a cat rushed across my feet. Squeaks and rustlings sounded in the corners. There was the lap-lap-lap of water against the vessel's hull, the creaking of the rudder and the strange moaning noises which any ship emits, whether at anchor or under way.

Peter returned to the ladder-foot, deposited the lanthorn on the floor and plumped himself beside it.

"What you t'ink, Bob?" he said blandly. "Do we stay or get oudt?"

I frowned at him.

"'Tis no joke," I snapped. "I had reasons for——"

"Ja," he agreed. "Der little gal."

The Dutchman said so little and revealed such scant interest in what went on about him that he frequently surprised even those who knew him best, as my father never tired of maintaining. He had not spoken, up to this evening, of Murray's plan to employ me as a hostage to conciliate Flint. He had never suggested that he would accompany me. He had never betrayed by any hint a supposition that I might prefer to remain aboard the Royal James during the cruise after the treasure-ship. But on all these points he had done considerable thinking as he now proceeded to demonstrate.

"How did you know!" I exclaimed.

"I know," he replied with his simpering imitation of a laugh. "You t'ink der little gal is a good gal. You t'ink it is not good dot she be taken aboard der James. You want to be there andt be sure dot she is safe."

"'Tis true as gospel, Peter," I groaned. "I hoped to the last this ridiculous plan of Murray's would fall through in some manner, but the man has a damnable determination."

"Ja," agreed Peter. "I t'ink he takes der treasure-ship, Bob. Dot's easy."

"Easy? I see not how!"

"Ja, it is easy to take her. But after comes his troubles. Much treasure is bad for pirates. We hafe troubles after."

"We!" We won't be there. Very likely we'll be dead, Peter, slain in one of the Walrus's knife frays."

"Suppose we get oudt tonight," answered Peter persuasively. "Suppose we get oudt and back to der James. Ja?"

I looked around me skeptically at the heavy planking and stout timbers of the sides and for'ard bulkhead.

"It can't be done. 'Twould take a week to break out of this—and the James will be sailing in five or six hours."

"Neen," said Peter. "We get oudt—any time we get oudt."

"How?" I demanded.

He picked up the lanthorn and led me for'ard to the bulkhead. The light showed that one of the oaken planks was slightly sprung, leaving an infinitesimal brack between its edge and the uppermost of its fellows.

"Are you planning to pry that off with your finger-nails?" I taunted him.

"Neen," he answered, and conducted me to a corner whence the rats scudded as we approached.

He stirred his foot amongst some rubbish and turned up several long, wrought-iron spikes, such as are used to bolt together the heavier ship-timbers.

"Dot's plenty," he said.

I could hardly control the gush of relief that welled up in me.

"I believe it is," I whispered. "But, oh, Peter, there is such little time!"

"Enough," he grunted. "Come! We begin."

We listened at the bulkhead for signs of life on the opposite side, but not a sound came through to us, although the clamor on the upper deck and in the poop cabin seeped into our dungeon from overhead. 'Twas stiflingly hot, and Peter's first care was to strip off his buckskin shirt and leggings.

"We got to swim," he said, eyeing them regretfully. "You don't need clothes tonight, Bob."

So I followed his example, and we fell to work with our spikes upon the sprung plank, the sweat pouring in rills of moisture from our half-naked bodies, our crude tools slipping in our greasy fingers as we pried and pushed and fought for exery inch of space betwixt the plank and the upright it was nailed to. Peter did all the work. It was his tremendous muscles that fretted and teased the point of his spike into the tiny gap that awaited us, that gradually enlarged the advantage. All I could do was to hold whatever space he won, giving him opportunity to improve upon it until a smashing drive of his great shoulder tore the plank loose at one end.

GYPSY WRITER

BERCOVICI SIGNS WITH DE MILLE

By Grace Kingsley

It isn't every day a film firm can get a real gypsy to write for them. And it isn't every gypsy, of course, for the matter of that, who can write.

But Konrad Bercovici can, as everybody knows, and Bercovici is a regular blue-blooded—or should it be red-blooded?—gypsy, born over in Rumania, where all the real gypsies come from.

The long and short of it is that Bercovici has signed up to write a story for Cecil De Mille and the Producers' Distributing Corporation. And not only this, but the author, who is noted for a famous lot of short stories on gypsy life, will join the nearest band of gypsies, wherever found, in order to feel at home while he is working. Whether the story has anything to do with gypsies or not remains to be seen. It may, says Bercovici, and then again, it may not.

This isn't the only news from the De Mille studio, however. Running true to form, Cecil De Mille and Jesse L. Lasky, despite the business break between them, have managed to be so polite to each other that there isn't going to be the least bit of trouble about De Mille's arranging for Leatrice Joy to go to work for him as soon as ever he gets his story ready.

A Paramount picture which Miss Joy was to do at the Lasky studio has been canceled so that the star may commence work under the direction of Frank Urson and Paul Iribe on April 13 in a story not yet announced.

Even this isn't all. It seems that Cecil De Mille has been sleuthing about of late looking for promising film material. He has decided that William Boyd and Lewis Natheaux are comers among the younger actors. They have been signed on long-term contracts as the newest members of the permanent Cecil B. De Mille stock company, which is being established as a central factor of the producer's independent operations at Culver City.

Lewis Natheaux hails from Danville, Ill., and was a vaudeville actor, singer and dancer previous to appearing on the screen.

William Boyd has played a number of roles in pictures, including "Bobbed Hair," "Forty Winks" and others. He landed in California broke, from Oklahoma, and the prelude to his entrance into pictures was a career in which he served through such jobs as oil driller, grocery clerk and automobile salesman, until he had saved enough money to gamble on his chances in films.

Paramount Signs New Ones

I take pleasure in holding up the presses if need be while I rush off on my trusty typewriter the glad news that Paramount has signed up a handsome new sheik, according to word received from Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president of Famous-Players-Lasky, in charge of production. (I'm going to have a rubber stamp made for Mr. Lasky's title.)

This new sheik's name—not to keep the Baby Stars and others in suspense—is Richard Arlen, and he has been signed on a long-term contract.

Arlen is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, was a crack athlete during his college course and later won honor as a member of the famous St. Paul Athletic Club hockey team. He has appeared in a number of productions on the West Coast, his most important role being "In the Name of Love," now in production.

As one Baby Star to another, Lois Wilson yesterday lived up to the name of the picture and welcomed Margaret Morris to the cast of James Cruze's production of "Welcome Home." Miss Wilson is about 3 or 4 years old, starrily speaking, while Margaret is, you might say, just born, having been one of the young stars picked by the Wampas late last year.

Tyrone Power, according to further announcement of Mr. Lasky, has been signed to play the role of Jethro in "The Wanderer," which Raoul Walsh is to direct. Another important member of the cast of this picture will be Ernest Torrence, who is to have the role of Tola.

Traveling 3000 miles to watch his son direct the opening scenes of "The Wanderer," Mr. T. W. Walsh, father of Raoul Walsh, arrived from New York a day or two ago. So now Raoul will have to watch his step!

Everybody has been wondering just who will play the important roles in "Grounds for Divorce," which Paul Berp is to direct. The suspense is over and we take pleasure in announcing that to Florence Vidor, Matt Moore, Harry Myers and Louise Fazenda will fall the burden of the principal roles.

Jobyna to Travel

Now, South Pittsburg, Tenn.—whether you have ever heard of the place or not, is going to have a treat.

Jobyna Ralston is going back to her old home in Tennessee to visit her relatives as soon as she finishes work as Harold Lloyd's leading lady in "Rah-Rah-Rah."

This will be Miss Ralston's first trip home since she went into pictures five years ago. She will be accompanied by her father and brother, and what the people in that small town won't do for their Jobyna, by heck, isn't worth doing, that's all.

Warners Sign Sheik

'Is the dark-skinned tempestuous type of leading man for the screen losing favor with the fans and are the producers sensing this by replacing him with the virile type of American hero?

This point has come in for a great deal of discussion among those in the industry. However, yesterday Warner Brothers took a chance and signed one Don Alvarado, a young Spaniard, to a long-term contract, confident in the belief that this type still has a strong hold in the hearts of movie fans.

Alvarado is a typical Latin, not only in looks but in temperament. He is tall, standing some 5 feet 11 inches, weighs 160 pounds, flashing black eyes and well-modeled dark features.

He was discovered in the way every extra who ever steps on a set hopes to have his chance. He was playing a small bit in "Debarau," when Harry Beaumont, the director, spotted him, watched him for a while and then recommended a screen test. It was a success.

Here at last, according to the Warners, was a real find. Then they signed him to a six-months optional contract with the intention of keeping him under close observation and to make sure he had the proper qualities of a featured player. He was allowed to go East and work in small productions, to New York to get the metropolitan atmosphere and gain experience. He did this under the eye of the Warners who have been grooming him for better things, until yesterday their belief justified the long-term contract which was signed with their new star late yesterday afternoon.

Schertzinger With Fox

Not solely for his health and to improve his golf stroke did William Fox come West recently. He is, as a matter of fact, looking over the directorial field. And it has resulted in the signing of Victor Shertzinger on a long-term contract.

Mr. Schertzinger, as everybody knows, made his first success as a violinist and composer, but of recent years has devoted his time almost exclusively to motion-picture work. He recently completed "Man and Maid" for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and formerly as a part of his late activities made several pictures with Jackie Coogan.

Schertzinger's first Fox picture will be "The Wheel," a John Golden play by Winchell Smith, which will go into production as soon as casting for the various characters is completed.

Brchowetzki With Universal

If President Carl Laemmle of Universal gets any busier signing up new directors and actors, he will have to buy a new fountain pen. Now Mr. Laemmle announces the engagement of Dimitri Buchowetzki to direct one of the superspecials for Universal to be released during the 1925-6 season.

They're Engaged

Robert Edeson has been loaned to Monty Banks for a featured role in "Keep Smiling."

William J. Kelly has begun an interesting engagement in the modern version of "The Lady of Lyons" classic, called "In the Name of Love," which Howard Higgin is directing for Paramount.

Walter Long has been signed by Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president of Famous-Players-Lasky Corporation, in charge of production, to play an important part in Richard Dix's forthcoming starring picture, "The Shock Punch."

Richard Travers in It

Richard Travers is coming back to the screen. After an absence of a year and a half, during which he has been on the stage, Travers has been engaged to play the romantic lead in "Lightnin'," which Fox will produce.

Elects Beauties

James W. Dean, the well-known dramatic critic and connoisseur of feminine pulchritude in Cleveland, O., stated in a recent interview that the three most beautiful woman on the silver sheet are Mary Pickford, Alice Calhoun and Anna Q. Nilsson.

Alice Calhoun in addition to being merely physically beautiful has also that great inner beauty that is sometimes called "the beauty of soul." She is now playing the leading feminine role opposite Tom Mix in the Williman Fox production, "Everlasting Whispers."

She has just returned from the Yosemite where many of the exterior scenes were taken.

Miss Calhoun expects to go back to the Yosemite this summer and with another young woman, Miss Bertha Blanchette, the champion woman bronco buster of the world, who lives in the Yosemite, will travel by foot and horseback to the wildest and most unsettled portion of the park. With the exception of the dogs and horses the two feminine explorers will travel alone for three weeks cooking and doing all their own housework in the open.

Selter With Universal

William Selter will direct the next Universal special production starring Reginald Denny, which will be the screen adaptation of the popular novel, "Where Was I?" by Edwin Franklin. Production will not be started for three weeks, as the director has just completed the filming of "The Teaser," a special featuring Laura La Plante, Pat O'Malley, Walter McGrail, Hedda Hopper and Wyndham Standing and he is now busy editing the production.

Although Selter has had Miss La Plante as the featured feminine player in three of the four productions he has thus far produced for Universal, this successful combination will not be in effect on their next respective pictures. Miss La Plante is to be featured in "Doubling for Cupid," that popular Nina Wilcox Putnam story, directed by Clarence Brown, while Mr. Selter will be filming the Reginald Denny opus.

New Faces at Studio

Mack Sennett continues discoverings and developing new talent in his comedies, and scarcely a week goes by without bringing one or two new faces to the comedy lot.

In two comedies beginning this week, several young people, virtually beginners, will be given the coveted opportunity of showing the producer what they can do with important roles.

Eddie Cline will direct a group of players composed of Charley Farrell, Thelma Parr and Peggy O'Neill. Charley Farrell is a good-looking juvenile comic not long out of the extra ranks, while Thelma Parr is a recent "graduate" from the bathing girl chorus.

Lloyd Bacon will begin shooting a new two-reel comedy with Ruth Taylor playing the feminine lead. Miss Taylor, out of high school but a few months, was recently signed to a long-term contract by Sennett. She will play with Raymond McKee in the new picture.

Norma's Latest Set in Monte Carlo

Norma Talmadge and Wallace MacDonald

"The Lady," Miss Talmadge's new production, with Wally MacDonald as leading man, has a brilliant Continental setting and reveals the characters of the play garbed in the fashions of twenty-five years ago. The picture opens at Loew's today for a one-week engagement.

'The Iron Horse' Brings Ballet Master's Praise

Returning from a tour of Europe via New York, during which he visited theaters in scores of countries, Alexandre Oumansky, internationally known ballet master, today declared that in no playhouse in the world has he seen a stage and screen combination to equal the presentation of "The Iron Horse," by Sid Grauman at the Hollywood Egyptian Theater.

Oumansky, who is credited with being an artist to his finger tips, is enthusiastic over both the Grauman prologue and the John Ford screen production. It will prove a sensation in Europe, he avers, particularly if the Indians and Grauman prologue could be taken overseas.

Oumansky is familiar with every branch of theater work, having been ballet master at the Capitol Theater, the world's largest playhouse, in New York, associated with the Metropolitan and Chicago grand opera companies, the Music Box Revue, and was responsible for the dance creations of Harry Carroll's "Pickings."

The ballet master has established headquarters at the Friday Morning clubhouse, where he plans to teach every form of artistic dancing in a two months' master course, starting March 30.

KREISLER OVATION

Second Concert One of Dignified Simplicity

BY FRANCIS KENDIG

Some 2900 persons left Philharmonic Auditorium last evening immensely satisfied, if ovations mean anything. Fritz Kriesler, the charmer of the bow, played the second of his concerts here; this one, being an evening affair, was programmed to include those numbers which every one, if they know anything about violin music at all, must have known to the last note. Grieg's C Minor Sonata, the G Minor Bruch Concerto, and compositions made familiar to the ear by radio and record for the miscellaneous final group, made up the evening.

The Grieg Sonata is particular Norse in atmosphere. One feels in this the Viking ancestry of the Norwegians, and it has a barbaric quality, especially in the last movement, which is a real delight to the ear. Mr. Kreisler obtains (not alone in this) a magnificent and unusual volume from his E string.

No matter how many thousands of times he has played his own compositions, or in fact anything which he plays, he never gives one the feeling—which many artists do—that he is playing on the memory of inspiration rather than inspiration itself. His sincerity of vision never seems to fail.

And one wonders, sometimes, just what it is, after all, that sets him apart from other violinists, however charming they may be. He has a leonine nobility in all his work, an extreme vitality of tone and a genuine simplicity of interpretation that allows the inspiration of whatever composer he plays to come through to the hearer with perfect limpid reasonableness. There is an elevated quality in all that Mr. Kreisler does which is almost unique, and it is a tonic to the cynic to see what a universal appeal his work has for connoisseur and philistine alike.

Make-up Scorned by Redskins in Zane Grey Film

Indians do not need any make-up before the motion-picture camera. Cameramen who worked on "The Covered Wagon," "North of 36," and "The Thundering Herd," Zane Grey's story which is now showing at the Million Dollar Theater, say that Indians photograph perfectly in their natural color. In fact, they are "camera proof," and may be "shot" equally well from any position. This latter fact is a great boon, photographers say, because many players must be studied carefully and not photographed from certain angles.

Large numbers of Indians were used in filming "The Thundering Herd," which is a story of the West when the pioneers rushed to the buffalo fields of Wyoming and Montana.

PUBLIC INVITED TO SEE MOVIE THRILLER

Jumping from a racing speed boat to an airplane is what Cliff Bergere, noted death-defying artist, will attempt to do for one of the thrilling sequences of an "Andy Gump" comedy now being filmed at Universal City under the supervision of Samuel Van Ronkle.

According to an announcement from Carl Laemmle, president of the Universal Pictures Corporation, the public will be permitted to witness Bergere's attempt, which will take place off the Charles Lick pier at Ocean Park tomorrow at 2 p.m.

This feat will mark the first time that anyone has attempted to change from a speed boat to an airplane while the water craft was under power in rough water. The speed boat from which Bergere will leap is Alvin Frank's "Lucky Strike," the fastest power vessel of its kind on the Pacific Coast.

Cork Oak Lives for Centuries

Cork is the light, porous outer bark of the cork oak which grows in Spain, Portugal, Northern Africa and in fact nearly all the countries bordering on the Mediterranean Sea. The leaves of the cork oak are oblong and evergreen. The acorns ripen from September to January, depending on the climate. The trees grow several feet in diameter and from twenty to sixty feet in height. Many of them live to a very great age. It is said that there are many cork trees between 300 and 400 years old. The first cutting of bark, which is rather coarse, is taken off when the tree is between fifteen and twenty-five years of age. After that a crop of cork bark is removed about every eight years. The bark is removed with an ax, the cuts being made both sidewise and lengthwise. Care must be taken not to damage the inner bark, else the tree will die. Special machinery is used to cut the wood into various sizes of corks—[Exchange.

L. A. High Wins by Score of 67 1-2 to 45 1-2

Eddie Leahy's Polytechnic High School tracksters upset the dope in one or two places yesterday, and caused some little concern to Pioneer rooters by holding the lead for a while, but finally lost their annual dual meet to L. A. High by a 67 1-2-to-45 1-2 score at Housh Field. The Mechanics were doped to take the count by a bigger score than they did, so they needn't feel so bad. With the exception of Jack Lyons's time in the mile, there was nothing startling about the meet. Lyons ran the four-lap event in 4m. 44s.

The Pioneers won seven first places to Poly's five, but cleaned up in seconds and thirds, making most of their points in these events. Poly won both sprint races and the two teams divided the hurdles. Dales of L. A. won the 440 and Capt. Alex McKinnon of the losers broke the tape in the half-mile, despite his lame leg.

The Roman relay team is rapidly acquiring a reputation for itself in the matter of dropping the baton. With the race more than half over, and a ten-yard lead, the little stick was allowed to trickle to the ground on a pass and Poly dashed out ahead. Due mostly to the efforts of Mathis, L. A. picked up the yards and Sullivan passed McKinnon on the last lap, but couldn't hold it and the Mechanic captain came home first.

Capt. Pott Reed, won both weight events and Jerry Stewart of L. A. surprised everybody by beating out his team-mate Wilbur in the pole vault. De Lavalade of Poly, won the high jump and grabbed off a second in the shot. The summary:

TRACK EVENTS

100-yard dash—Won by Hershetts (P.,) Sullivan (L.A.) second, Maxwell (P.) third. Time 10 5-10s.

220-yard dash—Won by Maxwell (P.,) Hershetts (P.) second, Nast (L.A.) third. Time 24s.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Powers (P.,) Ramirez (L.A.) second, Gill (L.A.) third. Time 17 5-10s.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Smith (L.A.,) Mooney (L.A.) second, Powers (P.) third. Time 27 6-10s.

440-yard dash—Won by Dales (L.A.,) Stock (L.A) second, Gonia (P.) third. Time 53s.

880-yard run—Won by McKinnon (P.,) Mullard (L.A.) second, Cuthbert (L.A.) third. Time 2m. 6 4-10s.

Mile run—Won by Lyons (L.A.,) Waite (P.) second, Haworth (L.) third. Time 4m. 44 4-10s.

Relay—Won by Polytechnic.

FIELD EVENTS

Discus—Won by Reed (L.A.,) Gridwell (P.) second, Macomber (L.A.) third. Distance 112ft. 8in.

Final score—L. A., 67½; Polytechnic, 45½.

A lot of work for a high school athlete was placed on the sturdy shoulders of Junior Hanford yesterday afternoon at the Coliseum, when a dual track-and-field meet was staged between the Manual Arts and Franklin High School teams. The Manual boys won by the extra large score of 82 1-2 to 30 1-2.

Hanford ran the century dash, the 220, the quarter-mile, placing first in all of them, and as a grand finale ran anchor man in the eight-man relay, beating the Franklinite to the tape with great ease.

Aside from that, Speed Ennisman startled the large gathering inside the arena by breaking the Manual Arts school shot-put record with a put of 48 feet, 6 1-2 inches. The old record was made some years ago by Jimmie Blewett, 43 feet, 2 inches. Miller won a little fame by winning the 880 for Manual in 2m. 6s.

Manual Arts came through in one-two fashion in the low hurdles, Pickets placing first in 17 1-2s. All three countable places in the 220-yard dash were taken by the Artisans, Hanford's winning time being 23s. flat.

A killing pace was set at the start of the mile run by Boles of Franklin. The long-legged sprinter kept it up and finished by a good lead in 4m. 57 7-10s.

THE SUMMARY

880-yard run—Won by Miller (M.A.,) Blanchard (F.,) second; Sternberg (M.A.,) third. Time, 2m. 6s.

100-yard dash—Won by Hanford (M.A.,) Bergfeld (M.A.,) second; Maurer (M.A.,) third. Time, 10 2-10s.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Colleran (F.,) Dickson (M.A.,) second; Bates (F.,) third. Time, 18 4-10s.

440-yard run—Won by Hanford (M.A.,) Schweisaw (F.,) second; Enterline (M.A.,) third. Time, 53 2-10s.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Pickette (M.A.,) Starr (M.A.,) second; Bates (F.,) third. Time, 17 2-10s.

220-yard dash—Won by Hanford (M.A.,) Bergfeld (M.A.,) second; Dunsmore (M.A.,) third. Time, 23s. flat.

Mile run—Won by Boles (F.,) Sternberg (M.A.,) second; Forte (M.A.,) third. Time, 4m. 57 7-10s.

Eight-man, one-mile relay—Won by Manual Arts. Time, 3m. 9 7-10s.

Shot put—Won by Ennisman (M.A.,) Eddy (F.,) second; Hillman (M.A.,) third. Distance, 48ft. 6½in.

Pole vault — Won by Harris (M.A.,) Bove (M.A.,) second; Argue (F.,) Bright (M.A.,) tied for third. Height, 11ft. 6in.

Broad jump—Won by Chille (M.A.,) Cant (F.,) second; Todd (F.,) third. Distance, 20ft. 10½in.

High jump—Won by Tintinger (M.A.,) Bright (M.A.,) Thomason (F.,) tied for second. Height, 5ft. 7in.

Discus throw—Won by Ennisman (M.A.,) Giran (F.,) second; Hillman (M.A.,) third. Distance, 116ft. 8in.

Hollywood High's track and field team swept gracefully over another hard hurdle yesterday afternoon when they met and defeated Lincoln High, considered one of the best teams in the city, by a 67½-to-45½ count. The cinema stocks will face Manual Arts High next Friday in a meet which will decide what school has the best dual team in the city.

The Railsplitters started out strong against their erstwhile opponents, grabbing off several firsts that they were not expected to cop, but Old Man Dope was not to be denied, and the meet ended with Hollywood holding the larger number of points.

Messrs. Brinker of Hollywood and Floyd of Lincoln gave the fans present a surprise when they reversed their order in the 100 and the 220. Brinker nosed out the dusky boy in the century, providing the first upset, then Floyd returned the compliment in the furlong. Eade ran the low hurdles for the Foothillers in the fast time of 25.6s., a tenth of a second better than the city record for the event. Summary:

880-yard dash—Cummings (L.,) won; Feldman (H.,) second; Wolf (H.,) third. Time, 2m. 7s.

100-yard dash—Brinker (H.,) won; Floyd (L.,) second; Fernandes (L.,) and Johnson (H.,) tied for third. Time, 10 2-10s.

120-yard high hurdles—Meeks (H.,) won; Eade (H.,) second; Newton (L.,) third. Time, 16s. flat.

440-yard dash—Zambre (H.,) won; Gallman (L.,) second; Childs (H.,) third. Time, 52 4-10s.

220-yard dash—Floyd (L.,) won; Brinker (H.,) second; Johnson (H.,) third. Time, 22 8-10s.

220-yard hurdles—Eade (H.,) won; Meeks (H.,) second; Wood (L.,) third. Time, 25 8-10s.

Mile run—Cummings (L.,) won; Beller (H.,) second; Martin (L.,) third. Time, 4m. 35s.

Shot put—Read (L.,) won; Drummond (H.,) second; Geraghty (L.,) third. Distance, 44ft. 2½in.

Discus—Drummond (H.,) won; Ulings (L.,) second; Geraghty (L.,) third. Distance, 111ft. 6in.

High jump—Eade (H.,) won; Landers (H.,) second; McGillivard (L.,) third. Height, 5ft. 9in.

Broad jump—Zambre (H.,) won; Kittle (H.,) second; Bothwell (L.,) third. Distance, 21ft. 9½in.

CHICAGO CUBS BUMP BENGALS

ter and Heathcote's infield out topped off the Cubs' scoring in the ninth, two more Bruins crossing the platter.

The Tigers had chances to score in the first, fourth, fifth and sixth frames, but were unable to collect a counter until the ninth, when Jones grew wild or big-hearted, whichever way you want to call it. McDowell opened the last stanza with a hit to center, but Finn hit into a double play. Slade started the rally all over again with a two-base poke down the left-field line. Then Percy Lee lost the location of the plate and walked Oliver, batting for Billman; Moore and Wolfer in rapid order. Inasmuch as there were only three places to park men and room needed for four, Slade sauntered nonchalantly over the plate and the Tigers were saved from the humiliation of a shutout. Jones then struck out Warner for the third out and everybody went home.

Belmont Track Squad is Beaten by Roosevelt

In a hard-fought, closely contested dual meet the Roosevelt High School track team defeated Belmont, 55⅛ to 48⅛ at the Y.M.C.A. field yesterday. The meet depended on the relay and the Teddies won that, so they copped the meet. Pearson of Belmont was the high point man of the day with ten digits to his credit. He won both sprints. Scherer of Roosevelt did the half-mile in 2m. 8s. The summary:

TRACK EVENTS

100-yard dash—Won by Pearson (B.,) Holtzworth (R.,) second; Irwin (B.,) and Maxwell (R.,) tied for third. Time, 10 2-5s.

220-yard dash—Won by Pearson (B.,) Holtzworth (R.,) second; Bryan (B.,) third. Time, 22 4-5s.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Forester (B.,) Cristol (R.,) second; Zobrock (R.,) third. Time, 18 1-10s.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Stopp (R.,) Holt (B.,) second; Angle (R.,) third. Time, 28s.

440-yard dash—Won by Maxwell (R.,) Abramson (R.,) second; Bennett (B.,) third. Time, 53 2-5s.

880-yard run—Won by Scherer (R.,) Kelsey (B.,) second; McNeal (B.,) third. Time, 2m. 8s.

MICKEY WALKER AT CAFE

Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, is to be guest of honor tomorrow night at the Plantation Cafe in Culver City. The champ is to present a silver trophy to the winners of a novelty dancing contest. Many of the fighter's friends are planning to attend in his honor. Numerous novelties for the occasion are being arranged by Manager Dave Wolf.

TROJANS HOLD TRYOUTS

Dean Cromwell Has U.S.C. Track Athletes Work for Places on Team to Meet Stanford

Tryouts for places on the U.S.C. track team which will journey north for a meet with Stanford next Saturday were held yesterday at Bovard Field and some of the performances turned in by the Cardinal and Gold athletes were good enough to bring much joy to the heart of Coach Dean B. Cromwell.

Foremost among the surprises was White's clearing of 12ft. 6in. in the pole vault. Ruiz, a sophomore, also went good in the bamboo event, lifting his form over 12 feet.

Les Heilman, star Trojan distance runner, uncorked a wonderful 2-mile race, negotiating the distance on the not-too-good Bovard Field track in 9m. 56s. If he is able to run like this Saturday, he will be able to give the Stanford 2-milers something to wonder about.

Keith Lloyd stepped off a rapid century when he won the 100-yard dash in 9.5s., if you wish to overlook about 3-10 of a second taken by jumping the gun, with Brice Taylor House and Parsons right behind him.

In the 220, which was run around two curves, Johnny Parsons drew the outside lane and stepped to the tape ahead of Taylor in the speedy time of 22.4s. Parsons has run the furlong in 22 flat on a straight-away, and Cromwell believes he will become a national sprint figure before he gets out of college.

Percy Niersbach won the 880 in 2m. 8s., with Harold Lovejoy second, but he did not attempt to extend himself.

Leighton Dye and Otto Anderson stepped over the high hurdles in rapid order, the former winning two flights in 15s. flat, with Otto close behind.

Finals in the 100-yard dash will be held Monday at the Coliseum.

OLD CROW DAZZLING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, March 20.—Old Crow, odds on favorite, came from behind to beat Cordon Rouge in the feature sprint at Tia Juana this afternoon. McHugh aboard Old Crow, brought in two other winners, Tikeh, in the second and Acceleration, in the sixth. He finished second in two other races.

Favorites came over consistently in the nine races of a rather colorless program.

First race, five and one-half furlongs: Pusimol (Schaefer,) won; Midnight Bell (McHugh,) second; Col. Matt (Roberts,) third. Time, 1:08 3-5.

Second race, five and one-half furlongs: Tikeh (McHugh,) won; Joe Underwood (Griffin,) second; Big Indiana (G. Johnson,) third. Time, 1:08 1-5.

Third race, five and one-half furlongs: Smart Horse (Ellis,) won; Cock Sure (Elston,) second; White Lights (Hooper,) third. Time, 1:08 1-5.

Fourth race, five and one-half furlongs: Joe Patton (Hoagland,) won; Full of Pep (Smith,) second; Enetie (McHugh,) third. Time, 1:08 1-5.

Fifth race, mile and one-sixteenth: Tan Gay (Taplin,) won; Vibration (McHugh,) second; Poor Puss (Ellis,) third. Time, 1:47 4-5.

Sixth race, mile: Acceleration (McHugh,) won; Sea Green (Hing,) second; Sinuan (Edwards,) third. Time, 1:42.

Seventh race, six furlongs: Old Crow (McHugh,) won; Cordon Rouge (Martenson,) second; Not Enough (Rhoda,) third. Time, 1:14 4-5.

Eighth race, mile: Sweet Grass (Elston,) won; Lady Inez (Sylvia,) second; Edmon (Edwards,) third. Time, 1:40 2-5.

Ninth race, mile and seventy yards: Wedding Prince (Baker,) won; Tis Seth (Young,) second; Col. Lit (Elston,) third. Time, 1:45 2-5.

HURLEY IS IN SECOND PLACE

Von Elm was conceded a victory by the majority of the golfers, and it looks as though he would fulfill all predictions, for few golfers in the country could spot Von Elm three strokes on eighteen holes and defeat him.

Yesterday Von Elm played rather carelessly, evidently not taking the tournament very seriously. He missed a short putt on the eighteenth which would have given him a 70, and by more effort he could undoubtedly have clipped several strokes from his total.

Von Elm played in a snappy foursome with Hurley, Campbell, Macbeth and Palmer. At the turn Hurley had the lowest score, going out in 36, while Von Elm took 37, Macbeth and Campbell, 38 each, and Palmer 39. However, a couple of 2's on the short holes on the second nine, with par on the rest of the way brought Von Elm's score down to 71. Palmer started by driving the first green, and just missing an eagle, but couldn't maintain this standard.

Wilhelm will undoubtedly do much better today, as yesterday was the first time he ever played at Hillcrest. He went out in 37 and returned in 40 on the easier half. He played with the Wilshire brigade, Johnny Hodge, George Cline and Ab French.

In Class B, T. J. Haley's 79, scored Thursday, still stands as the low figure, although George Cornes and J. F. Rothwell each scored an 80 yesterday. J. R. McKinnie and Phil Frankel played splendidly yesterday, scoring a 78 each, which put them in the lead in Class C.

PAIRINGS AND STARTING TIMES FOR TODAY FOLLOW

CLASS A

1:00—L. W. Dunlop (86) A. J. Shafer (84,) Capt. McNaughton (86) and E. Castleburg (82.)

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POMONA COLLEGE, CLAREMONT, March 20.—Tomorrow afternoon Coach Robert Strehle's first year track-team will undergo their season's most strenuous test when they tackle the strong Santa Barbara High School track team in the new Santa Barbara High School stadium. The Sagechicks leave the local campus tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock and will return following the meet.

Little is known here of the strength of the seacoast team, but they are expected to give the peagreens a stiff battle for the victory. Lyle Johnson will lead the local frosh team as captain. He is the chap who recently startled the natives by negotiating the half-mile in 2m 8-10s. Johnson will also run the mile.

CARD SLUGGERS FACE GRIZZLIES

High-Powered Scraps Carded for Local Gym

Loss of Sid Wood Cripples Cline's Squad

Whittaker and Darnell in Two Classes Each

Coach Jimmy Cline's local University of California boxers go against a tough proposition tonight when they meet the Stanford University mitt slingers in the Vermont-avenue gymnasium. The Cardinal battlers arrived here last night and are all set to clean up on the locals, according to followers of the Red sluggers.

The loss of Sid Wood, a capable scrapper, rather cripples the Grizzlies but Cline hopes to carry on and duplicate his feat of last year's victory over the visitors. Two former Los Angeles Athletic Club punchers—Hansen and Zellman—are among the best fighters Cline has.

The Grizzlies figure to score heavily in the lightweight fights, and may get an even break in the heavier scraps. With Sid Wood in there they would be a cinch to win, but it is hardly possible to expect new and inexperienced men to stand up against the hard-hitting Cardinals. Cline has not yet announced the men that will meet the slugging Cards, but it is practically certain that Zellman, 115; Hansen, 125; Randall, 135; Whittaker, 145 and 158; and Darnell, 175 and heavyweight will be the Grizzly representatives.

SAGEHENS AND TIGERS CLASH

the old mentor's cap. Pomona hopes that Hugh Pinney will cop the sprints, but if Buckman is right the chances of the Sagehen getting to the tape first are rather remote. If Buckman has only one good race in him today—say the hundred—he may win the meet. A lot depends on the Tiger captain.

An equally heavy burden rests on the shoulders of Bob Maxwell, who leads the Sagehen squad. He will run both hurdle races and may set a new Pacific Coast record in the lows. Last week he established a bright and shining mark of 23.7 seconds for the event. In 1924 Coach Nixon used Bob in the furlong against Oxy and he won the race in 22.2 seconds. Today he will undoubtedly run that event again and don't be too surprised if he also takes part in the hundred.

Pomona concedes Oxy first places in the two sprints—if Buckman is right—the quarter, half and mile. It is also expected that the Bengals will win the discus, high jump and relay. On the other hand Occidental says that Pomona will cop the two mile, both hurdles, shot put, pole vault, broad jump, javelin and maybe the hammer.

Despite the nonchalance with which we dispose of the first places there is certain to be a bitter battle in practically every event. Nick Carter, Oxy's demon miler, is virtually the only man who seems to have his race cinched and Frank Rentchler of Pomona will probably make him run around 4m. 30s to win. Montgomery and Stroud should put on a great event in the half, while either Bill Snyder or Reggie Laveile is slated to run the two mile in less than ten minutes. The scramble in the quarter should produce a few faints. There will be so many good sprinters in the dashes that the judges may need magnifying glasses to pick the winners.

There is little to chose between Conde and Stevens of Oxy and Hall and Merritt of Pomona in the discus. The same goes for Frisbie and Fulton in the broad jump, and Hill, Hamilton and Turner vs. Bradshaw in the high jump.

The hammer throw will start at 1:30 p.m.

FIDEL LA BARBA TRIMS RIVERS

stepped to one side and clipped a hard right to Rivers's whiskers. The Mexican reeled and caught another and still another on the chin. It looked as it he might hit the floor, but his marvelous stamina kept him on his feet and fighting. La Barba's hand was raised a few seconds later.

Johnny Grella upset several brackets of dope in the semi-wind-up when he knocked out Herman Auerbach in the second round of what was to have been a six-round mill. Grella was ahead from the first bell to the time Auerbach's seconds threw in the towel. He soaked the German with rights and lefts to the head and sent him down frequently. Finally, with the second round about half over, Grella sent him to the floor for a count of nine. Auerbach was gamely getting to his feet, but his seconds threw in the towel.

Gene Cline got a decision over Billy Lane in the preceding preliminary. Cline was too clever. He won all the way. Dave Taylor got a technical knockout over Earl Little in the third round of their battle. Billy Blake elevated the drape with a decision in four rounds over Chief Cyrus.

CHAMPION FINALIST IN BROOKLINE TOURNEY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BROOKLINE (Mass.) March 20. Mrs. John B. Jessup of Wilmington, Del., defending champion, reached the finals of the women's national indoor tennis singles tournament at Chestnut Hill today by defeating Miss Martha Bayard, Short Hills, N. J., 6-3, 6-2, in their semifinal match. She will meet Miss Anna H. Fuller of Cambridge, in the title match tomorrow.

TROJANS TRIP TIGERS

Lone Tally in the Tenth Inning Gives Southern California Win in Tight Game

"I came, I saw, I conquered," adequately expresses what the University of Southern California pilitossers did at Patterson Field, Occidental College, yesterday afternoon. It might be added, however, that the Trojans knew that they had been in a battle before they finally drove across a run in the tenth inning that gave them a 7-to-6 victory over the Tiger diamond men.

The Southern Californians working behind the husky arm of Fay Thomas, who pitched a fine brand of ball, striking out seventeen men, blanked the Tigers till the last half of the fifth, meanwhile gathering in three digits as their own tally. It looked as if they were going to whip Oxy without any effort. In the eighth inning things began popping, however. The Trojans rapped out three markers in their part of the frame which seemed to make the Tigers mad. At any rate they suddenly came to life and nicked Fay for a couple of markers. Then headed by Capt. Tanaka, who opened with a homer in the ninth, they cracked out three more runs in that frame to tie the score.

The crowd went wild. But their excitement was short lived, as the Trojans gathered another run in the tenth and then blanked their opponents to win the game.

But Teachout, who pitched for the Tigers, tossed wonderful ball throughout the encounter, his work rivaling or even bettering that of Thomas. However, he did not receive the support the big Trojan did, his team-mates making five miffs during the game, which proved costly.

HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL

BY STANLEY (BUCKY) HARRIS

Catcher 2. HOW A CATCHER SHOULD TRAIN

You will do well to build up your legs if you plan to become a catcher. They really should be strong to start off. Take regular exercise to develop them. A youngster who rides a bicycle will strengthen his leg muscles. He can also do so by taking long walks.

Hikes across country should be taken when possible. The climbing of hills and the tramp downgrade are fine for the legs. It will accustom them to stand the strain which is put on the underpinning of a backstop. Such walks will also improve the wind. A catcher needs a powerful pair of lungs quite as much as a pitcher.

"Bucky" Harris

Skipping rope will also prove helpful to the young catcher in his preliminary training work. This drilling will make him nimble on his feet and enable him to keep on his toes. A backstop has to move around fast behind the plate. He can't be leaden-footed and be effective in throwing to the bases.

Bending exercises are very helpful to the young catcher. He should practice touching the floor with his fingers while holding his knees stiff. Such work tends to keep unnecessary fat off the waistline. The catcher should keep as trim around the midriff as a pitcher.

While you are doing preliminary training work to strength the legs and stomach muscles and make the body strong and supple you would do well to take light throwing practice. Quickness and accuracy are things to strive for. Be sure your arm feels strong before you cut loose.

You will have to learn how to shift you feet fast so as to be in a position to throw to get a base runner. Likewise you will have to school yourself in getting the ball away quickly and at the same time make an accurate peg. This is a combination that has to go together or you will miss your man by slowness or a bad throw.

A young catcher will find it a good plan to do his throwing practice in batting drill, once he has worked his legs in condition and his arm has been sufficiently loosened up. It isn't very difficult for a catcher in good shape to throw to the bases with no one on the paths and no batter at the plate. He can hit a waiting glove easily.

But with a batter up and a man or men on the bases conditions exist similar to those which arise in an actual game. Let the pitcher work on the batter. Then throw to the bases to get your man. You will do well at first to have the base runner tell you when he is going down. You are not so likely to hurry your pegs and thus will acquire accuracy.

You will be surprised how much this system of training will help you in shifting and in accurate pegging. It will train the eye, help your timing of throws and improve your judgment of distance. Don't confine your throwing largely to second base in practice work. Many youngsters do that, overlooking the fact that they are also called upon to throw to first and third in an actual contest. Learn to peg to all the bases.

Train yourself so that you don't waste any motion with your arm. A catcher has to learn to make a snap throw. He can't wind up before he lets the ball go. The main thing is to get the ball away from the best throwing position possible. Of course, in order to be properly set for a peg you have to be fast on your feet.

MARTIN LOSES BANTAM CROWN

TWELFTH ROUND

Martin sent swooping right to the head, but Charlie immediately took the lead away by soaking him with that old left to the face. Rosenberg chased Martin to his own place, whereupon with stiff punches to the face, Charlie opponent Eddie with right to chin. Then Rosenberg let with rights and lefts to the head. Martin made a mockery of the champion as he punched him at will with everything in the book. Eddie landed a hard right to the ear, but the old pro was gone. Rosenberg's round.

THIRTEENTH ROUND

Rosenberg kept right after Martin, though the latter tried to mix the issue as he came rushing out of his corner. They traded punches in the center of the ring. Charlie ripped a right uppercut to chin and stuck two lefts to face. Martin was very wild trying to land his right. Martin had the better of a furious scrimmage. They clinched. Coming out of it Rosenberg had Martin reeling around from a flock of right and left-hand punches to the head. Rosenberg stayed on top of Martin, jamming that left hand to the face at will. Rosenberg's round.

FOURTEENTH ROUND

Martin, in desperation, shot both hands to the head, but was wild. Martin missed with several hard lunges, but Charlie never stopped sticking that left to Martin's face. Rosenberg spun Eddie around, landing a left and right to the face. Martin sent left to wind. There was much clinching as the fight went on, with the referee having overtimes to divide the scrappers. Rosenberg's round.

FIFTEENTH ROUND

Martin landed a hard right to Charlie's face, but it was rather high, and Charlie responded by reaking Eddie with two jabs to the mouth. Charlie rushed Eddie to the ropes, sending hard right under heart. Martin stood in the center of the ring, trading all sorts of punches. Martin tried desperately to nail Rosenberg, but Charlie beat him to the punch time after time. Just before the bell they both landed hard rights to the chin. It was a furious round, with honors even.

DODE BERCOT HERE FOR BARRET BATTLE

Lonnie Austin and his prize battler, Dode Bercot, the latter accompanied by his wife and baby, arrived here yesterday from Seattle to prepare for Bercot's return engagement with Bobby Barret at Vernon the 31st inst. Austen made a record trip up the Coast in his Buick sedan, making it from here to Seattle in thirty-six hours, actual running time, but he took it much easier coming back. Austin and Bercot went north after the last Barrett fight to bring Bercot's wife back with them.

NAVY SECRETS ARE PROTECTED

Evidence Not Admitted in Teapot Suit

Wilbur and Kellogg Ask Reports be Withheld

Testimony in; Arguments to Begin Monday

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) March 20.—Taking of testimony upon which Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy will decide who is entitled to the possession of Teapot Dome was ended in Federal Court here late today. Only closing arguments remain to be delivered before the legal dies is completely cast, and these will begin Monday.

Tension was added to the case this afternoon when Rear-Admiral Julian L. Latimer, Judge-Advocate-General of the Navy, appeared for former Secretary of the Navy Denby in response to a subpoena by the defense. He produced certificates from Secretaries Wilbur and Kellogg asking Judge Kennedy to keep from the court record certain documents of the Navy Department said to deal with the Navy's war plans and the international situation.

Judge Kennedy granted the request after counsel for the defense and for Admiral Latimer had argued the matter briefly, and the Navy's legal counselor was excused without giving testimony.

When Latimer appeared he was asked by defense counsel if he had produced certain records from the Navy Department as ordered by subpoena and he replied that he had produced only a part of them. Questioned as to the reason, he produced and read the statements of Secretaries Kellogg and Wilbur.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORTS

The certificate of Secretary Wilbur said of the documents requested, forty-five dispatches, fifty-one letters, fifty reports and five memorandums had been withheld because they contained matter of a confidential nature sent from Rear-Admiral Albert Gleaves to the Secretary of the Navy between September 15, 1920, and March 1, 1921. At that time Admiral Gleaves was commander of the Pacific Fleet.

Secretary Wilbur's certificate said these documents contained "matters of importance to the Navy which, if disclosed, would be inimical to the interests of the United States."

The Kellogg certificate was similarly worded.

Martin W. Littleton of counsel for the defense, said the defense would not insist on the disclosure of military or naval secrets where such might be harmful to the nation, and would respect the position of the government as a sovereign, but that as a party to an equity "the government must do equity." He said that the government should recognize the position of the defense in the matter and take cognizance of the fact that the question of bringing in the secret documents into evidence was not pressed.

Albert D. Walton, United States District Attorney for Wyoming, appeared as counsel for Admiral Latimer and quoted cases in which documents of a like nature had been subpoenaed and then withheld from the record because of their confidential nature.

NOT MUCH SECRECY

"These documents cannot be very secret if somebody knows enough about them to subpoena them for the record in this case," said Judge Kennedy.

Mr. Walton and Atlee Pomerene then denied that they knew what the contents of the documents were, but Owen J. Roberts, also of government counsel, interposed that some of the matter contained in them had been partly made known "because of an inadvertent remark." He elucidated no further and was not asked for an explanation.

"It is unfortunate to have to decide this by inference," said Judge Kennedy. "One angle of the defense's case was based on the necessity of preparing for national defense, and the government is plaintiff. But respect must be given the heads of these departments. We do not wish to stir up trouble between the judicial and administrative branches of the government; there is too much dissension between government departments already."

ADMIRAL EXCUSED

Judge Kennedy then excused the admiral. The defense declined to offer the documents which the navy officer brought because they constituted "an incomplete record." After the reading of a minor stipulation and the introduction of scattered letters and other documents into the record, the defense rested.

The government in its rebuttal used for a parting shot the deposition of former Representative Patrick Kelley of Michigan, who controverted depositional statements of Rear-Admiral J. K. Robison, chief of navy engineering, that he (Robison) had informed Mr. Kelley of negotiations being in progress for the leasing of Teapot Dome at the time reports were current to that effect.

At the close of the case court adjourned until Monday.

Standard Oil Still Opposes Gas-Tax Raise

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—The Standard Oil Company of California today refused to renounce its position and withdraw its opposition to an increase in gasoline taxation in the State, declaring that it believed its stand to be right and sound "from any point of view."

The position of the corporation was made known in a telegram sent by its president, K. R. Kingsbury, in response to a wire from the legislative committee and the State Supervisors' Association, requestion, in the name of all boards of supervisors, that the company withdraw its opposition to the proposed gasoline tax increase.

MESSAGES READ IN QUADRA TRIAL

Prosecution Reopens Case for New Evidence

Telegrams Offered to Prove Rum-Running

Bring Officials of Canadian Company in Case

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—What was regarded by the government as a particularly damaging bit of evidence tending to connect certain officials of the Consolidated Exporters, Ltd., of Vancouver, B. C., with an alleged coast-wide rum-running ring, was introduced late today in the conspiracy trial in connection with the seizure last October of the suspected Canadian rum-runner Quadra.

The evidence introduced over defense objection after the latter had rested its case consisted of three telegrams sent last May by C. H. Belanger, reputed director of the Consolidated Exporters, to his wife in Los Angeles, and to George Norgan, another Consolidated Exporters director in Vancouver, B. C. The messages were sent from San Francisco. They had to do with certain moneys which Belanger apparently was expecting Norgan to forward to the First National Bank of Los Angeles and which had not been received at the bank.

Salvatore Quartararo, father of Vincente Quartararo, one of the principal San Francisco defendants, denied ever having seen Belanger prior to the trial and further refuted the testimony of Mariano Crivello, government witness and confessed liquor runner, bearing on a purported visit by Crivello last September to Quartararo's place of business, the Bohemian Cocktail and Supply Company, when Crivello said he was hired by Belanger to bring liquor ashore from the Quadra.

The trial was adjourned until Tuesday. The case is expected to go to the jury Wednesday or Thursday.

DISORDERS AT RITES OF SUN YAT SEN

Bolshevik Students Riot for Vantage Points When Body is Moved

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PEKING, March 20.—Except for Bolshevik Chinese students overriding the troops and police, the transfer of Dr. Sun Yat Sen's body to the ceremonial hall in the Forbidden City, facing the altar of earth, was without incident. Thousands lined the streets unrestrained, waving Kuomingtang banners and distributing eulogistic circulars.

A Christian funeral service was conducted in the hospital auditorium for his family and 100 invited by card. The soviet Ambassador and a large assemblage of Russians were not admitted.

Ambassador Karakhan was roughly handled by the guards at the Forbidden City gate, but he and his comrades finally gained entrance. Two airplanes hovered over the procession while a salute of thirty-one guns was fired. The soviet flag is at half-staff, but on the other legations is full staff. The public will be permitted to view the body beginning next Tuesday.

RAILROAD LAND DISPUTE HEARD

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The Congressional commission investigating land grants to the Northern Pacific Railway Company and particularly a claim by the company to between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000 acres of government land, today continued its examination of representatives of the company to ascertain its position in the dispute.

During the examination of James B. Kerr of Portland, Or., special attorney for the railroad, Representative Williams, Republican, Michigan, and Raker, Democrat, California, indicated the scope of the inquiry might be broadened to include the law and facts concerning grants to the company in 1864 and 1870. They took this position after Mr. Kerr had expressed the opinion that a question raised by the Forestry Service regarding a proposed deduction of 270,000 acres involved in an old conflicting claim between the Northern Pacific and the Portage, Winnebago and Superior Railroad, was not a matter for the commission to consider as it would be threshed out in hearings before the Interior Department.

Charles W. Bunn, general counsel for the railroad, reiterated a denial made before the commission yesterday by Charles Donnelly, president of the company, that the foreclosure in 1896, when the Northern Pacific Railway Company bought the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, could be looked upon as a "mere formality." The railroad company, Mr. Bunn said, was "hostile and full of fight" against this procedure.

Mr. Bunn also told the commission that the railway company contended that a provision in the land grant act of 1870 fixing $2.50 as the maximum price at which it could dispose of lands granted it, applied only to the Tacoma and Portland grants.

As a result of the indictments the men named were suspended by Chief of Police Copelan pending the outcome of their trials.

EX-WIFE SMILES AT INVECTIVES

Dennistoun's Lawyer Calls Her Traitress

Characterizes Money Suit as Blackmail

Bitter Denunciation Hurled in Argument

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, March 20.—Rarely has a woman of social standing been subjected in an English court of justice to a more scathing denunciation than was Mrs. Dorothy Muriel Dennistoun by Norman Birkett, when he addressed the jury today in behalf of Lieut.-Col. Ian Onslow Dennistoun, her former husband, whom she is suing for money, which she alleges she loaned him before they were divorced.

Mrs. Dennistoun bore the ordeal without flinching, except when reference was made to Sir John Cowans "going to his grave with curses on his lips for the woman who deceived him."

By this remark she was visibly affected. The name of the late Sir John Cowans, Great Britain's war-time quartermaster-general has been brought into the trial through allegations by Mrs. Dennistoun that Col. Dennistoun encouraged her relations with the quartermaster-general to further his military career.

COUNTESS AFFECTED

The Dowager Countess of Carnarvon, widow of the noted Egyptologist, who married Col. Dennistoun after his divorce, often appeared on the verge of tears during the address of Council Birkett. She held her handkerchief to her eyes and leaned for support on her son.

"Whatever might be said of Col. Dennistoun," said Mr. Birkett, "he is not a liar, whereas, on every fact you can test her, Mrs. Dennistoun is a liar of the first rank. She has lied with resource and ingenuity."

Pointing to "this woman" he exclaimed:

"To use her own conduct as a means of getting money from Lady Carnarvon is the lowest degree of unforgivable sins."

"Traitress," "extremely dangerous woman," "heartless," were some of Mr. Birkett's comments, at which Mrs. Dennistoun merely shrugged her shoulders and smiled.

CALLS IT BLACKMAIL

"This action is blackmail and she knows it," the lawyer thundered.

Justice McCardie intimated that he would put ten questions to the jury regarding the agreement which Mrs. Dennistoun said her former husband made at the time they were divorced. Some of these questions, the court pointed out, would be exceedingly difficult, as there were more grave issues involved in this case than many have realized.

Besides a decision whether the alleged agreement was too vague to be enforced, the justice added, there was the interpretation of the word "collusive" and the question whether the statute of limitations would apply with respect to some of the sums in dispute if they were gifts.

Sir Ellis Hume-Williams will address the jury on Monday in behalf of Mrs. Dennistoun.

MARKETERS IN HARMONY ON NEW BILL

Change in Law Relating to Co-operators Will be Recommended

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—Representatives of the State Department of Agriculture and attorneys representing co-operative marketing associations in California agreed today to recommend the passage of measures introduced in the Legislature providing for injunction rights against members of marketing associations.

Under the terms of the bills introduced in the Assembly by Herbert McDowell of Fresno, associations would be given the power to enforce contracts drawn by them with members. A special law provides their rights at the present time, but courts have indicated the provisions are not applicable to organizations existing before the passage of these measures at the 1923 session of the Legislature, according to McDowell.

More than 75,000 co-operative marketing association members in this State would be affected by the proposed changes.

Coolidges Will Spend Vacation in New England

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, March 20.—President Coolidge intends to go to New England for a summer vacation but has not determined definitely where or when he will go.

The time of his departure, it was said today at the White House, depends on the weather and if it remains as cool as it was last summer, Mr. Coolidge does not expect to leave until late in the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge expect to spend part of the vacation at Plymouth, his father's home.

SHIPPING and Los Angeles Harbor NEWS

HAWAIIAN SUGAR ON LOCAL LINER

City of Los Angeles Brings in 15,000 Bags

Consignment from Island is Record for Line

Returning Tourist Talks of Trade Opportunity

The Los Angeles Steamship Company liner City of Los Angeles arrived from the Hawaiian Islands yesterday morning, bringing 278 passengers, within nine of her record, while in her holds was the largest cargo ever brought here by a vessel of the line. In addition to 2000 tons of molasses, 17,000 cases of pineapples and several hundred tons of general merchandise, the big ship carried 15,000 bags of Hawaiian Island sugar. The sugar is a new item for Los Angeles, and is believed to mark an entering wedge in that trade between the islands and this city.

During the round trip to Honolulu and the cruise from there to Hilo, the liner handled more than 1100 passengers, according to R. H. Robinson, purser. Travel from Los Angeles also is said to have reached a point where the leading Honolulu hotels are booking more guests from each local liner than any visiting the islands from San Francisco, although the Los Angeles service has been in operation less than four years.

OPTIMISTIC TOURIST

Returning Los Angeles men expressed much optimism over diversion of island trade to this port, with this constructive criticism, that good will excursions to the island help, but drummers, Los Angeles branch stores, and Los Angeles bank would accomplish more.

"The excursions established fellowship between the two communities, but we need agencies right there on the job, to get the business," opined L. D. Sale, president of the Western Wholesale Drug Company of Los Angeles, who returned with Mrs. Sale and their daughter, after six weeks on the islands.

"We need more investments of our own capital in the islands. There are opportunities for a big hotel, a brokerage organization and institutions reassuring the islanders of our commercial cooperation for years to come. Business never flows one way alone; we must reciprocate, must sell them our products as well as buy theirs."

CHANCE MISSED

Mr. Sale pointed to an instance where, he said, Los Angeles slipped up, in not buying a potential pineapple-producing island. The Hawaiian Pineapple Company bought it instead. Sale was told by J. Dickson Pratt of that company, also a passenger. They paid $1,000,000 for the island, comprising 150,000 acres, 35,000 of which are fit for the growing of pineapples. That company, the largest on the island, shipped out 3,000,000 cases of pineapples last year and will handle 4,000,000 cases this year, Mr. Sale was told. At present, it is understood most of that cargo goes to San Francisco, but the company is said to be opening up a new European trade by way of the Orient.

"There are still plenty of opportunities for splendid investment in the islands. I think I know two or three right now. What Los Angeles ought to do is send a $25,000 man over there for a year, ascertain these possibilities, and stick our millions behind them," Sale concluded.

VIEWS SECONDED

These sentiments were concurred in by Erle M. Leaf, vice-president of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, who with Mrs. Leaf and their daughter returned from the first vacation he has had in years. He added that already stores or agencies have been established by such Los Angeles firms as the Western Auto Supply Company, Bishop's, Western Wholesale Drug Company and others and remarked "these are merely a starter."

Other voyagers aboard included R. H. Brandon, supreme secretary of the Loyal Order of Moose and family of Moosehart, Ind.; George R. Bury, vice-president of Earl C. Anthony, Inc., and Mrs. Bury; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh G. Chaffee of Los Angeles; R. T. Crane, Jr., president of Crane Company, Chicago, world's largest manufacturers of valves, and Adolph H. Gartz, vice-president of the same company.

The vessel was pursued down the harbor as she departed, and was successfully boarded from the sea ladder by one belated passenger, C. H. Scoggin, aviation chief carpenter's mate, suddenly summoned to Hampton Roads by illness in his family. Scoggin re-enlisted, commandeered a citizen's flivver for a thirteen-mile race, and overtook the ship in a rowboat, all in fifty-five minutes. He was met in quarantine on arrival here by B. J. Lawrence of the Santa Fe Travel Bureau, with his real ticket to expedite his race against death across the country.

FISHERMEN PREPARE FOR LARGE TUNA CATCH

Los Angeles Harbor fishermen, exultant over their record catch of sardines, the season on which is nearing a close, are elated over reports that yellow fin tuna already are beginning to run off Cape San Lucas. Scores of real boats are cruising out for the long cruise, approximately 1000 miles south to the extreme tip of Lower California, and yesterday the cold storage schooner Oceana, Vance sailed for the scene, escorted by the tender Curtiscor of the Curtis Canning Company of Long Beach. Twelve to fifteen carriers already are in the waters, as well as several dozen boats, and scores will follow immediately, according to Gilbert C. Van Camp.

The run of yellow fins is said to be earlier this year than almost any season in local fishing history, and is heralded as a splendid omen for a bountiful year. The fishermen will follow the schools as they gradually work north, arriving off Los Angeles Harbor by summer. Two or three boats already have put in here from the southern fields, loaded with fish.

Two more lumber carriers, the Hammond steamer Trinidad and the steamer Davenport, have joined the active ranks again to help meet spring building demands. The Trinidad went to the Bethlehem yards yesterday for her annual overhaul preparatory to resuming service, and the Davenport arrived from Redondo last night to begin plying between Willaps Harbor and here. She has been tied up at San Francisco since last April. The Samoa, Capt. Walmsley, arrived yesterday morning from the Guaymas, where she took 2,000,000 feet of lumber for the Guaymas and Empalme Railroad, and sailed for Eureka yesterday afternoon to load lumber for the Hammond Lumber Company.

Purchase of the Shipping Board tanker Tulsagas, now at Warren, N. J., by the Associated Oil Company, to replace the W. S. Porter, recently sold to Italian interests, was reported here yesterday. The company recently purchased another Shipping Board tanker, the Betterton, now lying at Chester, Pa., to take the place of the Alden Anderson, which ourned and sank near San Francisco six months ago. Each has a carrying capacity of about 75,000 barrels.

Capt. F. E. Nehls, government pilot at the Panama Canal, sailed for Balboa yesterday on the American Hawaiian freighter Kentuckian as the guest of Capt. Cherry. Capt. Nehls has just returned from Seattle, where he was summoned to the bedside of his wife, who died a few days after his arrival. Capt. Nehls will return in January and make his home in Seattle to look after his boy, left with grandparents in the northern city by the loss of his mother. Capt. Nehls is one of fifty-four pilots at the canal, where he has been for eleven years, being the founder and first commander of the Canal Post No. 1 of the American Legion.

Two Mexican passenger and freight carriers from different directions and operated by different companies are due Monday. The Mexican Mail Line steamer Navarit is en route from Mexico, the Washington of the Freeports Line from San Francisco, where she has been undergoing repairs after a collision with the Santa Cecelia several months ago.

The pleasure liner Catalina, built and commissioned last summer for William Wrigley, Jr., at a cost of almost $1,000,000, will resume her summer's run between Los Angeles Harbor and Catalina Island April 11, according to announcement yesterday by Daniel Cheney, secretary and treasurer of the Wilmington Transportation Company. The Avalon, which has been on the run all winter, will lay up for a short period on the resumption by the Catalina. Travel to the islands has been gaining daily this month, according to Mr. Cheney, and indications point to a splendid patronage this season.

Several hundred passengers and several thousand cases of hens' eggs will be aboard the Mongolia when she sails from here Monday for New York. The big Panama Pacific liner will arrive from San Francisco tomorrow at 1 p.m. to take on 100 passengers and several hundred tons of freight before sailing next day. The eggs are from Petaluma.

Two new transit sheds, each of two stories, located at Berths 58 and 59, Nos. 1 and 2 Slip, and B, were officially turned over to the Harbor Department yesterday as complete. They cost, with the pier, $2,500,000 and are said to embody as convenient facilities as can be found. The pier was built by the engineering division of the Harbor Department, the sheds by the Hoel-Leach Construction Company, the latter receiving $850,000 for its share of the work. Among the new features are doors of a new type on each side, arranged so steamers can load or unload directly into each; steel and concrete ramps to the rear for motor traffic to the second floor, and four thirty-ton elevators. The Dollar Line, Luckenbach Line and Oriental Steamship Corporation have leased the sheds, which afford 475,200 square feet for storage of cargoes.

BUSINESS FINANCIAL COMMERCE

SPINACH PROFIT REPORTED LESS

Bank Survey Shows Prices Steady But Lower

Investment Men Will Meet in Florida

General Motors Sales Below February, 1924

With the spinach canning season nearing its close and the industry at the peak in volume, total earnings this year will be somewhat less than the average, according to a survey compiled by the Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank, from reports over Southern California. The survey, completed yesterday, shows a total revenue from packing of about $250,000. Revenues from spinach sold as a vegetable before the packing season were about double that figure.

Returns from all spinach districts of Southern California show about 6500 acres harvested, with a yield of six to eight tons an acre. The crop began entering the market early in January, when shipments were made to eastern centers. Little of the Southern California product is exported, according to reports.

The bank survey shows the principal markets for spinach are in New York and other eastern cities. The early demand of eastern markets is supplied by California product, which is first by several weeks to reach the consumer. Texas growers begin shipping by February 14, and what is left of the California crop turns toward the canners for consumption.

Canners are expected to complete the pack of spinach by the last of March. The bank's survey shows the canners are fairly well satisfied with the season's output. Prices have been steady and while somewhat under the figure for a year ago, profitable to the industry generally throughout Southern California.

There is a strong demand for the canned product at present. Sales have been near the capacity of the plants, and orders have been booked that are already sufficient to dispose of all remaining spinach on hand or in storage at the canneries.

It is too early to predict the acreage that will be planted to spinach next season. The vegetable has been a profitable venture for growers and an average year has shown from 6000 to 7000 acres planted.

Convention in December

The board of governors of the Investment Bankers' Association of America yesterday announced that the fourteenth annual convention of the association will take place in St. Petersburg, Fla. The dates of the meeting which have been tentatively agreed upon are December 2, 3, 4 and 5 next.

The first day of the convention will be given over entirely to committee meetings. Arrangements are being made to provide ample hotel accommodations for the several hundred members of the association who are expected to gather at the convention. It is expected that special trains will be run from New York and Chicago.

Trucks Also Decline

The sales of General Motors cars by dealers to ultimate consumers in February totaled 38,970 cars and trucks, compared to 50,007 in February, 1924, and with 25,593 in January, 1925.

Sales of cars and trucks to dealers by manufacturing divisions of General Motors in February totaled 49,269, compared to 78,668 in February, 1924, and further with 30,642 in January, 1925.

Securities Approved

Santa Monica Bay Telephone Company first and refunding mortgage 6 per cent gold bonds, series 1924, have been certified as legal investment for California savings banks, according to information received by the Citizens' National Company. The issue approved is in the amount of $625,000, and the securities were offered at a price of 100.

First Securities Company and E. H. Rollins & Sons have received a certificate from the superintendent of banks approving as a legal investment for savings banks of this State the $600,000 first mortgage and collateral trust 6½ per cent serial bonds of the Pacific Dock and Terminal Company.

Biltmore Hotel Pays

Directors of the Los Angeles Biltmore Company yesterday declared the regular semiannual dividend of $4 a share on the preferred stock, payable April 15 to stock of record April 1.

BAD CHECKS

The following bulletin on bad-check writing was issued yesterday by the forgery detail of the Los Angeles police department detective bureau:

Los Angeles merchants are warned to accept no checks issued by a man using the name of George Padgett, formerly a truck driver for the Globe Packing Company. He calls on former customers of the latter concern, to whom he had delivered meat while in their employ, and presents worthless checks to be cashed.

Following is a description of the man: American, brown hair, 5 feet 10 inches tall, 30 years of age, heavy build, smooth shaven, light complexion; occupation, truck driver.

MEXICAN COMMERCE GROWS

Greater Amount of Goods Bought From United States in 1924; Los Angeles Has Advantage

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Once a government manifests a desire to encourage legitimate business operations the inherent timidity of capital quickly vanishes, and economic development proceeds with astonishing rapidity. This has been demonstrated over and over again in the European countries since the war, and now it is emphasized by the flow of American gold into Mexico. Ever since that country got down to earnest work under a stable government and indicated its intention of meeting foreign obligations, American capital has accomplished much of mutual advantage to both nations.

More than $3,000,000 pesos of American capital are now invested in Mexican manufactures, a recent report from the Mexican government stated. Of this amount 48,000,000 pesos is invested in smelting and manufacturing plants connected with mines and 35,000,000 pesos in general manufacturing enterprises. In the last five years American manufacturing effort in Mexico has more than doubled.

LOS ANGELES AFFECTED

Mexico's economic progress, as Clarence W. Barron, the financial publisher, pointed out at a luncheon tendered him during his recent visit here, is a significant factor in the business of Los Angeles and the adjacent territory. He listed the proximity of Los Angeles Harbor to the ports of the West Coast of Mexico as one of the city's most important economic advantages. It has required courage and enterprise to capitalize this advantage because of the frequent political disturbances, but the statistics of foreign commerce between this port and Mexico indicate that the groundwork has been laid.

Much of the mineral and agricultural development in Mexico has originated from Los Angeles capital. The banks in this city are becoming increasingly active in facilitating the marketing on the West Coast of products manufactured in Los Angeles and have made frequent trade surveys for the benefit of their customers. This activity has led to alliances between the banks in the two countries, and such understandings usually bear a greater degree of commercial accord and stimulate the growth of trade.

As indicative of the trend in commerce of the United States and Mexico, a late bulletin of the American Chamber of Commerce of Tampico publishes figures showing that Mexico sold the United States $167,108,000 of goods in 1924. Imports from the United States totaled $135,157,000. This is an increase of $27,000,000 in exports and $15,000,000 in imports; altogether, the total 1924 figures represent a favorable foreign trade balance for Mexico of nearly $32,000,000.

Evidently, the purchasing power in Mexico is greater, and undoubtedly the Mexican markets will continue to absorb more American goods. An indication is found in a government report dealing with the live-stock situation in Mexico, which shows that the republic is richer now in money value of live stock than it was in 1902, the banner year in the cattle industry.

CATTLE IMPORTED

This appreciation in value, the report states, has been accomplished as a result of general market improvement and a decrease in supply. The number of cattle on the haciendas has shown a marked decline since 1912, and the cattle owners now are importing large herds from the United States to restock their ranges.

In 1902, Mexico's cattle ranches reported 5,142,461 head of stock, valued at 91,427,214 pesos. Now there are 2,187,867, valued at 184,041,260 pesos. In the same interval, the valuation of the sheep flocks has increased from 6,041,291 pesos to 8,048,073 pesos. Hogs in 1902 were valued at 2,068,480 pesos. Today the value has jumped approximately nine times to 20,274,217 pesos.

Expressed as a whole, the value of all live stock in Mexico increased from 117,078,417 pesos in 1902 to 275,256,250 pesos at the end of 1924.

More interesting figures relative to the entire Latin-American trade of the United States are published by the National City Bank of New York. This survey shows that the value of this trade now is two and one-half times more than in 1914, and six times more than the total reported in 1900.

OVER-BUYING CREDITED TO STOCK WOES

General Trade is Firm; Railroads' Difficulties Partly to Blame

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, March 20.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

"There has been no setback in trade to account for the recent depression in grain and securities which has resulted primarily from an overextension of buying on the great rise that followd the election. The further break in wheat prices this week accelerated the decline on the stock exchange, while the financial difficulties of a prominent western railroad, ending in a receivership, intensified the unsettlement.

"The reaction in speculative markets has not been wholly unexpected, however, and it has not generally affected business sentiment, for commercial conditions are inherently sound and there is a large export movement of agricultural staples and manufactured products; domestic mill takings of cotton have increased and more spindles are active; freight traffic continues of record volume for this season, and bank clearings substantially surpass last year's totals. These and other favorable features tend to sustain confidence, although the slow expansion in different quarters and the many irregularities that prevail are clearly recognized."

Weekly bank clearings, $9,361,016,000.

WALL STREET GOSSIP

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, March 20.—Meetings of the various St. Paul securities committees are expected to begin next week, but it is considered doubtful that the reorganization plan will begin to take definite shape until after the engineers, who recently made an appraisal of the property, submit their final report. Wall street heard today that the decision of the road's directors and bankers to file receivership proceedings in advance of the receipt of the report was to forestall the plans of "outsiders," who were believed to be contemplating legal proceedings, which, if instituted, would have greatly complicated the so-called "friendly" receivership action.

Slight change only occurred in the number of commercial failures in the United States this week, the total of 416 reported to the R. G. Dun & Co. being three less than the week before, but an increase of twenty-six over the week a year ago.

DRIED FRUITS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, March 20.—Evaporated apples, dull; prunes, quiet; apricots and peaches and raisins, quiet.

FLAXSEED IS HEAVY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DULUTH, March 20.—Extreme dullness was the outstanding feature of trading in the local market for flaxseed today during the greater part of the session. Near the close there was a slight improvement in demand, but the close was barely steady, ¼ cent off to ¼ cent advance, with March and April 282¼; May, 283¾; July, 280¼; track, 282¼@283¾; arrive, 282¼.

Minneapolis has demand, good for choice seed; No. 1 seed on spot quoted at 281@285; to arrive, at 281@285. Receipts, 11 cars; last year, 8 cars. Shipments, 5 cars; last year, 3 cars.

State Bureau Examinations Are Announced

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—Announcement has been made by the State Civil Service Commission of examinations for the positions of deputy, State Corporation Department, grades three, four and five. The salaries for these positions range from $200 to $230 for grade three; $235 to $280 for grade four, and $290 to $325 for grade five. The examinations will take place in Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles and will be entirely oral.

Applicants are required to have been admitted to the practice of law before the bar in California and must possess a general knowledge of corporate organization, finance and law and especially of the provisions of the Corporate Securities Act, under which the department operates. It is required that they possess sound business judgment and ability to meet and deal successfully with business men and attorneys.

The last day for filing the applications is given as April 1, 1925. EDISON'S GROSS EARNINGS GAIN

President Miller Addresses Stockholders' Meeting

Officers and Directors Are Re-elected

Business Prospects Bright for Coming Year

Nearly 500 stockholders of the Southern California Edison Company gathered in the auditorium of the company's building at noon yesterday and were told by President John B. Miller, that gross earnings of the organization during 1924 had increased $1,178,339, or 5.8 per cent over 1923, and that sales of electric energy increased 173,791,335 kilowatt hours, or 15 per cent more than the preceding year, the Edison company's banner twelve months. A report will be made later on net profits.

Mr. Miller presided as chairman and officiated in the annual election which resulted in the re-election of the 1924 board of directors. At the directors meeting in the early afternoon the company's official personnel was unanimously voted to continue in office during 1925.

At the director's meeting during the noon hour, Mr. Miller read extracts from the annual report. His comments dealt with the earnings, financing through public ownership of stock, and construction achievements. Considerable attention was paid to completion of the new Long Beach steam power plant, which cost $15,000,000, was erected in a record-breaking period, and is now functioning as one of the biggest and most efficient units in the entire West. The costly Florence Lake tunnel, recently finished with ceremonies, also received considerable attention.

This discussion by the company's chief executive was amplified immediately afterward by a motion-picture record of the Edison's construction development during the past year.

Officers and directors elected for the coming year are:

John B. Miller, president; William A. Brackenridge, senior vice-president; R. H. Ballard, executive vice-president and general manager; George C. Ward, vice-president in charge of operation and construction; S. M. Kennedy, vice-president in charge of business development and public relations; Roy V. Reppy, general counsel; D. M. Trott, comptroller; W. L. Percey, treasurer; Edgar G. Miller, acting treasurer; Clifton Peters, secretary; directors, R. H. Ballard, William A. Brackenridge, George I. Cochran, W. E. Dunn, Arthur H. Fleming, John H. Fisher, Albert W. Harris, H. E. Huntington, Henry M. Robinson, E. W. Rollins, William R. Staats, George C. Ward, John B. Miller.

In a forecast for 1925, reading from the annual report, Mr. Miller told the stockholders present that:

"From the company's standpoint, the year is unusually bright in the direction of adding new business and all reasonable demands for service will be promptly met.

PROSPERITY PREVAILS

"Throughout the large territory in Southern and Central California served by the company, generally prosperous conditions now prevail. Agricultural products are in good demand and partly because of better marketing conditions, are bringing satisfactory prices. Industrial centers are growing in size and importance and many new plants are being installed to take care of the increasing demands for local products.

"The large increase in population which promises to continue makes an ever widening local market for the products of the farmer and manufacturer, who are looking forward to a broader and bigger market beyond the confines of the State. The increasing amount of shipping using the Los Angeles Harbor is carrying a larger volume of freight yearly from Southern California to the East, to Central and South America, and to the Orient. There can be no increase in business activity, either industrial or agricultural, without an increase in the use of electrical energy, and the company is fully equipped and able to serve all demands for its product necessitated by the growth and development of its field of operations."

TUNNEL COMPLETED

The new construction program resulted in the completion of the thirteen and one-half-mile Florence Lake tunnel, tributary to the Big Creek-San Joaquin River project, which greatly augments the water supply in the power houses. The power-plant capacity of the company was increased 123,500 horse power by construction of the Long Beach steam plant, thus making a total generating capacity for the system of 626,600 horse power.

The annual report reveals that at the close of 1924 there were 70,103 stockholders, approximately 90 per cent of whom live in California. This section of the report, which relates to financing, emphasizes the company's strong financial position and its ability to proceed with construction work and keep pace with its service demands.

FEW SALES OF WOOL MADE AT LOW PRICES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BOSTON, March 20.—Wool business continues quiet but some sales are being made at a low range of prices. At the same time a little better feeling exists among traders. Some inquiry among the buyers is reported but their ideas of value are considerably below prices quoted. Some Arizona wools have been offered. The asking prices, however, were considered too high.

New Personal Property Tax Law

The new law just passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor is of vital importance to every investor in bonds, mortgages, notes, debentures, stocks or deeds of trust based upon property outside of California and all solvent credits based upon property outside of or within the State. It relieves investors in these securities of the heavy double taxation imposed under the old law. This legislation is also of interest to many people living in California who have heretofore avoided establishing legal residence owing to the high tax rate. The new tax is one of the lowest levied by any state in the Union.

We have prepared a digest of the law as applied to securities, which includes examples and an explanation of the new rates in simple understandable language. Upon request we shall be glad to send copies without obligation.

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

With all except one of the large gasoline marketing companies definitely committed to a standard retail price of 18½ cents a gallon, and the single exception expected to make the increase today, the gasoline situation in Los Angeles, which has been somewhat kaleidoscopic during the past week, is again settling down to the prevailing price of 18½ cents, no discount on coupon books, which existed prior to the recent "gasoline war."

Yesterday morning all the large companies, including the Standard Oil Company, Shell Company, Associated Oil Company and Richfield Oil Company, and excepting the Union Oil Company and Pan-American Petroleum Company and many of the small independents, raised their posted price to 18½, no discount. At noon the Pan-American Petroleum Company went to 18½ cents, leaving the Union Oil Company the only large marketer sticking to the cut price of 17½ cents, with 1 cent off on coupon books.

Last night the Union Oil Company officials declined to say what their price would be today, but the general belief in marketing circles was that the Union would get on the band wagon with the rest of the large marketers.

Many of the small marketers continued the reduced price of 17½ cents a gallon yesterday, but it is understood that many of these, including the Gilmore Oil Company, one of the largest of the smaller independents, will go to 18½ cents today.

Does 800 Barrels

The Petroleum Midway Company's Moynier No. 1, in the northern part of the Inglewood field, which broke all records for that field by coming in at 600 barrels a day last Monday, yesterday had increased its flow and made more than 800 barrels in twenty-four hours, according to official reports.

One of the remarkable things about the Moynier, in addition to its unusual production at the unusually shallow depth of 1750 feet, is the fact that the gravity of the oil is 19 deg., a full degree higher than any other oil produced in the field and two degrees higher than most Inglewood oil.

Geologists explain the phenomenal production of the well by the theory that it was drilled into a sand less more thoroughly saturated than most of the sands in the field, and the higher gravity is laid to the fact that the oil is absolutely clean, while most of the other completions in the Inglewood field have had some water content, which operated to reduce the gravity of the oil.

Jinx Well Wet

The Union Oil Company's jinx well in the Domingues field, the Carson No. 2, on the western edge of the field, is again being tested and again showing plenty of salt water with no signs of oil or gas, according to official reports.

Carson No. 2 is only one location from the famous Carson No. 1, completed last summer, with an initial production of 3500 barrels a day, at that time the largest well in the field. No. 2 is down 4253 feet, with eight-inch casing set at 4195 feet, but repeated attempts to get a water shutoff have resulted in salt water and little or no oil and gas.

Resume Operations

The Barnsdall Oil Company, which has allowed its O'Dea No. 1, on the northern line of its O'Dea lease, offsetting the General Petroleum Corporation's Vaughan lease, to stand idle for several weeks, is again working on the well and is fishing at 4781 feet. Six-inch casing is cemented at 4645 feet. The O'Dea No. 1 has been on production twice, but went to water both times.

Lose Oil Sand

The Shell Company's Childs No. 2 well, the eastern outpost of the Domingues field, which has been finding oil sands in streaks for several hundred feet, is drilling in shale and hard sand at 4647 feet, according to field reports. The well is drilling and coring. The Shell set six-inch casing at 3969 feet, and a number of tests have been made at this point, but although the well showed oil, it has been impossible to get a water shutoff. According to geological opinion the well marks the eastern edge of the producing area at Domingues.

Official Figures

According to figures collected by the American Petroleum Institute, Pacific Coast office, the total production of crude oil in California for February amounted to 16,869,833 barrels, an average of 602,494 barrels a day. This is a decrease of 2128 barrels a day under January production.

Total stocks of crude and all products in Pacific Coast territory increased during the month 1,326,840 barrels. The total stocks at the end of the month were 129,334,610 barrels. The total stock increase for 1925, up to February 28, was 4,312,646 barrels. Comparative figures as of August 31, 1924; January 31, 1925, and February 28, 1925, are shown in detail on the second page of this report.

Sixty-five wells were completed during the month with an initial daily production of 28,170 barrels, compared with sixty-two wells completed during January with an initial production of 21,286 barrels.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Prices Turn Buoyant

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, March 20.—The bond market today shook off recent reactionary tendencies and prices turned upward under the influence of easier money rates and a rally in St. Paul Railway obligations. Advances ranging from 1 to 4 points were registered by an assortment of representative rail and industrial issues.

Recovery of the St. Paul obligations extended from fractional gains to a jump of 2 3-4 points in the convertible 4½s and was promoted to some extent by the belief that may of these issues had been oversold in the drastic reaction which accompanied the receivership.

The ability of the St. Paul bonds to overcome recent selling pressure encouraged a resumption of buying operations in other parts of the rail list. Semispeculative issues, such as Katy 5s, Chicago and Terre Haute refunding and income 5's and Chicago and Alton 3½'s, Western Maryland 4's, Seaboard 5's and refunding 4's and Missouri Pacific 4's moved up 1 to 2 3-4 points.

Reports of progress made in the impending segregation of Pan-American Petroleum properties, with indications that the new companies would expand in both the California and Mexican fields, led to heavy buying of the 6-per cent bonds, which carried them up 4 points.

[Following are yesterday's high, low and closing prices of bonds on the New York Stock Exchange, and the total sales of each bond. These quotations are received over Associated Press wires, and by exposition time the closing is omitted when it is the same as the low, and both low and high.]

NEW YORK CURB

Improvement Shown

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, March 20.—A swift rebound in stock prices took place in today's curb market, some stocks had been "oversold" in the recent drastic reaction.

Oil shares continued to advance in further disregard of gasoline price reductions, South Pennsylvania Oil jumping 4½ points to 171, while Humble, Imperial of Canada, Prairie Oil and Gas, Vacuum and Standard oils of Kentucky, Indiana and New York moved up 1 to nearly 3 points.

Other spectacular advances took place in the public utility group. Carolina Power and Light, making its first appearance in several weeks, soared 21 points to 350. National Power and Light, Brooklyn Borough Gas and Lehigh Power Securities jumped 4½ to 6 points, while American Power and Light and Electric Bond and Share, Middle States Utilities and a few others moved up a point or two.

Selling pressure in the radio group appeared to have subsided, the net gains in that group ranging from small fractions to nearly 2 points. In the industrial group, the recovery was led by Centrifugal Pipe and Goodrich, each of which closed about 5 points above yesterday's final figures. Skelly, Sinclair and other oil liens joined in the advance, disregarding unfavorable trade developments. Copper and sugar company bonds also rallied.

PRISON FOR RICH SLAYER OF OFFICER

Justice Flays Alienists for Testimony Given in New York Trial

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, March 20.—Charles T. Davis, wealthy Brooklyn surgical instrument manufacturer who shot and killed Detective Sergeant Joseph J. Bridgetts on February 17, 1921, was sentenced to Sing Sing today for from ten to twenty years. He was convicted of first degree manslaughter nine days ago.

Justice Carswell in Brooklyn Supreme Court sharply criticized the alienists who were called into the case twice—first to testify at the time of the shooting that the manufacurer was insane and again at the trial for murder to offer testimony on Davis' present mental condition, which they held was normal.

"These alienists by their own testimony are not worthy of belief," said Justice Carswell.

Bridgetts was shot when he and two companions went to Davis's office to inquire about an automobile which Davis had reported stolen. The manufacturer refused to see the three officers but Bridgetts who had been in the office before walked in. Davis met him with a shot gun. The other two officers were wounded.

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILL TO TAX SECURITIES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—Gov. Richardson today signed the bill which carries into effect the provisions of the constitutional amendment adopted at the last general election providing for the taxation of foreign securities at 7 per cent of their full cash value. The measure requires that the taxation of these securities, held by residents of California, shall be on the basis of the 7 per cent assessment, but that they also shall pay the local county and city tax rates, according to a statement issued from the Governor's office.

In order to avoid double taxation a proviso is inserted whereby in determining the value of the shares of capital stock of a foreign corporation owned by residents of the State there shall be deducted the value of property which belongs to such corporations in California.

MRS. CHAPLIN GIVEN RESPITE

Actors' Mother Gains Delay in Deportation

Secretary Davis Again Will Review Petition

Affidavits Contend Removal Would Work Injury

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Secretary Davis took under further advisement the application of Mrs. Hannah Chaplin of Los Angeles, mother of Charles and Sydney Chaplin, film actors, for permission to remain in this country until March 26, 1926.

The Secretary announced that meanwhile no move would be made to compel Mrs. Chaplin to leave the country next Thursday, when a previous extension of time expires. He gave no indication of how long the case would be held under consideration although earlier in the day he had announced that a formal decision could be expected late today or tomorrow.

Mrs. Chaplin is a British subject and was admitted to the United States March 27, 1921, to receive medical treatment. Her stay was limited to one year because her condition made her ineligible for citizenship, but at the end of each year's period her attorneys had obtained additional leave for her to remain. Last year, however, officials of the department said they had reached an agreement with the attorneys that no further extension would be asked.

Nevertheless, the attorneys after being notified recently that Mrs. Chaplin must leave the country the 26th inst. filed affidavits by her physicians, her sons, Charles and Sydney, and her nurse, stating that her condition, an outgrowth of air raids over London during the war, had improved considerably in the last year. They denied she was suffering from insanity and expressed fear that a return to London at this time not only would retard her advancement but might cause a severe setback and even prove fatal. I was then that the Secretary consented to reconsider the case.

Supreme Court Voids Maltman Trust Decision

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—A judgment in the Superior Court of Los Angeles county holding void the $200,000 trust created by John S. Maltman of Los Angeles, in favor of his son, John W. Maltman, and daughter, Mrs. Teresa Maltman Kennar, was affirmed by the State Supreme Court today.

By the will, the Title Guaranty and Trust Company of Los Angeles was named trustee. The trusts were to terminate at the death of Maltman's son and daughter and their children. State Controller Riley and Inheritance Tax Appraiser Sproul contended the trusts were contrary to California law and void. The lower court sustained the contention and the trust company appealed.

Celebrates Her 113th Birthday; Oldest Son, 81

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ALBION (Neb.)—March 20.—With her three bachelor sons on their little farm a mile north of Albion, Mrs. Rose Garvey, Nebraska's oldest resident, celebrated her 113th birthday today. Mrs. Garvey boasts of "never being sick a day." Today she said she was "well and very happy."

The sons, who have been with their mother almost continuously since childhood, are Paddy, a "lad" of 81, who cooks and does the housework under Mrs. Garvey's direction; Mike, 73, and Tony, the "baby," 69, both of whom tend to the farm.

Opium Cache on Steamer Causes Arrest of Two

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—Frederick Ellwes, third mate, and Benjamin Graves, a freight clerk on the steamer West Chopaka, were taken into custody on a smuggling charge today after a shipment of opium valued at $15,000 had been found on the vessel. According to evidence in the hands of the customs inspectors the opium was to have been exchanged for guns and money here to aid revolutionary agents in Honzkong. The opium was found hidden in a shipment of cane chairs.

Ouster Called Mere 'Training' by La Follette

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, March 20.—Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, leader of the Senate Republican insurgents, who were deprived of their committee chairmanships by the majority organization, declared here today that the incident was merely a "training" phase of his active political life.

"This latest maneuver is nothing to me," he said. "It's not a fight, it's simply training."

Asked if he would organize a new party, Senator La Follette said he did not care to discuss the question now.

MISSOURI CITIZENS KILL BANK BANDITS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

STEELVILLE (Mo.) March 20. Two robbers were killed, two wounded and captured and a fifth escaped today when a citizens' posse engaged in a battle with the men who attempted to rob the Farmers' Bank of Steelville. One citizen was wounded.

PATHE SIGNS ROACH FILM PRODUCTION

Output to be Boosted One Third for $15,000,000 Two-Year Contract

Hal Roach yesterday announced the signing of a new two-year contract with Pathe for the distribution of his pictures, and the largest production schedule in the history of the studio, expected to reach $15,000,000 for the term of the contract. The announcement sets at rest rumors that have been in circulation in picture circles concerning the relations of the Roach studio and the Pathe exchange. There were two rumors—that Roach and Pathe had split and that Pathe had bought out Roach.

The contract was arranged personally between Hal Roach and Elmer Pearson, vice-president and general manager of Pathe Exchange, Inc., and calls, it was declared, for $9,600,000 for two-reel comedies alone. Roach will continue, it was said, to make seven features a year and a number of one-reel comedies, and while no definite figure was named for these, it was declared they would cost $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 during the two-year period, as a minimum.

This production schedule is an increase of 20 per cent over last year's schedule, it was said. Roach now has six companies scheduled, four working now and two more to start next week.

The announcement said this is the eleventh year of the association of Roach and Pathe companies.

COURT GIVES CHILD SOUTHLAND GUARDIAN

Grace E. Weber, 5423 Aldama street, Highland Park, was appointed guardian of the person and estate of Barbara Jane Weber yesterday by Judge J. Perry Wood.

The appointment, according to Lyle Pendegast, attorney for Mrs. Weber, was made over the objection of Mrs. F. L. Reber of Granite City, Ill. Mrs. Weber is the stepmother of the child and Mrs. Reber is an aunt of the child. In support of Mrs. Weber's claim for the guardianship Attorney Pendegast argued that the child would thrive better in the outdoor life of Southern California than in the climate of the Middle West.

WHEELER QUITS COUNCIL FIGHT

Retires in Twelfth in Favor of A. J. Barnes

Negro Supporters Hold Bledsoe Rally

Women Gather at First of Weekly Meetings

The retirement of Councilman Fred C. Wheeler from the race in the Twelfth Councilmanic District was the outstanding political news yesterday, and will now make the battle in this district one of the most hotly contested in the city. The chief contestants at the May 5 primaries will be Attorney E. J. McCully, Lin William Price, Leslie Saunders, W. H. Hartman, Clarence W. Horn and A. J. Barnes. Wheeler in the statement announcing his retirement asked support for Barnes. Wheeler's statement was as follows:

"After many years of activity in public affairs, during which time I have served as a freeholder and five terms in the City Council, and while my present petition is signed by over 1100 voters, and the indoresment of many organizations, I have decided not to again run for the Council. My interests in the future will be as a citizen having only the best interests of the city at heart. Scores of citizens and voters have requested me to express a preference of the candidates now before us. I have no hesitancy in saying that I consider Mr. A. J. Barnes to be by far the best and most competent man for the position. During his twenty years' residence in our district, he has taken an active part in public affairs. We need him on account of his well-known advocacy of city ownership of water and power. I most heartily indorse Mr. A. J. Barnes for Councilman for our district."

TO BUILD HOUSES

Councilman Wheeler said yesterday that afte rhis term ends on June 30 he probably will engage in building work, as he was a builder before he entered public life. He said he and several associates may form a company to build residences.

Councilman Wheeler is the second member of the present Council of nine members to retire from public life, the first being Councilman Walter Mallard. Councilman Gregory is a Mayoralty candidate and Councilman Mushet is candidate for controller, leaving Councilmen Allan, Baker, Criswell, Sanborn and President Workman as the five present Councilmen who are seeking re-election under the new district representation provision of the charter.

Last night the opening rally of the campaign of negro supporters of United States District Judge Bledsoe was held in the East Side headquarters of the organization, 1325 Central avenue. Included among the speakers were Dr. Claude Hudson, Prof. Charles A. Biggers, Isador D. Blair, Rev. H. D. Prowd, J. B. Bass, J. W. Coleman, C. H. Alston and George W. Snell. A program of music was given after the speeches to the large crowd which gathered.

The Central-avenue headquarters yesterday announced completion of the negro committee in the Bledsoe-for-Mayor campaign as follows: Rev. H. D. Prowd, Mrs. Alice Lively, Towson S. Grasty, Miss Margaret D. Scott, Rev. William A. Venable, Mrs. Bessie Simpson, Frank Williams, Ella L. Cas-

MYSTERY IN HOLE IN THE GROUND

Quizzical Neighbors Notify Police Long After Two Men Were Seen Digging at Night; Detectives Sweat While Trusties Uncover Crime (?); Soup Bone Found

A mystery that first promised to become the latest murder mystery shrank into nothing more than a hole in the ground yesterday afternoon. The story shall be told in sequence.

Six months ago there lived in a mysterious house at 4212 South La Salle avenue a mysterious family. The plot thickened when, at the dismal hour of 10 o'clock at night, two men began digging a hole in the back yard. This much was seen by the neighbors, and the digging did not cease until late the following day.

A few mornings later, at 2 a.m., two men suddenly came out, threw something into the hole and filled it up again. Neighbors talked of this midnight digging, but none reported it to the police. The mysterious family moved out of the house and another family moved in. The second family moved out a few days ago and the neighbors still wondered what had been put in that hole.

Two days ago Charles Hathway, 4222 South La Salle avenue, found a "sap stick" such as murderers use, in the yard back of the vacant house. And memories of the digging episode were revived.

Detective Lieutenants Finn and Thomson went to dig for the murder victim. The site of the hole was found. On the surface it was the size of an ordinary grave. Three husky trustees were taken from University Police Station, equipped with spades—and they dug—and they dug.

Three feet of earth were removed and a sheath of red-stained letters was uncovered. Blood? Ah, wit. And the digging continued.

The reopened grave reached a depth of nine feet when bottom was struck. A bone was uncovered, but no corpus delicti reposed in the depths. The bone was only a soup bone.

So, did the mystery deepen, for the biggest mystery of all remained—

Why was the hole dug?

Was it to bury the soup bone?

Ah, well—let somebody else solve it.

SUITED MEMORY TO CONVENIENCE

Husband Taught Public How to Keep From Forgetting, But He Didn't Apply Teachings to Wife Who Was Left Stranded in Montana; She Obtains Divorce

Carles W. Hamley picked up a rather percarious living as "memory expert," traveling about from place to place teaching people how to remember their telephone numbers, their automobile license numbers and other items of interest by a prearranged system.

But despite his pretensions as a professor of memonics, he forgot all about his wife once, and she nearly starved as a result, Mrs. Esther A. Hamley told Judge Gates yesterday when she appeared before him for a divorce.

"He left me stranded in Montana and forgot to send me any money," she testified. "I had to telegraph relatives for railroad fare to get home."

Mrs. Hamley showed Judge Gates a letter, in which Hamley expressed his distaste for her in most cordial terms:

"As a wife you are a flop," this missive read. "At broadcasting you are there a million, but don't be a flat tire and let all your wind out. I am tired, disgusted, finished, through, and have enough. Too much is a-plenty. L am on my way as I am being paged in Paris to see the Olympic Games."

"A very pithy communication, I would say," Judge Gates commented. "Decree granted."

FIVE PUPS ARE HEALTHY AFTER CAESARIAN BIRTH

Mother, Unable to See Offspring for Week, is Delighted by Reunion

Vickie and Her Sons and Daughters

Above—Boston Terrier recovering from Caesarian operation. Below—The bottle on which those surrounding it were fed until mother dog was able to provide for them.

SEVEN days may be only a week to the rest of us but if, like Vickie Venetta, you were the mother of five adorable bits of squirming fur—that you had never seen—it would be a long, long time.

Just one week ago, Vickie, vigorous 3-year-old Boston terrier, was forced to submit to a Caesarian operation and the five puppies, her first offspring, were turned over to the tender care of Mrs. H. S. Finch, 5604 Fernwood avenue, owner of Vickie.

Nerves and other ailments directly resulting from her operation have made it impossible for Vickie to claim her privilege of motherhood. Yesterday, in the Frink Dog Infirmary, 3166 Los Feliz Boulevard, Vickie was allowed to see and for the first time fondle her three young sons and two daughters.

Recognition was not mutual. The puppies, their eyes still tightly sealed, did not respond to the joyous nudging and snuggling of an overjoyed mother. Rather than the enraptured nosing of an ecstatic parent, the squirming puppies preferred the cold but ever working end of a nipple attached to an unlimited supply of warmed milk.

VICKIE SCORNS BOTTLE

With the scorn of a true mother for the replacement artifices of mankind, Vickie completely ignored the milk bottle and proceeded to start in where the bottle never could have competed. Vickie even paused to sneer at the hot-water bottle that had replaced her own warm body for the past week.

But she saw them and knew them as her own and all was again right with the world. Maybe it was a grunt but if ever an animate animal emitted a sigh of complete satisfaction, Vickie did as she snuggled in the bottom of a comfortably lined basket, her new-found children crowding around her, whimpering with delight at the newly discovered source of food supply.

It was the appealing brown eyes of Vickie that enlisted the surgical aid of Dr. Frink early last Saturday morning. Since then, Vickie has been inconsolable. There are many dogs in the Frink hospital, but their puppyish laughter and complaints only added to Vickie's misery. The little bandaged body was not yet ready to stand the shock of caring for her robust youngsters, but while the body was weak the indomitable spirit was more than willing.

Canine intuition kept Vickie awake all Friday night, Dr. Frink stated. Yesterday afternoon, her long vigil was rewarded and with scarcely a glance for her mistress, Mrs. Finch, and her staunch friend and former owner, Mrs. J. Edward Haley, of Alabama and Hollywood, Vickie struggled to get at her young.

Interested bystanders were unable successfully to interpret Vickie's language but after two minutes of getting acquainted, none of the puppies, not even temperamental Vickie Venetta Finch Haley, smallest daughter, could be weaned away by the hitherto inviting bottle. Once they had fought for a rubber nipple.

Just seeing her puppies meant more to Vickie than all the medicine in the world, Dr. Frink said. Vickie's actions confirmed the statement.

Excepting the hot-water bottle and the milk bottle, and despite the puppy ignorance, a good time was had by all.

SUNDAY MASS MEETING

The Los Angeles Committee for American Education in the Levant, assisted by the Teacher-Friendship Club and the International Institute has arranged a mass meeting for Sunday at 2 o'clock in the auditorium of the Friday Morning clubhouse, 940 South Figueroa street, in honor of Dr. Bayard Dodge, president of the American University at Beirut, Syria; Dr. E. St. John Ward, dean of the medical department of the college, and Mrs. Herbert Adams Gibbons, author, lecturer and former teacher in the Near East. The distinguished visitors will speak on "International Aspects of Education in the Near East." The public is invited to attend.

WANTED, ONE NEW ORPHAN COURTROOM

Judge Bullock Would be Grateful for Slightest Clew to New Location

Will some charitable organization provide a nice, sanitary, well-ventilated home for an orphan police court?

If so, Judge Georgia P. Bullock would be glad to learn of the location before next Wednesday.

The search for a home for the court began late yesterday after City Health Commissioner Parrish notified Judge Bullock to vacate the present site of her bench, located in the attic-like third floor of the police station, because he considered it decidedly unsanitary.

A police court has to be situated reasonably close to the jail and the police station. Prisoners have to be moved and officers called. The Los Angeles Police Station is decidedly full as it is. Therefore, the worries of the rest of the force. If the court is moved to some other place in the station, someone else is going to be squeezed. Judge Bullock also has the women's court, which, when regarded as a neighbor, isn't just exactly valued as an asset by any other department.

"Well, it's up to the Police Commission," declared Judge Bullock yesterday. "Personally, I'm glad; the old room was too small and stuffy."

So it seems that the Police Commission and occupants of the police station will do a little worrying in the next few days. For his part, Dr. Parrish said he took action following the failure of the Board of Public Works to provide other quarters as he suggested in a communication on the 4th inst.

DIPLOMAT LIKES ANGEL CITY

Marc Peter Says He Hopes Son Will Locate in Southland; Admiral Praises Spirit

Marc Peter, Swiss Minister to the United States, was the guest of honor yesterday at an informal luncheon tendered him and his associate, Adrian Loeb, Swiss Consul here, by President R. W. Pridham, the directors and members of the foreign trade committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in the board room of the chamber's new building.

Four years ago Minister Peter, then visiting Los Angeles for the first time, was so impressed by the promise of its commercial and industrial future that he advised his government to establish a consulate here, in addition to the one at San Francisco.

"We began," said Consul Loeb, with scarcely business enough to occupy us half an hour a day. Now we are busy every minute from 8 o'clock till closing time."

Minister Loeb is such an admirer of the United States that he has educated his son in American schools to be a civil engineer and hopes to see him, he said, associated with the hydroelectric development of Southern California.

"Like many other visitors," he continued, "I knew nothing, until I came here and saw for myself, of your industrial development. Your admirable climate is a powerful factor not only in attracting tourists and permanent residents, but in the efficient operation of your growing manufacturers. Your people show it. There is something of the sun and the blue sky in their faces."

Read-Admiral H. H. Rousseau, U.S.N., also a guest, touched a kindred note in referring to the shipbuilding records established by Los Angeles during the war.

"Those records," he said, "were a good deal puzzled over at firts in the East, gut finally we came to perceive that they were due, not to technical devices and methods so much, as to management and spirit. Your men were not bound by precedent. They made their own way and shaped their rules of procedure to the ends thy had in view."

Among the other guests were: F. Krattiger, Swiss vice-consul, and Adrian Hartog, the Netherlands consul.

RAIL MASONS TO MEET

The Square and Compass Club, the Masonic organization of the Los Angeles Railway, will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the green room of the Masonic Temple, Pico and Figueroa streets. The feature of the evening will be a lecture on "Free Masonry," by Dr. Glen MacWilliams.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

BREAKING ground for a new Orpheum Theater marks the beginning of a new era in theatricals for Los Angeles.

For some reason the Orpheum has always been the bell cow which has led the local herd.

"NIGGER HEAVEN" DAYS

I remember when the Orpheum first opened here. It was in the old Child's Grand Operahouse at First and Main streets.

That had been for years the one legitimate theater of which we boasted. I have stood in line so long in front of the "nigger heaven" entrance to that old show house that my little legs almost took root.

We used to save for weeks to get a quarter to see Frederick Warde and Louis James in "Julius Caesar" and such like.

The best show I ever saw in that old house, however, was Henry Miller in "Shenandoah;" the worst one was Margaret Mather in "The Lady of Lyons." If she is still alive, I am going to hunt her up some day and demand my quarter back.

A GREAT FUTURE

The Orpheum moved in there; in time it moved to Spring street between Second and Third; then to its present site on Broadway.

I think that it will open a new era. Los Angeles is about to become one of the great producing centers of the world.

Conditions here are favorable to the establishment of the most remarkable stock companies that have ever been known.

PLAYS AND ACTORS

The trouble with the amusement business is this:

The legitimate theater — the road show, at least—has good plays, but atrocious actors and stupid stage management. The movies have good actors and most extraordinary direction; but sappy, moron stories.

One of these days, one of the big movie-producing companies will open a stock company theater and use its movie actors on its stages. And it will be the most conspicuous theatrical enterprise in the world.

BEHOLD! THE KING!

It looks as though the British had decided that the Prince of Wales had been overplayed.

Following the protest by one of the Labor party politicians, the King and Queen have suddenly been rediscovered.

The Labor leader said that the Prince was a "nincompoop", and that too much money was spent on his travels. Whereupon the Klieg lights were suddenly shifted from the Princeling: The King and Queen started with a great blare of trumpets on a trip to the Mediterranean.

Doubtless the gratitude of bored-to-death little Prince is very great. People who know him well say that he is really rather up-stage in his heart. This continual strain to be a democrat and a good fellow, caressing the horny hand of the hoi polloi, is probably very trying to him. He will be glad to let pa do the horny hand grasping for a while.

AS TO TELEPHONES

I know now why all the Americans went to live in France.

Only eighteen telephone conversations per year per person take place in that country of the blessed. Over here we have 175 conversations per person, per year.

The telephone makes business life possible in this country. Also, it permits various pests to live unnecessarily. There is some measure of defense possible against the insect who tries to invade your office. There is almost no bulwark possible against the one who calls you up by phone and keeps saying the same thing over and over again.

". . . oh, well then, you can't do anything for me . . . then I spose I'd better see the editor . . . well then, if you can't do anything for me . . . where did you say I'd find the editor . . . well, all right then . . . if you can't do anything for me . . . what did you say the editor's name is . . . well, all right then . . . "

There are so many people who deserve to be killed; but who live on and on.

OPENS OFFICE

James H. Childs, until recently sanitary engineer for the City Health Department, announced yesterday that he has opened offices at 801 Central building for the practice of civil and sanitary engineering.

WESTERN AUTO HOST FOR KHJ

Fine Concert is Celebration of Four Birthdays

Malova, Russian Soprano, is Feature of Evening

Little Philharmonic to be on Air Tonight

BY CLAIRE FORBES CRANE

What a wonderful thing birthdays are! It is very old-fashioned now to dread them, rather in this modern age of optimism are they to be eagerly looked forward to as symbols of past days in which have been sown the seeds of our future happiness. KHJ has become accomplished in the art of playing host at birthday celebrations, and last evening we celebrated no less than four birthdays simultaneously. The program was presented through the courtesy of the Western Auto Supply Company, which opened its first store at Twelfth and Main streets nine years ago. The other three "birthday children" of the occasion were Mrs. L. R. Pepperdine, vice-president and treasurer of the Western Auto Supply Company; Mr. Baker, brother of Mrs. Pepperdine, and the manager of the Anaheim store.

The Western Auto Supply Company is one more reason why the Pacific Coast—and especially California—has acquired world fame so quickly. From a humble beginning a few years ago has grown the largest organization of its kind in the world, operating 120 stores, located in the leading cities of nine western States.

The arranger of this birthday party was J. Howard Johnson, and the artists who participated were the Orfeon Trio, composed of William E. Hullinger, flute; Catherine Jackson, harp, and Joseph Heindl, 'cello; Lenore Killian, contralto, and Howard Griffin, violinist. This was the second in a series of programs to be sponsored by the Western Auto Supply Company to run for one year.

TRIO PLEASES ALL

The Orfeon Trio is an exceedingly popular organization with the KHJ family. Its programs are designed with a view to satisfying the greatest variety of tastes, and each member's charm of personality multiplied three times makes it one of our most delightful musical units.

Though still in his 'teens, Howard Griffin has reached a maturity of musical interpretation that speaks eloquently for a brilliant future. His tone and musicianship bear the unmistakable stamp of his noted teacher—Calmon Luboviski.

The program not only served to commemorate the birthday of the Western Auto Supply Company, but presented after a prolonged absence, Caterina Malova, one of the finest sopranos produced by Russia. The older followers of KHJ will recall this artiste's debut on one of our matinee programs one year ago. The musical growth which she revealed since her last appearance was an accomplishment only possible by those whose talents and faculty for application mark them for fame in their chosen field. The timber of her voice has the oriental characteristics which make it at once elusive and the most tangible thing.

Mme. Malova sang the aria from "Tosca," and Musetta's Waltz Song from "La Boheme," with a dramatic significance which as a fine actress she knows so well how to impart. A more extensive review of her voice will be given on the only other appearance over radio which she will make in the near future.

GYPSY AIRS THRILL

The warm, emotional tone of Joseph Heindl's 'cello, and the silver, elf-like flute of William Hullinger stood out like Zorn etchings against the background of Catherine Jackson's lovely harp.

Our KHJ studio family are very warm-hearted, sincere lovers of radio, and are always eager and willing to step into the breach caused by illness or other conditions beyond the station's control. Yesterday noon we were confronted with a problem of filling a vacancy on the program as the result of the artist's illness. Floryane Thompson, soprano, and Grace Currey, harpiste, paid us an unexpected visit and were immediately conscripted to furnish the noon-hour entertainment. Their consent was instantaneous and the pleasure with which they performed the task was as great as that which they afforded their listeners.

Mr. A. E. Blackner, dramatic tenor, added to the pleasure of the hour with a group of songs.

The matinee program which, as usual, was given through the courtesy of the Pacific States Electric Company, presented the Russian Gypsy Trio, Gladys Terrill, soprano, and Grace Currey, harpist. How beautiful the gypsy music—breathing of young love and romance, in which the seasons never change, but spring is eternal. Charging their interpretations with the spark of their native spirit, the Russian Gypsy Trio fairly electrified their listeners. Grace Terrill's delicate soprano voice was as warm as the brilliant rays of sunlight in Metcalf's "Absent," yet in Pearl Curran's "Rain," her pianissimo tones were as refreshing as raindrops. Grace Currey gave her customary performance on the harp.

LITTLE SYMPHONY TONIGHT

Prof. Walter Sylvester Hertzog rung up the curtain on the children's hour with his daily tales of American history. He was followed by Richard Headrick, one of our most popular screen juveniles and radio entertainers. The other youngsters who contributed to the entertainment of the lads and lasies were Viggo Keil, 15-year-old flutist; Virginia Collins, child reader; Catherine Rose Nutt, 4-year-old reader; Wilfred Shults, 14-year-old reader, and Catherine Cotter, 6-year-old reader. Lenore Killian, whose delightful contralto voice has been heard from our station many times, delighted the youngsters by a cradle song, accompanied by Edythe Petesch.

At 7:30 o'clock Gladys De Witt gave us another fascinating installment of the "Romance of the Santa Fe Trail," through the courtesy of the Santa Fe Railroad.

At 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Herbert Adams Gibbon delivered a logical and interesting address on the subject of "Education as a Peace Mentor."

Tonight at 8 o'clock Radioland will have the pleasure of hearing for the first time the Los Angeles Miniature Philharmony Orchestra, under the direction of Andre Maquarre, noted conductor, composer and flute. This organization is composed of sixteen selected men of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra. This feature comes to you tonight through the generosity of William E. Bush, Inc., Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Distributors of Los Angeles. Lovers of good music will find it profitable to tune in on this splendid program.

BURGLARS MAKE ESCAPE

Surprised in the act of robbing the house of Edward Weitzel, 1329 North Hobart Boulevard early yesterday morning, two burglars finally succeeded in breaking away from Mr. Weitzel, who had grabbed them as they started toward the rear of the house, and escaped. Hollywood police were told when they arrived at the house in answer to a telephone call. The men took $2 in currency and a small gold pin, Mr. Weitzel stated.

Three hundred women workers in the Bledsoe-for-Mayor campaign gathered at the headquarters, 425 South Spring street, for the first of the weekly meetings to be held until the election and were welcomed by Judge Bledsoe in a brief speech in which he stressed his desire for law enforcement that will make Los Angeles safe for law-abiding men and women. The candidate also urged the campaign workers to ask all citizens to go to the polls on election day and vote. Enthusiasm and confidence in the outcome of the candidacy of Judge Bledsoe were the outstanding features of the gathering. The large crowd highly complimented the speakers with an absorbed interest, particularly noticeable during the address delivered by the candidate. Interspersed through the schedule of speeches, a number of musical selections won the hearty applause of the women. Dr. Marion Tracie Whiting and her "Musical Three," Helen Ethel Littlejohn, contralto and pianist; Edna Earle Pierce, soprano, and Mary Bell Gunther, whistling obligatist, won huge favor as did the violin selections of Amadeo Reno, who was accompanied by Miss Gloria Blackiston.

Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz was the first of the women speakers, the introduction being made by the chairman, Mrs. A. M. Marsh. Other women who spoke during the afternoon included Mrs. M. A. English, Mrs. Dora A. Stearns, Mrs. H. V. Davis, Miss Jame Humphries, Mrs. Martha Helen McCann and Mrs. Florence Collins Porter.

Campaign Manager George B. Bush, after an illness which has confined him to his home for nearly a week, returned to headquarters yesterday afternoon and will direct the future activities of the campaign.

NOT GUILTY PLEA TO McCOY JURY CHARGE

Wilbur Campbell pleaded not guilty yesterday to a new indictment charging attempted jury tampering, and Judge Hahn set his trial for April 14. Campbell is accused of telephoning to J. J. Apffel, a juror in the Kid McCoy murder trial, and trying to influence his verdict. His first indictment was set aside as defective.

DENIES JESUS WAS REFORMER

as He would those who exploit them.

"Do not be deceived," said Dr. Steiner. "It is not institutions that are to blame for the sins and sorrows of society. It is men and women who are to blame. Institutions may be transformed by regenerated men. It is not the dying, but the lying and the hating that makes war most terrible. Nationalism, by which we are governed, and capitalism, by which we are fed, are basic institutions and are not evils in themselves. Love of country and desire for home and wealth are natural and are evil only in so far as men and women are narrow and selfish."

Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, in an address on "The Challenge to Leadership," said in part:

"These are days of muddy thinking. Any man, with a new idea about science, theology or economics, starting out at dawn, can get a following by nightfall. Los Angeles is peculiarly susceptible to new ideas or pseudo-ideas. If you want to settle any important question, leave your office or laboratory and go to Pershing Square—any man there can tell you anything you wish to know or prove to you that you are wrong. Today there is greater need than ever for teachers whose principal business shall be to stimulate thought. Many of the hours which many educators spend in explaining to students the truth about that of which they themselves are not always sure, might well be given to the students who should give more attention to discovering for themselves if what their teachers tell them is true."

Speaking of war and crime, Dr. Von KleinSmid said Americans have a habit of hiding behind slogans.

"We talk of outlawing war and crime, but we cannot outlaw abstractions," said Dr. Von KleinSmid. "To stop war we must change the hearts of those who have it in their power to make and declare war. To stop crime, the right kind of education must be given to those who bear and rear children."

WILLIS CASE INQUISITION TERMINATED

Removal of Mother to Prison Regarded as Finale of Baldwin Slaying Trial

As Mrs. Margaret Willis was being taken to San Quentin last night to serve a life sentence for the murder of Dr. Benjamin Baldwin, Dist.-Atty. Keyes announced that the investigation of the story told by Harold (Sonny) Willis in an effort to save his mother, is at an end.

"The grand jury has heard all but one possible witness and we are convinced she can throw no light on the matter," said the District Attorney. "We believe that Sonny invented his confession himself and that no one prompted it.

The District Attorney referred to Mrs. Virginia Nelson, sister of Mrs. Willis, as the witness who had not been heard. No effort will be made to call her before the grand jury, he said. Sonny's confession, later repudiated, was that he, and not his mother, shot Dr. Baldwin.

Mrs. Willis went to prison on the Owl, accompanied by Mrs. Alice Berry and Deputy Sheriff Blaisdell. She was allowed to see Sonny in the last hours before the train left. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Willis left the County Jail by permission of Judge Crail and the District Attorney and went to the Percival Hotel, 845 South Hill street, to pack her personal belongings. She was guarded by Deputy Sheriffs Belle De Wolfe and Amstein.

CHURCHES TO BE DEDICATED

Services Tomorrow at South Park Baptist and at Our Savior's Evangelical Lutheran

Dedication of two handsome churches, recently completed at a cost of $200,000, will feature the religious life of Los Angeles tomorrow. Our Savior's Evangelical Lutheran Church, built on a $35,000 lot at West Fourteenth and Oak streets, at a cost of $150,000, will be dedicated at 11 a.m. by Rev. P. B. Hoff, the pastor, assisted by other noted Lutheran clergymen. Tomorrow evening Prof. E. J. Margh will give a recital on the $10,000 pipe organ, installed by the Young People's Luther League. The public is invited to both services.

Beginning at 10:30 a.m., with a sermon by Rev. Gordon Palmer, the pastor, dedicatory services will be conducted at the South Park Baptist Church, built at an approximate cost of $50,000 on a $12,000 lot at Fifty-first street and McKinley avenue. At 2:45 p.m., Rev. J. B. Fox will preach, and the speaker of the evening will be Dr. S. W. Cummings, professor of Biblical literature at the Redlands University. The speakers for next Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings are, respectively, Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Rev. James Holmes, Dr. W. F. Harper and Judge Carlos Hardy. Beginning on the 29th inst., a series of evangelistic services, to be conducted every evening excepting Mondays, will be conducted at the new church. Music will be furnished by the Immanuel Male Quartet and Saxophone Club.

"IS CHRIST DIVINE?"

Lenten sermons of vital interest to Christians have been prepared for tomorrow by Drs. Frank Dyer and Charles F. Aked, pastors of the Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church. At 11 a.m., Dr. Dyer will preach at the Ambassador Hotel Theater on "Is Christ Divine?" and at the same hour Dr. Aked will preach at the Forum Theater on "The Teaching of Jusuus About Religion—a Revolution in Human Thought." At 5 p.m., at the Ambassador, Dr. Aked will discuss the question, "What Does the World Owe to the Genius and Greatness of Germany?" Dr. Dyer announced yesterday that the second Pacific Coast Theological Conference, the purpose of which is to promote Christian thinking, will be conducted at the First Congregational Church on the 30th and 31st inst., and on April 1. Noted ministers and teachers from various parts of the United States will participate in the discussions and the public is invited to "listen in." With brief recesses, the sessions will be continuous during the three days of the conference, which will begin at 9:30 a.m. each day.

DIVINE POWER CHURCH

"Much of the misery and misfortune in life is caused by maladjustment to self and to environment and men and women are on the sure road to happiness when they have found their real places in the scheme of things." So declares Mrs. Lelia S. Castberg, pastor of the Church of Divine Power, who will preach on that theme at the Morosco Theater tomorrow morning. Sunday school will be conducted at 9:45 a.m. at 833 South Spring street.

MINISTERS TO MEET

Hon. William E. Sweet, formerly Governor of Colorado, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Ministerial Association of Los Angeles, to be conducted next Monday at 10 a.m. at the Y.M.C.A. Prof. Hugo Kirchoffer will lead community singing. Ministers of all denominations are invited.

TO ADDRESS KHJ

A sermon appropriate to the Lenten season entitled "What do You Think of Christ?" will be preached from The Times broadcasting station at 10 a.m. tomorrow by Rev. J. A. V. Pieters, pastor of the Hoover-street Baptist Church.

"WHAT WOULD YOU DO?"

"If you lived in a community in which the only church was a Roman Catholic church what would you do? Did the Senate give the President a fair deal? Why do Christian Scientists die? What law is involved in healing methods? Is it morally right to use intoxicating wine for sacramental purposes?" These questions, recently asked of Dr. William MacCormack, dean of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, will be answered by Dr. MacCormack in his sermon at the cathedral tomorrow evening. At the morning hour Dr. MacCormack will review the book, "The Word and the Work," by Rt. Rev. Winnington Ingram, Bishop of London. The speaker at the noonday meetings next week, conducted every day excepting Saturday, will be Canon Learned, rector of All-Saints' Church of Pasadena.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Services will be conducted tomorrow at 11 a.m. in the eighteen Christian Science churches of Los Angeles, The subject of the lesson-sermon is "Matter." Services will also be conducted tomorrow at 8 p.m. in First, Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth and Thirteenth churches. All churches hold regular Wednesday-evening meetings at which testimonials of Christian Science healing are given.

TEMPLE BAPTIST

Two services of exceptional interest are announced for the Temple Baptist Church tomorrow. The special speaker in the morning will be Rev. John H. Rushbrook of London, Eng., one of the most powerful preachers of Christendom, and the soloist will be Mrs. Helen Westgate Lamson, soprano of Tremont Temple, Boston. The closing session of the School of Missions will be conducted at 5:30 p.m. At 7:30 p.m. the Temple man's department will be in charge of the service and Judge Carlos Hardy will preside. Following a brief address by Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, addresses will be made by Hon. Frank G. Tyrrell and B. R. Patrick, the latter being fleet chaplain of the United States Navy.

TRINITY METHODIST

Rev. Bob Shuler, who has returned to Los Angeles from a preaching engagement at Seattle, will preach at the Trinity Methodist Church tomorrow morning on "The Struggling Man," and in the evening on "Popping the Question." PIPE LINE TAPPING CHARGES DISMISSED

Charges of receiving stolen property against R. A. Guthrie and H. W. Decius were dismissed yesterday by Judge Reeve at the recommendation of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Orme. They were indicted on the charge when it was asserted they bought oil from E. D. Bryant, accused of tapping a pipe line of the Standard Oil Company in the Signal Hill field.

Deputy Orme stated that an investigation had disclosed that the pair bought the oil in good faith. Guthrie and Decius operate an oil brokerage business. Bryant is awaiting trial on a charge of grand larceny in connection with the asserted theft of oil valued at $2200.

REDUCED UPWARD

A man slightly deaf went to the doctor with a bruised finger. The doctor washed and bandaged it and when the man asked the charge said, "Oh, it is just a trifle and won't cost anything."

The man, not hearing distinctly, said, "No, no, sir; you will need to make it less than that."

The doctor, realizing the situation, replied, "very well, we will say $1.50," which the man paid, thinking he had knocked something off.—[Exchange.

Go To Church Sunday

Why You Should Go To Church

By Rev. Carl S. Patton, First Congregational Church

Rev. Carl S. Patton, D.D. Pastor First Congregational Church

Because you like to.
Because you get something there that satisfies you.
Because you learn something there about God and human life.
Because you want the association of good people to help you to be better.

People who don't enjoy it—
People who don't get anything out of it—
People who already know all about God and human life—
People who don't care to be any better—
Should never go to church at all.

COUNCIL ON FENCE OVER UNIVERSITY

Latest Resolution Reveals No Definite Board Decision To

The City Council has adopted its third resolution in regard to the location of a larged University of California Southern Branch.

Yesterday's action cannot be considered unless the provisions are known.

Following is a complete list of the resolutions of the last few days, each adopted unanimously:

Resolution No. 1.—The Council requests the Board of Regents of the university to select a site in the corporate limits of the City of Los Angeles.

Resolution No. 2.—The Council asks the Board of Regents to select the so-called Beverly site.

Resolution No 3.—(Text missing)—The Council informs the Board of Regents that it has no preference between the Beverly site and the Burbank site.

Then being in a resolving mood and having the university on its mind, the Council asked the Board of Regents to dedicate a strip along the west side of Vermont avenue from Willoughby to Monroe street for the widening of Vermont, promising that this is done the university will be relieved of any further cost for widening purposes.

The Board of Regents is scheduled to meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in San Francisco to act on a site for the Southern branch. At a meeting on the 16th inst. the board was unable to reach a decision and action was deferred until today.

TUNNEL JINX BOBS

City Loses Move for Refund on Bond Suit

The jinx of the Second street tunnel rose up again yesterday and swatted the city of Los Angeles another wallop when State Supreme Court denied the city a rehearing on the $1,000,000 suit brought by an attorney in the contractor, according to word received by Attorney Emmett Wilson.

The suit was brought by Frank Powell, as trustee for Charles Hayes, who built the tunnel, to secure possession of bonds issued to cover part of the cost of the tunnel. The bonds amounted to $524,159.10 with accrued interest totaling nearly $100,000. When the tunnel was completed after delays that made the project a fair a farce, the city offered payment in cash instead of the bonds, planning to pocket the interest on the bonds.

Powell brought suit in the superior Court to get the bonds instead of the cash. He lost, appealed the case and the Superior and District Court of Appeal Division Two, decided the city in his favor. Powell appealed to the Supreme Court, was denied by that body, appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States, which pronounced yesterday that he had received word that the State Supreme court denied a rehearing to the city.

City Attorney Stephens, who advised of the action of the Supreme Court, said that further appeal in the case could be taken.

CARRYING WEIGHT

The new Attorney-General is over six feet high and is said to weigh nearly 300 pounds.

THE STORM CENTER

According to the indemnity companies, the country had $30,000,000 worth of cyclones last year. As usual Kansas heads the list in the number of storms. But the Sunflower State has many other things to blow about.

A WIRY OLD MAN

The inventor of barbed wire is also an Illinois bank president and has just celebrated his 99th birthday. When he turned out his first invoice of prickly wire he never thought that a world war would be fought with it and a trust war over it.

LONDON STUFF

New Yorkers are now able to dance to music that has been broadcast from London. With a British fog clogging the streets every now and then, the noble Knickerbockers can readily dream they are in London without even closing their eyes.

CLADANG AND BUFFALO

Zoologists have discovered that the cladang of Indo-China is a first cousin to our buffalo. Save in size, they are said to be perfect replicas. The forbears of the buffalo are supposed to have left Asia via the ancient Alaskan land bridge and in this country found sweeter grasses, grew larger and prospered amazingly—until the white man came.

CRUELTY AND FASHION

In the divorce court a wife sets forth the sad fact that her brutal husband had provided her with but one new dress in fifteen years. To make a woman spread her frock over a span of fifteen long and weary years is cruelty in its most vindictive form. Some butterflies have new raiment every year and poultry get new suits of feathers annually.

WEEK OF BEAUTY

Our national "weekly" habit is being extended into other countries. They are having "Better Roads" weeks in Australia and several other lands. They have had a "Smile" Week in Canada and now the Ontario druggists are sponsoring a "Beauty" Week. For one full week the Canadian girls will be shown how they may further beautify themselves by the employment of the arts and artifices known to the specialists and purveyors of paint and powder.

AIRSHIPS FOR MANILA

A few stout mooring masts would make the airship line from California to the Philippines by way of Honolulu and Guam a perfectly feasable proposition. In this way all of the nation's overseas properties could be connected up and be reachable on short notice. The new Los Angeles could easily make the full trip in five or six days and by handling mail the line could be operated at a profit. The Navy Department should be able to find a way to put up and supervise the necessary masts.

THE BONE OF CONTENTION

The finding of human bones intermixed with the bones of glyptodons in the Argentine has led amateur naturalists to believe that men existed in South America during the Age of Reptiles. In a sense this is true, for in parts of South America the Age of Reptiles has not yet ended. Alligators, crocodiles and boa constrictors are "hangover" representatives of premammalian times, but the finding of human fossils in an alligator's wallow would not have much bearing on the antiquity of man.

ECONOMY IN WORDS

The latest invention in Switzerland is called "hochdruckkondensationsdampflokomotive." Considering that it stands for the speediest traction engine, it takes the edge off speed economy in ordering the engineer to bring up the darn thing. We would suggest pronunciation of the word to dyspeptics who find difficulty in controlling their temper. Directions for use: take a long breath, inhaling and exhaling in rapid advance, and reverse; sneeze, sputter, cough and sit down. For telephone order: charter long-distance wire and telegraph operator to hold the wire and d—n the expense.

LOST MOTION

According to the best figures obtainable by government experts, the number of workers engaged in distribution has in ten years increased more than eight times as fast as the proportion engaged in production. The number of hands between the producer and consumer is steadily increasing, in spite of education and appeal for a closer alliance. Herbert Hoover does not see how the high cost of living can be perceptibly lowered while this condition exists. There are too many links in the chains and a surplus of chains. These and imperfect methods of shipment increase the number of hands through which the product must pass. Getting rid of a lost motion is the dearest hope of Secretary Hoover.

HELP THE CYCLONE VICTIMS!

In a clash of the angry forces of nature thirty towns and villages in the Middle West were reduced in ten minutes last Wednesday to twisted, smoking ruins, farm houses through the countryside were demolished, hundreds were killed, thousands were injured and tens of thousands were rendered homeless.

No human agency was at fault; the loss of life and property was not due to the violence of human passion unleashed, and yet men, women and children were the innocent victims. Man has been able to fetter some of the wild forces of nature, but not that of the cyclone. Only those who have seen one of these copper-colored, funnel-shaped clouds plunge over the horizon and race across city and plain with the speed of a racing motor car can appreciate the horror and the terror of it.

Such a catastrophe is unpreventable in those districts where atmospheric conditions make cyclones possible. Southern California, happily for those who reside here, is immune. We are like those standing on the cliffs and looking forth on the ravages wrought by storms at sea. We cannot prevent the storm, but we can and should render swift aid to the victims of the frenzied elements.

For the dead we can give only tears; but for the living we can extend the material assistance to replace, in part at least, that which they have lost. And how near to so many of us are the victims of that catastrophe! Illinois was hardest hit; and there are more former residents of Illinois living in Los Angeles than of any other State. Portions of Missouri, Indiana and Kentucky also lay in the path of the cyclone, and the harvest of death and destruction was there heavy.

In contributing funds for the immediate relief of the sufferers we are giving to our own. "Back home" there has been a catastrophe; and we can help to mitigate the cruel effects. Not many months ago Southern California contributed generously to the Japanese relief. That was a gesture of pure generosity, not dictated by affinities of race and blood. Shall we do less for our own?

Recognizing the necessity for prompt service, The Times contributed Thursday $1000 to start a relief fund and made arrangements to receive, publish and forward promptly the contributions of others who are impelled by a spirit of co-operation to aid their brothers and sisters in distress. He who gives early gives twice; for the aid necessary is not that for next month or next year, but for today and the days that immediately follow.

The Chamber of Commerce, the State societies and other associations in Los Angeles are making contributions and have opened subscription lists. To be successful this spirit of giving must be universal. Those who have much should give much; and those who have little can give a little.

Now is the time to stand up and be counted. Let us prove as a community that we are not so satiated with our prosperity as to be deaf and blind to the misfortunes of others to whom destiny has been less generous. Los Angeles and Southern California have been peculiarly fortunate in that calamity has never visited us. Repeatedly has it been our duty and our pleasure to give; but never our necessity to receive. And we can give all the more freely because none of our resources has been consumed in replacing destruction by a local catastrophe.

Fortunate is the individual and the community to whom it is permitted to give to a brother in distress; for it is in exercising such a privilege that one feels his spirit for a moment in tune with the infinite.

THE AGED LOVER

On a recent midnight, over the grave of his wife in Evergreen Cemetery, a man of 85 years pulled the trigger of a revolver and sent his soul into the invisible to search for that of the mate for whom he long had mourned in deepest grief. On many an evening during the past two and one-half years the aged, sorrow-stricken man had gone to the cemetery and made his tottering way along the cypress-bordered walks to where his dead lay under the grassy mound and there he had knelt alone above the mortal remains of his lost loved one until at last grief had possessed and mastered his mind and laid upon him the mad demand that he must no longer remain in this world, but go to her beyond the dark river.

When the shot that flickered out his life and his sorrow rang through the cemetery the superintendent thought he sensed what had happened and almost knew that it marked the passing of the man who had been the husband of the woman upon whose headstone was graved "Carrie Miller. Died September 17, 1922. Aged 69." He went to the woman's grave and there in the moonlight he found the old man, lying face downward, the revolver still clenched in his hand.

"Miller," the superintendent told the police, "had been visiting the cemetery night after night since his wife died. He'd come in through the big gates, a bent figure, along about 8 o'clock. Usually, midnight found him still kneeling at the foot of her grave or standing there looking at the stars."

Those of the present generation who fancy that love is only a passion of youth and that it withers with age have much to learn about the strength of the bond that unites a happy married pair that have shared one another's joys and woes for a long period of years. Of the love that reigns in the heart of age Emerson said: "It is to be considered that this passion of which we speak, though it begin with the young, yet forsakes not the old, or rather suffers no one who is truly its servant to grow old, but makes the aged participators of it not less than the tender maiden, though in a different and nobler sort."

No love is more beautiful, more true and tender than that of a husband and wife who have passed threescore. The grief that comes to one of them when the other passes out of this life is as deep, as dark, as hard to be borne as that which comes to the disconsolate lover of lesser years. And it is none the less because the survivor knows that the ripe fruit must fall and that sorrow for the dead is the common lot of those who remain in this life after loved ones have passed. The commonness of it takes nothing from its poignancy. Useless to tell the bereaved one that to hug grief to his heart is a sign of self-pity or to give philosophic advice. "Everyone," says the deep-seeing bard of Stratford, "can master a grief but he that has it."

Age, having less capacity for toil in which the young and active find relief from sorrow, is in a sadder way. It sits and broods and will not be comforted. Yet it should be brave and wise enough to know that suicide, as a way out of bereavement, violates the law of God. There are those of deep faith in the wisdom of the Almighty who bow their heads and say, "Thy will be done." There is comfort in such faith and in the happy thought, which all should share, that: "Earth hath no sorrow that heaven cannot heal."

THE RADIO A REFORMER

For every disease there seems to be a panacea. Where the Peruvian fever rages there grows the quinine tree. The automobile came and the home ceased to be a home—it became a house where folks stayed at night. It was just a shelter. Reading around the fireside became a lost art, and lectures and music were but memories of the past.

Then came the radio!

Gas has given away to juice. The battery has been purloined from the car and installed in the home. It is no longer the latest model men discuss—it is neutrodyne or the superheterodyne. Who cares about the number of cylinders in this hour, so long as you know the wave length?

Now you stay at home and sit around the radiant heater, put on your slippers, take off your coat and tune in. You first have a vocal solo from KHJ, revel in a band in San Francisco, then go off on a trip to Chicago. A journey to New Zealand or Australia is a matter of seconds.

The home has been restored. The boy makes his own set. You are educated on the weather, finance or religion. The air is flooded with culture. It has been in your room for ages and you did not know it.

Just when we were about to start a crusade in behalf of a new reformation for the old-fashioned fireside and reproach the present generation for its loss of the glorious institutions of the fathers along comes the scientist and saves us all the ink by a box. The radio has rescued the home.

The radio not only reunites the folks from Iowa with the friends in the old home town; but it reunites members of the same family in the same home. And there is now possibility of them living in serenity and happiness ever after.

The radio is the reformer of the age!

THE LONG WAY

Senator Capper is endeavoring to dispose of the marriage and divorce tangiements of Americans through a constitutional amendment. This is the favorite method of the politicians. There is absolutely nothing new in the Capper plan. When there is any question upon which the States can divide or disagree the constitutional amendment is likely to be invoked to meet the situation.

Of course, all sane men and women agree that it is unfortunate that there should be forty-eight different laws governing domestic relations—representing as many different States—but that a constitutional amendment giving Congress authority to prescribe uniform marriage and divorce laws should be the proper step of correction is not assured. Many States resent the interference of the Federal government in the internal affairs of their citizens.

The Capper amendment would not only provide Congressional action upon marriage and divorce, but would supply legislation governing the care and custody of children or their legitimization. This may be commendable in theory, but incompetent in practice. Through conferences of Governors and legislators there is a strong drift toward a standardization of the marriage laws of the States and this is likely to bring something in the way of achievement.

Sentiment at present is widely divergent. South Carolina, for instance, does not recognize any form of divorce. New York admits but one reason for a legal parting; but in other Eastern States like Alabama and New Hampshire from twelve to fifteen different grounds for divorce are recognized. This is a situation that is confusing without being amusing.

Some States rather pride themselves upon the ease with which their unhappy pairs may be parted. Others take like satisfaction in being strict and uncompromising. What is wanted is a reasonable standardization of the laws relating to both marriage and divorce. This may be reached through conference and example. The proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution is the longest way 'round.

RED ANTS WON

British newspapers have been giving headlines to a war between two species of ants in the London Zoo—a native black species and a red species from Africa. A small moat separated the raging races, until the reds bridged it with a splinter and charged the defenders in mass formation. The battle raged for several days. In the end the blacks were annihilated. No doubt the outcome meant as much to them as the World War to us. At their warfare we smile, forgetting that the gods may also find our wars amusing.

COMPENSATIONS

I always have envied the criminal class—
  Not because of its sinful pursuit,
Nor because of its excellent chance to amass
  A limitless fortune in loot.
The bandit's career with grave perils is rife,
  His morals are woefully lax;
I envy him only because, through his life,
  He pays not a penny of tax.

He need not set down the amount of each haul
  He makes in the line of his trade;
He knows no assessor is certain to call
  And insist that the taxes be paid.
Though often, I'm told, he is free with his pelf,
  And his takings are speedily spent,
He blows all the swag that he makes on himself,
  And the government gets not a cent.

No losses in business he has to record;
  No list of his yearly expense.
Serenely he pockets—or banks—all his hoard
  In diamonds or dollars and cents.
And when he counts up at the end of the year,
  He can gaze on his earnings with pride,
Knowing well that the fruits of his daring career
  He never will have to divide.

The hazards of crime are too many for me;
  I know I should shudder and quail
Whenever I thought I might possibly be
  Immured in an iron-lined jail.
To dodge all the sleuths who are dogging their tracks,
  These crooks must be crafty and active,
But the fact that they never need pay any tax
  Does make their base calling attractive.

LOVE TURNS NOT

Love turned to hate is bitterest, they say,
  Love turn to hate? Nay, never that can be.
False pride may turn, or envious jealousy,
Or self-love, often coin for true love, may.
But does the mother, bowed with grief and gray,
  Hate him whose life cost pain and sacrifice
  Because he breaks her heart? She pays the price
Through grief, through shame—and dreams of yesterday.

Passion may turn to hate, and selfishness
  Which loves but to be loved, and vanity.
And all weak things which wear love's livery
And filch its name to match their borrowed dress.
But they whose heart-sweet turns to hate but prove
That, whatsoe'er it was, 'twas never love.

LEE SHIPPEY.

Correct this sentence: "No, he isn't sick," said the mother; "he never eats more than half a banana."

LETTERS TO The Times

Price of Good Government

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Thoughtlessness, as well as dishonesty, is sometimes the cause of the passing of unwise laws, but it would seem that this year there has been more State bills touching morals that ought to be defeated than is usual. Most of these bills are still pending in committee and will never come out from the committee. Also some good bills have been killed in the committees.

The California State Senate refused to pass a bill which would increase the penalty for violations of the State gambling act relating to lotteries. The principal argument made against the bill by several senators was:

That it would prevent raffles in the churches, and Senator Slater declared that, under the present law, raffles are universal in the churches and elsewhere when it is desired to raise money. Under the present law it was stated that it is easy for them to continue paying the fine and violating the law. Strange as it may seem, this kind of argument was successful and the bill failed. On the other hand, a law which would authorize bootleggers to use force in resisting officers if, in the minds of the bootleggers, the officers were acting illegally, although the bill was argued very strenuously for by certain elements in the committee, was opposed by district attorneys and sheriffs and was killed. Likewise, the law proposing to tax churches, even if an announcement was made in the church in reference to any political movement or political measure, was killed in committee.

There are still pending bills which would make ineffective the Red Light Abatement Act and legalize pool selling and race-horse gambling. One of the bills is to be considered by the Committee on Live Stock and Dairies instead of the Committee on Public Morals. On March 25 the bill on week-day religious education is to have its second hearing before the Committee on Education.

Not only eternal vigilance but everlasting publicity is the price of our liberties and good government. REV. F. M. LARKIN,
Secretary of the State Church Federation, representing that organization at Sacramento.

University

LOS ANGELES, March 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Civic pride and performance of duty ought to awaken Los Angeles to the value of opportunity, now or never, to establish the branch university in the most central and best location between the mountains and the sea, in Elysian Park, containing 610 acres and approachable from all sides by all of the streets and traffic lines. It is a tract of land that can be enlarged at nominal expense on the north, east, south and west sides. Its climatic conditions are the best and its location would allow many students to reside at home and would allow many students to engage in lucrative employment absolutely necessary to them in acquiring a university education. And it ought to be remembered that the students need their homes and their homes need the university and upon graduation the family circle is broken as the graduates, like the young song birds, fly away from the home nest to build home nests of their own.

For all good reasons the university should be centrally located in the great city now building from the mountains to the sea, wherein will be built the greatest university in the world with an ever-increasing influence belting the world and no narrow or selfish interest should stand in the way.

The Elysian Park is now practically idle, but is commercially worth millions of dollars. The Legislature, now in session, and our city government, always in session, and the voice of our people could quickly arrange the legal proceedings necessary to deed, grant and convey Elysian Park to the State of California to be used forever for university purposes.

The university buildings, the dwellings for the professors, the improvements of the grounds and all of the necessary developments would add to the wealth, convenience and happiness of all parties concerned.

"Opportunity knocks but once," and if anything is to be done in this matter it must be done quickly. WILL D. GOULD.

Especially Cats

INGLEWOOD, March 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I can well sympathize with the feelings of M. Anna C. Winlow because people exterminate dogs and poison cats. As a newspaper man I reported a feud in Eastern Tennessee wherein the Jones pet dog assaulted the Green pigs, leading to ten years' "war," expenditure of a bushel or two of ammunition and numerous surgical and undertaker bills. Badly trained dogs, cats and children all lead to much ill-feeling. A dog-owner once told a friend of mine he loved his dog as much as the human loved his children and this excused the permanent crippling of a boy's arm by the St. Bernard. Here in Inglewood the city authorities, from Police Chief to health office, were requested last summer to investigate a woman with fourteen cats. The City Attorney told one inquirer he didn't "mix in neighbor rows."

With every consideration and sympathy in the world for people who love cats and dogs we can readily desire the owners to keep them, as children are kept, from being nuisances. I think I can promise the City Attorney and City Health Officer of Inglewood a fine and lively future, speaking politically, and Inglewood a wonderful boosting as a place where cats are privileged in the absance of an adequate sewer system, if a certain cat nuisance isn't abated.

VANDERBILT NEWSPAPER CRITICISED

Chamber of Commerce Raps Misleading Articles on City's Food

The following statement by R. W. Pridham, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, was received by The Times yesterday with the chamber's request that it be published:

At a meeting which was held on the 16th inst. between the publicity committee, representatives of the Health and Sanitation Committee, of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, representatives of the Restaurant Owners' Association of Los Angeles and a representative of the Illustrated Daily News, the purpose of the meeting was to discuss the publicity recently appearing in the Daily News concerning the food conditions in the city of Los Angeles, to which the Chamber of Commerce had made very serious objections. It was pointed out by the committee that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce desired above all things that the public should get the truth on all matters pertaining to their community, but that if any newspaper, any organization, or any individual in our community is sincerely and honestly interested in correcting any existing conditions which are detrimental to the community's welfare rather than in capitalizing unfortunate conditions which exist in every great community, for the promotion of self-interest, then the responsibility of that publisher, that organization, or that individual, is to go quietly about his corrective work, bringing such matters to the attention of the proper authority, and, if necessary, invoking the co-operation and aid of other organizations, individuals, etc., to see that the corrections are brought about.

It was further pointed out that there was a wide distinction between sincere service to the community through the properly established channels of correction, as against an effort to appear to be the champion of the people's cause, by capitalizing in the columns of the press unfortunate conditions which are very likely to be exaggerated and enlarged upon, at least in the community consciousness if not in the actual statement in the press; that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has always found the press of Los Angeles ready to support any and all constructive activities and constructive publicity, and that it was hoped that the Daily News would see that any notoriety which it secured at the cost of the community's welfare cannot ultimately be profitable to that or any other publication; that Mr. William B. Knox, representing the Illustrated Daily News, stated that his paper would be glad to support such policy.

In this connection I would like to state that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, through its big Committee on Health and Sanitation, has been studying and giving support to the city, county and State authorities in developing a wider control of the health and sanitation of the community and that these plans have been under way for a long time and are receiving the utmost co-operation of everyone, particularly the press, which is fully represented on the Health and Sanitation Committee; that it is the purpose of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to see to it that in every particular this community, in fact, this whole county, presents the best possible conditions in the safeguarding of the health of its population, and that this situation today is such as to warrant the heartiest commendation of all the health authorities, including city, county and State.

I desire again to express my sincere appreciation of the co-operation and helpfulness of the press in this and every other matter affecting the community welfare and progress.

The Illustrated Daily News gave yesterday what purported to be an account of the foregoing Chamber of Commerce statement. This is what the News said, complete and verbatim, on the subject:

"SUPPORT PLEDGE REITERATED

"Meanwhile, a new statement was issued by R. W. Pridham, president of the Chamber of Commerce, reiterating the promise of active support by that body in cleaning up Los Angeles and amplifying the previous indorsement given the work of the Illustrated Daily News in this matter. The statement, in part, follows:

"'The Chamber of Commerce desires above all things that the public should get the truth on matters pertaining to its community.

"'The Chamber of Commerce, through its health and sanitation committee, has been studying and giving support to the city, county and State authorities in developing a wider control of the health and sanitation of the community.'"

Wife Says Mate Kept Silent at Time of Crisis

George L. Moran was discreetly silent when he was faced by his wife and the other woman together, according to Mrs. Helen Moran's testimony at the trial of her suit for divorce before Judge Gates.

"She was a Mrs. Florence Miller," Mrs. Moran said. "She told me she had been going about with my husband some time before she knew he was married. She came to our house one day and flatly demanded to know which of us Mr. Moran was going to stick to."

"It must have been an extremely difficult moment for Mr. Moran," suggested Judge Gates. "How did he comport himself?"

"Oh, very discreetly," Mrs. Moran assured the court. "He just sat there and did not say anything. After Mrs. Miller left he walked out without comment."

"No doubt found silence golden where speech would have been but dross," Judge Gates observed. "Decree granted."

TUBERCULOSIS MEETING

The California Tuberculosis Association will hold its annual meeting in Los Angeles at the Ambassador, the 27th and 28th insts. Two important phases of the work of the association to be discussed include prevention of the disease among children and care for patients after they have regained their health.

Just think of it! Your living-room which, as you know, should be a place where every member of the family wants to forgather—amidst likable surroundings that induce a feeling of sociability—lovableness if you decorate with "Sanitas" that most ideal of wall coverings which is made on cloth and does not crack, fade, peel or tear and is kept immaculate by wiping it clean and fresh with a damp cloth. And as for designs in which it is made—also colors—why, you never saw any more lovely! Albert H. Walter, 816 South Main street, carries "Sanitas." You will do well to use it for every room in the house.

Left-over cereals, such as farina, oatmeal, mush, etc., can be poured while warm into large jelly glasses. After they have been in the refrigerator for a day they form regular molds and can be sliced in round pieces and fried for luncheon. You will be surprised how good they are with a dab of jelly or a little molasses.

No need of an Aladdin's lamp when wishing for embroidered Chinese silks everyone is wanting so badly. These words: "F. Suie One, 516 North Los Angeles street, Chinatown," if spoken aloud to a good guide will bring about your heart's desire.

Shamrock Biscuits—Use your favorite baking-power biscuit recipe, cut with a small cutter, place three in each compartment of your gem pans, oiled, and brush the tops with oil or melted butter. Bake six to twelve minutes with Lorain oven heat regulator at 450 deg.

Slip covers give a grateful feeling to the cushions of upholstered chairs as well as sofas, when the materials are chosen with good taste and when they are made properly. Slip covers also preserve the original cloth and in the spring are refreshing in appearance and easily laundered. Simank Brothers, 725-27 West Ninth, have in their employ a woman who is a perfect genius in fashioning these slip covers. Goes right to your house and takes measurements. Better call up and get particulars.

So often the screws in eyeglasses become loose and we have no screw driver small enough to tighten them. A steel pen or the end of a cuticle knife will answer the purpose.

It's almost impossible to describe Mora's Grill and the food they serve—and do justice to both. It requires a personal visit. Then when the hors d'oeuvre is served you begin to realize that you have discovered a real restaurant. At 107 W. Market St. is Mora's address.

The summer cretonnes may be washed without fear in warm water in which soap and bran water are mixed. You will be surprised how much dirt these cretonnes contain, too.

A few more warm days such as we have been having and we will, one and all, ask for L.A. "Lily" brand ice cream three times a day. Seems like the first thing you crave when extremely hot and tired is this delicious brand of ice cream made of thick double cream and real fruit juices. The "Sunday Special" is a whiz! The flavors are so well selected and always just what we wanted: for instance, this week you may expect Prune Whip, Strawberry Sherbert and Fruit Custard.

Did you know that cornmeal and vinegar will remove fruit stains from the hands?

The Averill-Morgan Company, announce their readiness to give you a splendid pre-Easter dry-cleaning and dyeing service. Whether you aspire to lead the fashion parade or not, you will certainly want to look your best. Your apparel need not be new; but it must be thoroughly renovated and in good repair. Let's take an inventory of our clothing resources. Phone them today and let their representative call. Their expert cleaning, dyeing and repair service more than pays for itself! ATlantic 7757.

The first thing the woman who wishes to run an economical budget must have is a knowledge of meat cuts and the preparation thereof. If properly prepared the cheaper cuts of meat can be made equally as tender and tasty as the more expensive cuts. It takes just a little time and study, but it certainly pays in the long run.

Haven't you a down quilt which has been lying around discarded for ages because you didn't know where you could send it to be renovated? The Western Feather and Down Works, 1205 W. Washington St., are not only thoroughly reliable, but modest in their charges. This is just the time of the year to have your quilt recovered.

Don't decide to do without your lunch to save time. You will waste just the same amount of time when you get home nursing a nasty headache.

Tell you another use for "Sanitas:" Makes the finest kind of table covering! At Albert Walter, 816 S. Main, you may buy the flannel-back Sanitas with the velvety finish which makes such beautiful table decorations and wears forever almost — for 75 cents a yard.

We are so often sent good things to eat in jars, dishes or glasses, which we entirely forget after the good things are eaten and in consequence, they are never returned. It is a good idea to write the sender's name on a slip of paper and tuck inside the container. Then it will stand a chance of being returned—and soon.

Picture a crisp green head of lettuce with leaves tender and sweet holding, perhaps, a luscious tomato, some asparagus tips, hearts of artichoke, diced celery and cucumber. Does it sound interesting? But wait until the finale—a lavish covering of French dressing made with genuine imported olive oil; Castruccio's Brothers, of course. Why, a salad of this sort or any other sort which Castruccio Virgin Olive Oil assists with is a meal in itself! You owe it to yourself and your family to use this real olive oil—beneficial, every drop of it.

Stuffed Baked Potatoes—Grease smoothly potatoes of uniform size with butter and bake one hour with the Lorain oven heat regulator at 400 deg. Now cut slice from side of potato, remove pulp without breaking shell, and mash, adding butter, milk, salt and white pepper to taste. Refill potato shell, dot top with butter, return to oven until light brown.

Do you need more than a mental picture of Arrowhead Water as it was when the Arrowhead Springs Company captured it far away in the San Bernardino Mountains, where the air is free from contamination and the water "as sweet as a nut"—to make you want a demijohn right away as fast as ever it can be delivered to you? You will feel, perhaps, a greater confidence in Arrowhead Water when you hear what Dr. H. H. Roberts says about this pure elixir of health and its beneficial properties. He contends that Arrowhead being slightly alkaline carries the salts which give the blood its natural constituents. Also Arrowhead being secured from a source which is free from surface contamination, such as the San Bernardino Mountains, is ideally pure. Never, he says, substitute boiled or filtered water when you can get a bottled water bottled under the most perfect and sanitary conditions as Arrowhead is, by a reliable and trustworthy concern. And finally he emphatically remarks that drinking water should be a business: that the normal functions of the body require thirty-two ounces daily. Fifty cents is all a demijohn of Arrowhead water costs: the cooler and lovely white enamel stand are given you to use free. HUmbolt 0300 is their phone number.

A tablespoonful of sugar to a gallon of water when rinsing the organdy dress will give it a body without being too stiff.

When you first bought a pound of Arizona Chocolate Drops, didn't you marvel at the absurdly small cost of them and wonder how in the world Kahn, Beck & Company could sell them so reasonably? Well, the expensive fancy box which eventually goes into the waste basket, is eliminated and hard labor done awary with. Being manufactured by machinery the cost is greatly reduced and the public gets the benefit. So, you see, there is a good reason for your showing partiality to Arizona chocolates made by Kahn-Beck. One thing more to tell you. A most interesting announcement is to be made next week. Be sure to look for it in this page.

I have found that a broom dampened with salt water will brighten the colors of a faded carpet.

That intense dislike for washing dishes will be entirely overcome when you begin to use White King Washing Machine Soap in granules. Don't look askance at this statement. The instantaneous lather, lather, which a couple of tablespoonfuls make in the pan into which you pour the hot water does this most disagreeable task before you know it and as one woman said, "My hands are so soft and white after doing the china now with 'White King' that I almost look forward to my daily three."

LYNNE DEFENSE SAVED FOR JURY

Evidence in Beauty Parlor Death Not Revealed

Woman Defendant Released in Attorney's Custody

Several Customers in Court But None is Called

Rather than reveal the nature of the testimony by which he hopes to free Mrs. Mary Lawrence of the manslaughter of Mrs. Jessie Gilchrist, who died in a beauty parlor the 4th inst., Attorney Russell H. Pray, counsel for the beauty specialist, submitted his case to Justice Robert H. Scott yesterday without calling a single witness. Mrs. Lawrence, known professionally as Mme. Electra Lynne, under the circumstances was held to answer to the Superior Court. She was released in custody of her attorney pending trial.

Attorney Pray's action was not entirely unexpected. He had intimated a week ago, when asking a continuance at the time Dep. Dist.-Atty. Harold L. Davis completed the presentation of the prosecution, that he might not submit a defense.

CONFERENCE IS HELD

His definite decision, however, was not reached until a few minutes before Justice Scott convened court at 2 p.m. At a conference between Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison, Attorney Pray and Justice Scott, the procedure was decided upon. In the meantime, a dozen or more defense witnesses were gathered in the courtroom, among them many women said to have been customers of Mme. Lynne's beauty parlor in Hollywood. Among the witnesses was Irene Hobbs, proprietor and manager of another beauty parlor, who, it is understood, would have revealed surprising testimony regarding the profession.

Attorney Pray stated that he decided to submit the case without defense in order to preserve his testimony intact for a Superior Court jury, indicating that he expects to introduce a mass of unusual evidence when the case goes to trial.

DIED AFTER OPERATION

Mrs. Lawrence is accused of manslaughter following the death in her office of Mrs. Gilchrist, formerly a Pasadena realty dealer. Mrs. Gilchrist died following a face-peeling operation, and County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner determined, through a chemical analysis by County Chemist Walker, that death had been due to phenol poisoning. Phenol, according to prosecution testimony at the first half of the preliminary hearing a week ago, was used in the face lotion. It is expected that Mrs. Lawrence will attempt to prove that the material used was prescribed for use by another person.

SOLOMON'S DEMURRER SUBMITTED

Decision on Motion to Strike Out Allegations in Balm Suit Postponed

The demurrer of Fred H. Solomon, dance hall proprietor, to the suit for $75,000 damages for asserted breach of promise brought against him by Mrs. Glena Syfert, a widow, was taken under advisement yesterday by Judge Crawford of Superior Court. Judge Crawford also postponed a decision on Solomon's motion to strike several of Mrs. Syfert's allegations from her complaint.

Mrs. Syfert asserted she met Solomon in 1916 and became engaged to him October 5, of that year. Shortly thereafter, she said, she took over the management of Solomon's dancing pavilion and continued in this capacity until a few months ago. During this time, she said, Solomon earned a profit of $500,000 from his business.

Solomon renewed his asserted promise to marry Mrs. Syfert on several occasions, according to the complaint, which recited that on one instance, while the plaintiff was confined in a hospital, the dance-hall proprietor told her he would marry her as soon as she was able to leave the institution. She said she asked Solomon twice since then to marry her, but he declined to do so.

Mrs. Syfert is represented by the law firm of Jones, Hoyt & Rifkind, while Attorneys Silverton and Williams appeared for Solomon.

Reinforcements Free Policeman 'Covered' by Pair

Hollywood police detectives are holding three men on suspicion of burglary charges, following their arrest Thursday night by Sergeant Gruey, Officers Erickson and Campbell. Two of the men, giving the names Harry Thomas and Paul Parker, were arrested at 12742 Ventura Boulevard after they were asserted to have held up Officer Campbell at the point of a revolver when he went to the rear of the house to investigate suspicious lights which he had noticed flashing on and off in the building. Sergeant Gruey and Officer Erickson, who followed Campbell, found the two with their revolvers pressed against Campbell's stomach and made the arrest.

The Ventura Boulevard home, owned by a Mr. Miller, was found to have been entered and ransacked. Servants' quarters at the rear of the house also had been entered and two fishing poles and a bayonet taken from them. The articles were found in the possession of the two men arrested.

The third man, Allan McCoy, was arrested at 800 South Burlington avenue. He is said to have been the driver of a car which left the Ventura Boulevard house shortly after the officers arrived.

POACHED EGGS, PORTLAND

For each person to be served cut two rounds of toasted bread three inches in diameter and two thick slices of peeled and cored apple. Dip the apple slices in milk, roll in flour and fry a nice brown on both sides in hot butter. Place a slice of fried apple on a round of toast, sprinkle lightly with curry powder and cover with a poached egg.

ROAST TAME DUCK

Clean, dress, wash, wipe, and stuff a tame duck with a dressing made by mixing half a cupful of stale bread crumbs with two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one cupful of mashed potatoes, half a teaspoonful of salt, half of a finely chopped onion cooked until soft in one tablespoonful of butter with two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped salt pork, a few grains of cayenne pepper, two teaspoonfuls of finely chopped capers, and a little mace; when well mixed add one slightly beaten egg. Truss the stuffed duck, place in a roasting pan on a rack, add to the pan one chopped stalk of celery, half a sliced onion, one sliced carrot, one bay leaf, and three whole cloves; rub the bread with mixed salt and pepper, cover with thin slices of salt pork and bake until tender, allowing sixteen minutes to the pound. Baste five or six times and twenty minutes before removing from the oven take off the slices of salt pork. Serve with pan gravy.

ORANGE SALAD

Peel and slice three oranges, cut in dice and mixed with half a cupful of chopped preserved ginger, one cupful of broken walnut meats, and half a cupful of lemon French dressing. Mound on lettuce-covered plates and garnish with ripe olives and finely chopped white celery.

PEACH COBBLER

Drain the syrup from one large can of sliced peaches and cut the peaches in dice; place them in the bottom of a shallow baking dish and sprinkle over four tablespoonfuls of sugar mixed with one tablespoonful of flour, one-quarter of a teaspoonfuls of cinnamon and a pinch of salt; add half a cupful of water and dot the tops of the peaches with bits of butter. Sift one cupful of sifted flour with two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of sugar, and a few grains of salt; rub into it one tablespoonful of butter and one tablespoonful of lard and when like coarse meal work to a smooth dough with three tablespoonfuls of ice water. Roll out the size of the baking dish, place over the peaches, cut two or three slits in the crust, brush with milk and bake in a moderate oven twenty-five minutes. Cut in squares and serve hot or cold with a serving of ice cream on top.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

ANTIMILK

J.: Yes, it is true that the Japanese have practically no milk at all, and they are a virile race, but do you know that Japanese children born in this country are uniformly taller and stronger than the boys and girls of the same age in Japan?

Do you know that some of the strongest peoples in the world are large milk and cheese eaters? The Arabs, for instance, are well developed, athletic and courageous, and, according to McCollum, while their cupboards contain meat, cereals and dates, they live chiefly upon soured milks—goats', camels'—in the form of cheese, curds, et cetera.

McCollum generalizes as follows: "Where dairy animals are abundant in proportion to the population, a fine physical development is seen."

FAT AND OPERATIONS

Dear Dr. Lulu: Dear Helper—I was one of those fat-from-birth women (my age is 44,) and had weighed 200 and up for fifteen years or more. I also "inherited the tendency." I needed an operation for hernia of twelve years' standing, but the surgeon told me I must reduce at least twenty pounds. I considered it hopeless, as I had really tried hard to reduce without success. Under your directions I had reduced thirty-five pounds in three months, exactly. Later, which my hernia became strangulated and I had to have an emergency operation, I came through beautifully.

For a while I ceased trying to reduce, but managed to hold my weight for several months. Now, today, I have reached the goal I aimed for—129. As I am not quite five feet tall, I still am not normal weight, but I shall stop for a while now, as you advise. I never felt better, at least not for years. Your advice is so practical and easy for laymen to understand. I shall remember you all my life. Sincerely yours, MRS. H.

I am glad you wrote, Mrs. H., for it has brought out a point that I have not discussed in the column for a long time—and that is, that fat people are not good operative risks. A surgeon hates to operate upon a fat patient because he doesn't take anesthesia kindly, and because fat does not heal readily. Usually, unless it is an emergency operation, you will find that a surgeon always advises an overweight patient to reduce before having an operation performed.

You were very fortunate to be where you could have the emergency operation when your hernia became strangulated. It is a very unwise thing to carry around a hernia because of its tendency to get out of the opening in such a manner that it can't be pushed back. Hernias are very easily remedied by an operation, and this should be done if abdominal exercises fail to effect a closing.

Congratulations on your good results in reducing and your recovery, and many thanks for writing.

ABNORMAL BLEEDING

A. M.: Bleeding between the periods is abnormal and should be investigated immediately. It may be due to a very simple thing that can be removed easily, if treated in time.

Yes, radium is very successful in certain cases, but you will have to be guided by what your surgeon advises.

Estimates say there are 310,000,000 cubic miles of water in the ocean.

EXCAVATION CAUSES STREET BUS DETOURS

TEMPORARY ROUTES MAPPED FOR WILSHIRE, FIGUEROA CONVEYANCES

A slight change in route will be made by the Wilshire Boulevard and Figueroa street busses of the Los Angeles Railway, effective next Monday, during the street excavation on the north half of Eighth street, between Olive street and Grand avenue.

Figueroa street busses will run westbound on Ninth street instead of Eighth, between Olive and Hope streets.

Wilshire Boulevard busses will use the south-half of Eighth street when eastbound and turn north on Olive street, then west on Fifth street, south on Grand avenue and west over Eighth street and the regular route to the Wilshire district.

MAN HIT BY TWO AUTOS STILL LIVES

Struck While Working in Manhole, Again While on Way to Hospital

Mike Conze, 50 years of age, was perhaps fatally injured yesterday in two successive accidents, the first when he was struck by an automobile while working in a manhole and the second when the machine which was hurrying him to the hospital was struck by another automobile. A police officer and a third man also were injured in the second crash.

Conze was working in a manhole near the intersection of Brighton avenue and Adams street, with his head and part of his body above the surface of the street, when he was struck by a car driven, police reported, by Perry Pool, colored, 1678½ East Jefferson street.

M. D. Sutton of 1909 West Adams street witnessed the accident, and with Dr. F. Ralph Moore of 2415 South Western avenue, a passenger in his car, ran up to the aid of the injured man. They placed him in their car as Patrolman Delaney approached and drove to the Receiving Hospital.

At the intersection of Sixth and Flower streets, another automobile, driven, police say, by Seymour Blair, of Arcadia, crashed broadside into Sutton's car.

At the Receiving Hospital it was found that Conze was suffering from a possible basal skull fracture and internal injuries, and that Patrolman Delaney had suffered a fractured left leg in the second accident. Blair was slightly injured. Sutton was cut but Dr. Moore escaped uninjured.

OFFICERS AID KIN IN HUNT FOR TWO GIRLS

Deputy sheriffs, accompanied by relatives of the girls, went to Venice last night to search for Dorothy Hendricks, 15 years of age, and Helen Leavins, also 15, of Fresno, missing from that city since Sunday morning. H. T. Hendricks, brother of one girl, and W. G. Leavins, stepfather of the other, arrived here for the search, and were assigned to Deputy Sheriffs Sweesy and Allen. Two young men who took the girls to a dance Saturday night are held in jail at Fresno, it was said, until the girls' disappearance is explained. The girls are said to have been seen at the Antlers Hotel, Venice, since their disappearance.

BANKRUPTCY SOUGHT FOR DISPLAY STUDIO

Amelia C. Brotherton filed a petition in bankruptcy with the United States District Court yesterday against George E. Twitchell, Albert Vanceo and D. W. Kirby, partners doing business as the Los Angeles Display Studios. The petitioner asks for the appointment of a trustee. Assets of the studios, she asserts, amount to about $2500, while the concern's debts are more than $4000. It is averred by the petitioner that on September 1, 1924, she gave a note for $2000 as the purchase price of a one-third interest in the business. She was told then, she says, that the concern had no debts and that its assets amounted to $8000, including a lease on the premises it used at 431 South San Pedro street. Later she learned, according to the petition, that the concern was insolvent and that the lease was never the property of the co-partnership. The petitioner avers the co-partners assigned all their assets to Francis Nelson for nothing, and that on March 5, last, the latter assigned to James Twitchell all the machinery of the studios. The machinery, it is asserted, was moved to 518 West Garfield street, Glendale, where it is being used by Mrs. Twitchell.

ARREST TWO IN CAMPAIGN ON MASHERS

Police Continue Drive; One Sentenced Half Hour After Being Caught

The police campaign against mashing continued yesterday with two more arrests.

Floyd W. Manley, a salesman, of 1368 Lucille avenue, was sentenced to ninety days in jail by Police Judge Richardson a half-hour or so after his arrest for annoying women.

The masher was picked up by Patrolmen Blake and Williams near the California-street school. The officers had been posted about the school grounds in response to a complaint from the school principal that a stranger had been annoying the children on their way to and from school. The officers stated that Manley drew up in front of the school in his car at noon and accosted Mrs. R. Stone of 408 California street, and Mrs. J. G. Brown of 637 Alpine street, as they passed his car.

Floyd T. Grisson, 1833 North Western avenue, was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace Thursday night by Officers Lawrence and Gillis at the request of a young woman who said Grisson tried to persuade her and a younger girl friend to enter his expensive motor car.

Grisson was riding in his machine near the intersection of Hollywood Boulevard and Mariposa avenue when the officers arrested him. The complaint against Grisson was made by Miss Laurine R. Miller, 4961 Hollywood Boulevard.

JURY GETS RABE CASE NEXT WEEK

Accused Will Take Stand in His Own Defense at Trial Session Monday

The case of Paul B. Rabe, promoter, charged with obtaining money by false pretenses in connection with the sale of preorganization stock in the Long Beach Dock and Terminal Company, is expected to be placed in the hands of a jury in Judge Keetch's court early next week, attorneys in the case said yesterday, with the close of the first week of the trial.

Henry C. Huntington, counsel for Rabe, declared he expected to rest his case Monday afternoon following the testimony of Rabe, who will take the stand in his own defense. Huntington called several witnesses yesterday in support of the defense contention that Rabe acted in good faith in disposing of stock in the harbor project.

Rabe is asserted to have misrepresented the financial status of the company and also to have told prospective purchasers that Senator Shortridge, Congressman Lineberger, City Manager Windham of Long Beach, and other prominent men had agreed to serve the company as directors and officers. These officials have denied any connection with the promotion of the company.

The case is being prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Attys. Howell Richardson and McKay.

AUTO CASE JUDGMENT AFFIRMED

Court of Appeals Holds Pendleton Liable for Car He Was Using

Judgment of Superior Court ordering C. W. Pendleton, Los Angeles attorney, to pay $12,000 damages to W. W. Gates for injuries received by the latter when he was struck by an automobile in 1916, was affirmed yesterday by the Second District Court of Appeal, Division One. The suit was one of several growing out of two deaths and several injuries when a car in which Pendleton and his late son, C. W., Jr., were riding ran down a crowd of persons at Santa Fe and Vernon avenues.

Gates originally sued Pendleton and his son. The case was dismissed on a nonsuit but Gates appealed to the Supreme Court, which ordered a new trial. Upon the death of his son, Pendleton was made the sole defendant.

The opinion of the Appeal Court was written by Justice Houser, who cited the decision of the Supreme Court holding that Pendleton was liable because he was in charge of the journey on which the car was going. Pendleton, according to records, had obtained use of his son's car to take guests to a party at the beach. The chauffeur of the younger Pendleton was driving at the time of the accident.

Funeral Rites Arranged for Aged Angeleno

Funeral arrangements were made yesterday for William C. Kiser, 96 years of age, who died at his home at 2119 West Sixteenth street, Thursday from an illness attributed to his advanced years.

The deceased was born in Virginia on July 17, 1828, and at the age of 4 years moved with his parents to Dayton, O. As a pioneer farmer of the Middle West he pursued that occupation in Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin, retiring from active life in 1905, when he moved to Los Angeles.

He is survived by two sons and three daughters: Miss Pearl L. Kiser of Los Angeles; S. C. Kiser, Aberdeen, S. D.; Mrs. Emma Kiser, West Liberty, O.; William T. Kiser, Sioux City, O., and Mrs. E. T. Randolph of Batavia, Ill.

Members of the family attributed his longevity to temperate habits. He neither drank nor smoked.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from Pierce Brothers' mortuary, 720 West Washington street. Interment will take place in the Hollywood Mausoleum.

Council Hears About Benefits of Good Music

"There is no reason why Los Angeles should be articulate only in skyscrapers and factories."

So spoke Harry Barnhart, national song leader, addressing the City Council just before adjournment yesterday. President Boyle Workman called the conductor before the Councilmen to introduce them to "a Los Angeles boy who left his home twenty years ago and who is better known in New York and Chicago than to us here."

The song leader, with his band, will give the first of a series of concerts in Exposition Park at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon under the auspices of the Park Commission.

"Don't let lack of harmony and faith in Los Angeles hamper you," he said to the City Council. "Don't build narrow streets; build wider, better streets toward the city's boundaries, for you will never quite reach them and never have enough for the people who are coming.

"The educational influence of good music for the people cannot be estimated, and much is being done in this way through symphony orchestras and band music in the public parks. Good music for the people has become a slogan making an increasingly strong appeal to public-spirited citizens.

"There is another slogan, not yet so well understood nor supported, but of at least equal importance, and that is good music by the people. Song in mass is a regenerative force of incalculable power in the social body."

The Park Department has provided 10,000 free seats at the bandstand for tomorrow's concert and requests the audience to be seated before 3 o'clock, as motor vehicles will be stopped in the neighborhood at that hour.

Refinery Joins County in Rail Rate Complaint

Complaints joined in by the county and the Gilmore Oil Company were filed with the State Railroad Commission yesterday against the Pacific Electric and Southern Pacific, charging that excessive and discriminatory rates on shipments of oil have been levied by the carriers from the Gilmore refinery at Sherman Junction to Los Angeles, Compton and Baldwin Park.

It is charged that the county has been required to pay 3½ cents per 100 pounds for oil for use on roads in shipments received at Los Angeles, and 6 cents on similar shipments to Compton and Baldwin Park. The complaint sets out that discrimination is being shown on shipments being made to the same points from the Standard Oil refinery at El Segundo, where rates of 2½ cents to Los Angeles, 5 cents to Compton and 5½ to Baldwin Park are in effect.

Edison Company is Absolved of Accident Blame

Judge McLucas granted a dismissal yesterday of a suit for $5000 brought by the State compensation insurance fund against the Southern California Edison Company, after the testimony had revealed an unusual claim. Ed Adams, it appeared, was killed August 17, 1921 by a high-tension wire near Anaheim, when an iron tank on which he was sitting passed beneath the wire. A baby girl of which Adams was declared the father was born four months later and a claim was filed for her with the insurance fund and allowed, on the ground that Adams, under California law, was responsible for her support. But the court held that Adams's own negligence caused his death and held the Edison Company not responsible for the payment of the money.

BOY SCOUT TROOPS HOSTS TO FRIENDS

PROGRAM IS GIVEN AT OPEN MEETING IN WESTLAKE COMMUNITY

A community night open meeting of Troops 38 and 113, Boy Scouts of Los Angeles, was held in Westlake Presbyterian Church last evening, with members of the congregation and residents of the neighborhood as guests of the Scouts. Demonstration of first aid and life-saving work and other forms of activities were featured.

At B'nai B'rith Temple this evening, Troop 13 will hold an open meeting at which the principal speaker will be Scout Executive E. B. De Groot, who will discuss Scouting and its relation to home and church.

Troop 8, Wilshire Presbyterian Church, this evening will give a delayed St. Patrick's Day dance at St. Ritus Benda Hall, Western avenue and Fifth street, with a silver trophy cup contest as an attraction.

POISON DOSE FATAL TO MRS. FONTAINE

Mrs. Blanche Fontaine, 31 years of age, who swallowed eighteen bichloride of mercury tablets at her home at 611 West Santa Barbara avenue Monday in a suicide attempt after a tiff with her husband, according to police, died yesterday at the Angelus Hospital. The body was removed to the Pierce Brothers mortuary. Detective Lieutenant Craig, who investigated the case, stated that the woman swallowed the tablets after a family quarrel. Her husband is Arthur Fontaine, owner of an art studio at 107 1-2 North Main street.

HAS APPENDICITIS

J. Watson Repp, C.Q.M., U.S.N., was removed from his charge on the U.S.S. Procyon yesterday to the hospital ship Mercy at Los Angeles Harbor, where he will undergo an operation for acute appendicitis, according to his brother, Edward Earl Repp, local Morosco publicity man. Chief Quartermaster Repp was planning his retirement from active naval service when the attack of illness necessitated immediate confinement to the hospital ship.

WOMEN AID EACH OTHER IN SUITS

Mrs. Violet Van Der Vouver, shown in picture, helps her friend, Mrs. Helen Johnson get divorce from her brother, and is in turn assisted to gain her own freedom.

TIT FOR TAT, MOTTO FOR TWO WIVES

Witness and Complainant Reverse Their Positions in Divorce Suits

It was wholly a case of a tit for a tat between Mrs. Violet Van Den Vouver and her friend, Mrs. Helen Johnson.

Several months ago Mrs. Johnson appeared in Superior Court to press her divorce case against her husband, Walter Johnson, a brother of Mrs. Van Den Vouver. But Mrs. Van Den Vouver proceeded to show that the ties of friendship were stronger, in her case at least, than those of blood by taking the stand against her brother and corroborating the testimony of Mrs. Johnson.

And yesterday the circumstances were reversed. Mrs. Van Den Vouver appeared in Judge Fleming's department of the Superior Court for a divorce from her husband, Howard Van Den Vouver, with Mrs. Johnson as her chief witness.

"Turn about is fair play," remarked court attachesias Mrs. Van Den Vouver was awarded a divorce decree after Mrs. Johnson had taken the stand and buttressed her friend's testimony. Mrs. Van Den Vouver charged that she followed her husband to San Francisco, where he had gone presumably on business, and found him entertaining a "buxom blond" in that city. She herself is a brunette. Mrs. Johnson accompanied her friend to San Francisco on the trip and gave similar testimony against Van Den Vouver.

Attorney S. S. Hahn represented both women in their divorce cases.

Boy Scouts and Forest Service to Co-operate

A co-operative agreement designed to develop the interest of the Boy Scouts of America in forestry and in the use and protection of the national forests and to secure their help in spreading the conservation idea among citizens, has just been signed by Regional Scout Executive Charles N. Miller, Los Angeles, on behalf of the Boy Scouts of America, Region Twelve, and United States District Foresters Paul G. Redington, San Francisco; R. H. Rutledge, Ogden, Utah, and Frank C. W. Pooler, Albuquerque, N. M., for the Forest Service, according to a report made public today by the Federal forestry headquarters in this city. All Boy Scouts and United States Forest Service officers in California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona—the States comprising Region Twelve of the Boy Scouts' organization, will co-operate in this work.

Under the terms of the agreement the United States Forest Service agrees to lease available campsites within the national forests to the Boy Scouts; to co-operate in the teaching of forestry and wood lore; to give employment to qualified Scouts in reforestation, trail building and forest protection work, where such employment is sanctioned by law and funds are available, and to give suitable recognition to all Scouts who perform meritorious work or service. The Boy Scouts of America in turn agree to practice and preach care with fire in the woods; to leave camps clean and signs unmutilated; to distribute literature during forest protection and fire prevention campaigns, and to assist, where practicable, in national forest improvement work.

PHARMACY LIQUOR STOLEN

Twenty pints of prescription liquor were taken by burglars who broke into the United Pharmacy, 751 South Olive street, early yesterday, according to a report to police. Nothing else of value was missing.

LEASES ARE HELD TO BE SECURITIES

Ruling Invalidates Large Business in Pie Vending Machines in Southland

Deputy State Corporation Commissioner Praul yesterday notified the Jeffries Automatic Service Company and its fiscal agents, the L. G. Kellogg Company, 331 South Olive street, that leases on pie and sandwich vending machines sold by the companies are void because of the provision in the Corporate Securities Act prohibiting the sale of securities without a permit.

This ruling affects leases said to total $3,000,000 in value, declared to have been sold in Southern California by the Jeffries company and its agents. Commissioner Praul's action follows an opinion by Atty.-Gen. Webb sustaining the Corporation Commissioner's ruling that leases sold by the company are securities. Other companies said to be following a similar plan of operation are affected by the ruling, it is said.

Commissioner Praul, after an investigation into the sale of leases by the company, and its agents, on February 24, warned them to desist from further sale of leases until they had been granted a permit. Since then, Commissioner Praul said, he is advised that the company has altered its plan of operation, selling the vending machines outright.

Under the Corporate Securities Act, violation of provisions mentioned by Commissioner Praul, may be punished by a maximum of five years in prison and $5000 fine.

Motion for New Trial Postpones McCoy Sentence

The sentencing of Norman Selby, or Kid McCoy, on two counts of assault with intent to murder and one of assault with intent to commit great bodily harm, was put over yesterday by Judge Crail when a motion for a new trial was filed. The motion will be argued next Friday. George Shreve, McCoy's counsel, was not in court but another attorney appeared and filed the motion.

McCoy is already under sentence for manslaughter for the killing of Mrs. Theresa Mors the night of August 12, last. The assault charges grew out of his rampage the following morning in the Mors antique shop on West Seventh street. He was convicted of the assault charges Monday after the jury had been out seventy-five hours.

Vise Fees Cut to Encourage Tourist Travel

To encourage tourist travel the German government has reduced vise fees, collected from foreign tourists, according to information received by Julius Pollock & Co., local agents for the North German Lloyd Steamship Company.

The government has instructed German consulates in the United States to collect until September 30, next, $2 for a permanent vise, entitling the holder to a stay in Germany of six months with privilege of unlimited crossing of the borders. For a transit vise for passage through Germany and entitling the holder to a four weeks' stay, the consulates will collect 50 cents. Formerly the rates for permanent vises were from $10 to $14.40 and for transit vises from $1 to $14.40.

AL G. BARNES ARRAIGNED; GIVES BONDS

Circus Magnate's Bail is $30,000; Accused of Fake Income Returns

Al G. Barnes, circus magnate, who was indicted by the Federal grand jury Friday on charges of perjury and making false income-tax returns, appeared before United States Commissioner Turney yesterday afternoon and gave $30,000 bond. The bond was secured by the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland. Barnes was represented by Page, Nolan, Rohe and Hurt, Los Angeles attorneys, who will appear for him in the trial of the criminal proceedings growing out of the indictment. Attorney Claude E. Parker represented Barnes in negotiations looking to an adjustment of the defendant's income-tax returns prior to the institution of the criminal proceedings.

Federal Judge James, before whom the indictment was returned, reduced the bond yesterday from $50,000 to $30,000 on recommendation of U. S. Atty. McNabb. The date for trial of the case, in the regular course of procedure, will be set by Judge James on the first Monday in April.

Barnes is charged with filing an individual income-tax return for a 1921 income of $4406.62, whereas, it is asserted, his income was $42,911.27. As president of the Barnes Amusement Company, he is charged with filing a corporation return on 1921 net income of $17,724.71 instead of for an asserted true amount of more than $100,000. According to Barnes, his reports presumably were correctly returned by a firm of tax experts employed by him.

MEETING TO FINISH BOWL DRIVE PLANS

Workers for Ticket Sale Will Gather Tonight to Outline Campaign

Plans for the summer concert ticket sale campaign of the Hollywood Bowl will be completed at a meeting tonight at the Hollywood Women's Club. Dr. Walter F. Dexter will make the principal address and guests of honor will include Federal Judge Bledsoe and members of the Board of Supervisors.

Representing the women's interests, Alice Gentle, soloist, will make a talk, and Mrs. J. J. Carter, president of the Bowl association, and other sponsors of the concert season, will make talks and announcements.

The greatest concert season in the history of the bowl is anticipated by leaders and they have set as their goal the sale of 10,000 season tickets.

MERCHANT, HELD AS SHOPLIFTER, APPEALS

Fred Whelan, convicted shoplifter, who is declared by police to have stocked his entire store in a residential district with the proceeds of his activities in the larger downtown department stores, was sentenced to a sixty-day jail term yesterday by Police Judge Frederickson. The prisoner gave oral notice of appeal and his bail was fixed at $500. Mrs. Whelan, who is declared by investigators to have collaborated with her husband in keeping their small store stocked, was given the alternative of going to jail for sixty days or paying a $200 fine. She paid the fine.

A GENUINE SACRIFICE.

Brick business corner on Western Ave. near Beverly at actually less than reproduction cost. Think of this! A building worth $20,000 placed on a lot size 85x100 worth easily $1000 a foot, all for $83,000, subject to large first mortgage. This is right in the heart of some extremely important improvements soon to be announced.
This has been held much higher, but owner says he must sell. When he says sacrifice, that means a bargain for you. You can't come to me too quickly for information about this rare "steal." Ask for MR. HUGGINS.

COOLIDGE GIVES DRY LAW VIEWS

Grand Jury Censure Draws Pointed Comment

President Says State and City Should Aid

Favors Civil Service for Enforcement Agents

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Denunciation of the ineffectiveness in the administration of the prohibition laws as contained in the report yesterday of a special grand jury at Philadelphia, brought forth some pointed comment at the White House today. President Coolidge believes that the report would have been strengthened had it contained a finding that the Federal government must not be looked to as the one solely responsible for the suppression of activities of bootleggers.

The Federal government, in the opinion of the President, is not equipped to do all the work of enforcement nor was it intended that it should be. If the Federal authority is to be regarded as the only one in the field of prohibition enforcement then it will be necessary to set up a Federal police force, duplicating local police forces, in all urban centers.

The existing law, as the President reads it, contemplated that the Federal enforcement officers should be added to the State or local enforcement organizations instead of replacing them. The President regards it as evident that unless the city and State authorities are more diligent in their own field, there will continue to be widespread evasions.

DIVISION OF DUTIES

There exists, the President believes, a clear division between the functions of the State and the Federal authorities. The Federal government necessarily is responsible for the prevention of smuggling and the illegal withdrawal of liquor from storage, but the problem of dealing with the local bootleggers and distributors is essentially one within the jurisdiction of the local peace officers.

President Coolidge is not resentful of any criticism that may be offered of enforcement by a grand jury that has investigated the facts. He does feel, however, that such a grand jury might very well give emphasis to all of the facts instead of mostly those which tend to reflect on the Federal government. The particular fact which first impressed President Coolidge when he read a summary of the Philadelphia report was that while the document was full of allegations of maladministration on the part of responsible officers it was not accompanied by the indictment of anyone.

The grand jury made several recommendations. The first of these was that Federal prohibition agents and employees be placed under civil service "to remove them as far as possible from any political influence."

PRESIDENT'S SUGGESTION

This is a suggestion which President Coolidge has twice submitted in vigorous language to Congress, but Congress has failed to put it in the law. The President is in entire accord with the grand jury's proposal in this respect.

The second recommendation is that Federal administration of the prohibition laws be placed under the Department of Justice. With this recommendation the President is not in accord. When he first took office he was inclined to think that that would be a good move, but on further study and on going over the situation with Commissioner Haynes he has rejected the suggestion. The Department of Justice already has a great deal to do with the administration of the prohibition law, as of others laws. It has prosecuted many thousands of cases, resulting in the collection of millions of dollars in fines and the imposition of a great number of years of prison sentences.

CHANGE IN DISFAVOR

However, the prohibition laws in their enforcement articulate with certain phases of the revenue laws, which are exclusively within the jurisdiction of the Treasury Department. That furnishes in itself a substantial argument for keeping the service where it is. Moreover, the President has found on examination that personalities enter into the matter. For example, there are those who think that some individual in the Department of Justice might have a keener desire to enforce the law than some individual in the Treasury Department, while others hold a contrary view. Under the circumstances the President is disposed to believe that the prohibition unit should remain where it is.

A grand jury report, in the President's opinion, can often be of great value. Past grand jury reports have pointed the way to improvements in the enforcement of the law. The President has expressed no disapprobation of this particular grand jury's report in the main, save as indicated above, but it is quite evident that he feels it should have gone further, first in the direction of finding indictments against those in authority whom it intimates have been negligent or corrupt; and second, in giving due emphasis to the responsibility of State and local officers in the premises, something which the report ignored entirely.

Land in Highway Suit Inspected by Presiding Judge

Deserting a comfortable courtroom for the more inviting beach, Superior Judge Frederick Valentine, accompanied by defense and prosecution counsel and witnesses yesterday inspected the proposed link in the Coast Highway running through the Malibu Ranch.

The party did not pause longer than was necessary to inspect the land personally.

The suit to condemn 180 acres of ranch land variously estimated to be worth from $50,000 to $9,000,000, was started in Judge Valentine's court ten weeks ago. Considerable time has been devoted to opinions on real estate values by experts.

Following the coast, the highway right of way cuts through the Malibu Ranch, north of Santa Monica and will be a part of the Ocean highway extending from San Diego to San Francisco. The land in question has already been taken over by the county and the present suit is to determine the amount to be paid to the Marblehead Land Company and other owners of the land.

The trial will be continued in Judge Valentine's court Monday, it was announced.

Suspect Held in Attempt to Kill for Loss of Job

Ararad Arsanian, 21 years of age, an Armenian recently come to this country, sought a life for the loss of a job, according to police. Last night Arsanian met Joe Bozoff, 33, a dairyman of Hynes, near Fourth and Clarence streets.

"You made me lose my job; you know you did!" Arsanian is reported to have cried in the presence of several spectators and, taking hold of an iron pipe, struck Bozoff across the head.

At the Receiving Hospital, where Bozoff was taken, Police Surgeons Chase and Renfrew stated the man suffered a crushed skull. He has little chance to recover. Arsanian, who said he formerly was driver of a milk wagon until discharged by Bozoff, was arrested by Detective Lieutenant Noble and is held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

FUR AND CLOTHING STOLEN

A fur cape valued at $150, clothing and jewelry valued at more than $300 more, were taken Thursday night from the home of A. J. White at 1406 Detroit street. Hollywood police were told yesterday.

DIES FOR LACK OF A FRIEND

Man Ends Life That Was Too Lonely for Him to Endure

A friend might have saved Monroe Hillar but he had none. He sat late yesterday afternoon, a forlorn figure, on a bench in a secluded spot at one corner of Westlake Park, looking with blurred eyes at the occasional couple who passed him.

As nightfall came and the park began to empty, the man who had not a single friend pulled a revolver from his pocket, placed the muzzle in his mouth and sent a bullet through his brain. Park Foreman Maxheimer, attracted by the shot, found him in a heap at the foot of the bench on which he had been sitting.

And beside the body the park foreman found a scrawled note:

"What's the use? There isn't a soul I can call my friend."
